BARE 13 MILLION BALLOT OUTLAY BY DRY LEAGUE

Figures Given Out by Reed Committee.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—Expenditures of the Anti-Saloon league in educational and political campaigns during the first six years of national prohibition approximated $13,000,000, figures made public today by the senate campaign funds committee show. The figures, covering the national and thirty-seven state organizations, were compiled from reports submitted by officials of the league last spring during the inquiry into the Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER JR.

Illinois Ranks Second.

The national organization expended $1,190,285 and had receipts of $3,428,-[illegible]. Most of this money went into the smaller states to assist the state organizations, which had only small local incomes.

Of the states in which the league has large organizations, New York took first rank in the matter of outlay, the total being placed at $1,738,-810. Illinois ranked second with $1,200,-599. These were the only two states in which expenditures exceeded the million dollar mark.

Maryland, which like New York, has no state prohibition enforcement code, showed an outgo of $223,350. Expenditures in Pennsylvania were $852,542, while those in Ohio totaled $882,137.

The Figures by States.

Receipts and expenditures by states were given as follows:

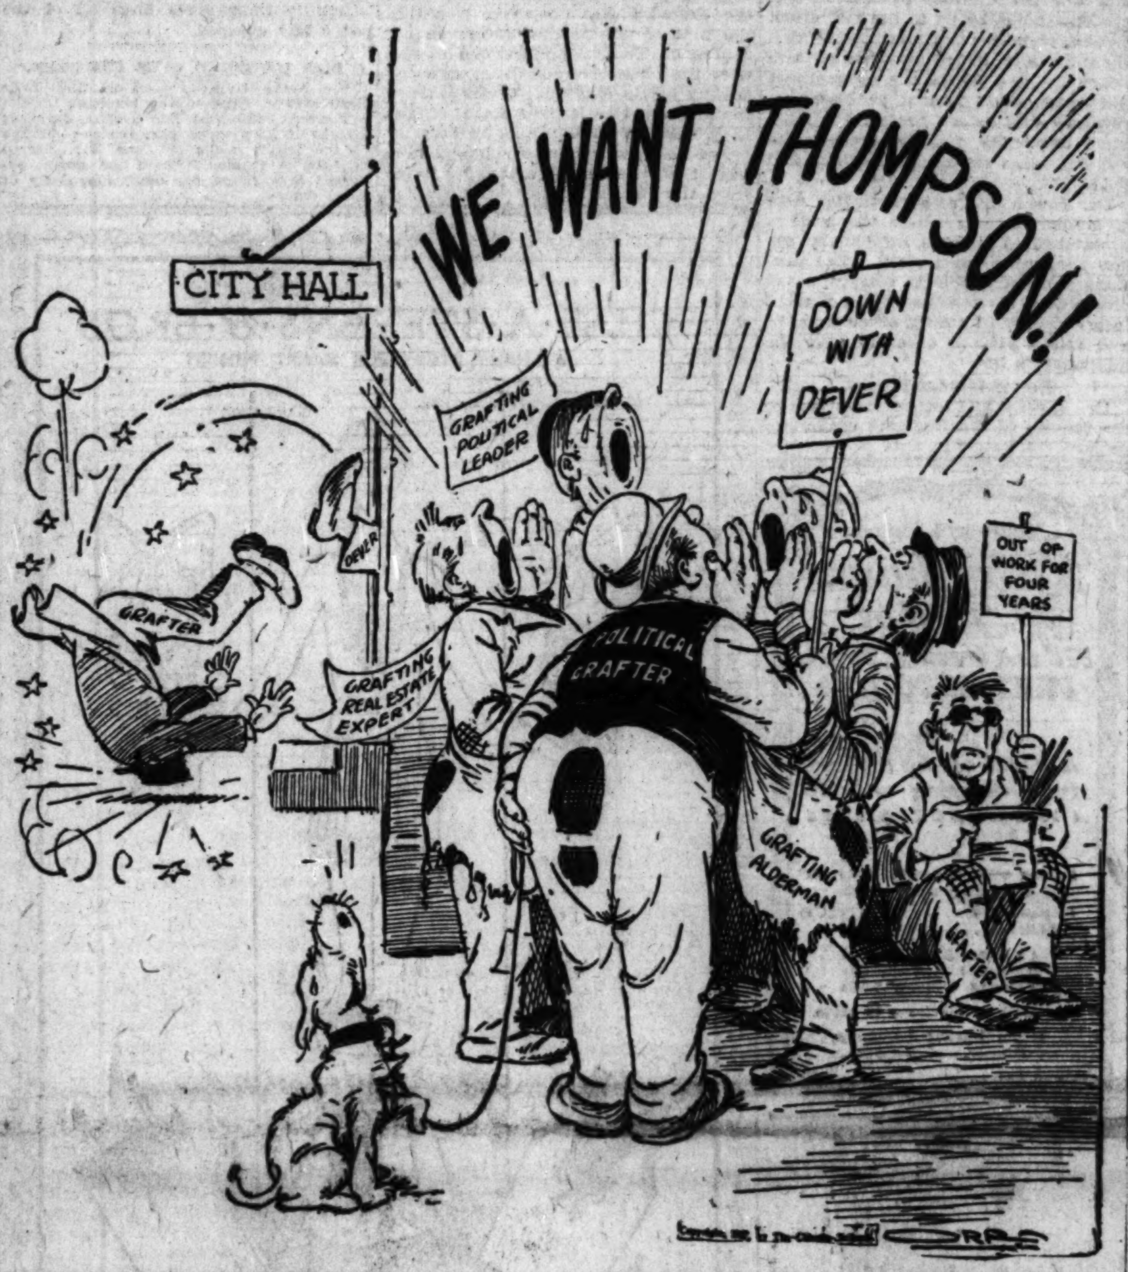
THERE SEEMS TO BE A GREAT DEMAND FOR THOMPSON'S RETURN



FIND TROUSSEAU OF CLARA OLSON NEAR OLD GRAVE

Prairie du Chien, Wis., March 27.—(AP)—A cardboard box containing girl's clothing was found this afternoon near the shallow grave from which the body of Clara Olson, slain farm girl, was recovered three months ago.

The box, in the opinion of county officials, contained Clara's trousseau, the garments in which she expected to be married to Erdman Olson, college student and son of a neighboring tobacco planter, who has been hunted since the finding of the body. In the box were a tan georgette gown with a ribbon sash, a silken slip, a yellow dress with black polka dots and black lace collar, and two pairs of silk hose, one black, the other gray.

Chris Olson, Clara's father, has been asked to come to Prairie du Chien tomorrow and identify the articles. With the clothing was a tiny service star pin like the one Clara wore for her brother while he was in the service during the world war.

FIND COL. HOUSE PAINTED OUT OF WAR PANORAMA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 27.—When it came time to remove the vast canvas on which are painted the figures of men who played the important rôles in the world war and in making peace from the pantheon of the war today for shipment to the United States, it was found that the face of Col. E. M. House had been painted out and that of Myron T. Herrick, present ambassador to France, substituted.

The discovery was made by French and American notables who were present when Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt cut the picture from its frame with a solid gold pair of scissors.

Just how it happened no one seems to know, but a certain M. Long, a painter, admits he received orders to paint over certain likenesses to make way for others.

The panorama, which has 6,000 portraits and is 16,000 square feet in area, is to be exhibited in the principal cities of the United States.

Rescued from Drowning but Dies from Exposure

John W. Leu, 58 years old, of 4533 West Washington boulevard, fell or jumped into the river at the Harrison street bridge yesterday afternoon. After he had floated downstream for a block he was pulled out by South Clark street police, who had been notified by persons who saw his plunge. He was taken to the county hospital, where he died a few hours later, supposedly of the exposure.

Plane Crashes; 2 Policemen on Sky Ride Hurt

An aviator and two passengers, members of the county highway police, who left their motorcycles for a short sky trip, were injured late yesterday afternoon when the old plane in which they were riding crashed to the ground at the Palwaukee flying field, Milwaukee avenue and Palatine road.

One of the policemen, George Drogosch, was still unconscious at the Wheeling hospital several hours after the accident. The second, Howard Becker, was able to leave the hospital after receiving first aid treatment. The pilot, Florian Savage, was only slightly hurt.

Plane Considered Unsafe.

According to officials at the field, the plane was considered unsafe and was used only for test purposes. Savage took it out early in the afternoon and made a successful flight. When he landed the motorcycle men approached and asked him to take them for a short ride.

As they started to rise from the landing field, the accepted version goes, the engine picked up for a few seconds and the machine rose thirty or forty feet. Then the motor went dead and Savage was too near the ground to maneuver out of a crash.

Policemen Caught in Wreckage.

The plane plunged, nose down, into the soft earth. Drogosch and Becker were caught in the wreckage. Savage leaped free. Drogosch apparently suffered a fractured skull. Becker's injuries were due to his chest being crushed by the weight of the plane.

The condition of the plane received the full blame for the crash. The field officials declared that it belonged to a man who permitted Savage to use it in his experimental trips, but that it was barred from use as a commercial carrier. Both the policemen were attached to the Morton Grove station of the county highway police.

Kidnaped Child Returned; Think Ransom Was Paid

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 27.—(AP)—Virginia Josephine Frazier, 2 year old daughter of Commissioner and Mrs. Fred B. Frazier, kidnaped from their home Wednesday night, was recovered tonight, being left on the front porch of Dr. James G. Venable, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

A telephone message to Dr. Venable notified him of the baby's presence. The baby was apparently unharmed.

The kidnapers had demanded a ransom of $3,333 and it is understood that this sum was paid before the baby was delivered up by the captors.

BULLETS RAIN ON TRAFFIC AS EX-COP FLEES PURSUERS

A man identified as James Daly, former policeman, dashed through the heavy traffic on Michigan avenue at Adams street last night to escape a rain of police bullets fired at him after he and a companion, James Keegan, 836 Wilson avenue, had attempted to extort money from Urban Saffran of the Congress hotel.

Police Sergts. Ralph McKenna and John Fleming saw the pair approach Saffran. The latter said that Daly was wearing a Municipal court bailiff's star and threatened to arrest him for annoying women unless he paid.

As the two policemen advanced Daly saw them and fled, they say, McKenna fired three times, but missed—purposely, he declares. The fugitive escaped, but Keegan was arrested.

Couple in Auto Halted by Bandits, Robbed of $2,000

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Casey of 1215 Carmen avenue were forced to halt their automobile near 76th street and Crandon avenue last night by three armed men, who said they were policemen. After the car had stopped, however, the trio took Mrs. Casey's fur coat and jewelry valued at $2,000. The Caseys had just left the home of friends at 7629 Crandon avenue, a half block from the scene of the holdup.

DEVER SWAMPS BILL IN POLL OF CHURCH VOTERS

Campaign in Brief

Candidates spent the Sabbath jabbing at each other with unabated enthusiasm. The day's hot shots were:

DEVER—Leading lawyers warn against Big Bill's election asserting that it will make State's Attorney Crowe dictator of Cook county who will give orders to the police chief and the sheriff in addition to running the prosecutor's office.

THOMPSON—Closing of a dozen "dangerous" school buildings, repeal of water meter ordinance, dismissal of snooping policemen and action toward the discharge of Supt. McAndrew will mark Big Bill's first week in the mayor's chair, he promises.

ROBERTSON—Fred Lundin, the physician's backer, says Thompson is the bunk and promises to give names, dates and places to prove it at a meeting tonight.

PRE-ELECTION POLL.

Candidate.	Prev. reports.	Today's results.	Totals to date.	Per cent.
Dever	26,667	2,695	29,362	42.66
Thompson	34,501	1,844	36,345	52.81
Robertson	2,910	202	3,112	4.52
Totals	64,078	4,741	68,819	99.99

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

In the particular poll yesterday of selected voters, Mayor Dever ran away from his rival, William Hale Thompson. The present mayor received 46 per cent more straws than the former mayor. The distribution of ballots among the three candidates is shown in the second column of the table above. The percentage column, however, indicates that Dever is still running behind in public favor about 100,000, measured in probable votes on election day.

The poll was of two churches attended by residents of the Gold Coast, the attendants of seven churches at which the Irish principally worship and of the patrons at one or more movie theaters in each of the north side wards. Mayor Dever was a strong favorite among the Gold Coasters and the Irish but Mr. Thompson was the leader among the theatergoers.

Dever Wins Church Vote.

Although without information with which to check the idea, it is the common impression that a majority of the families are Republican which attend the Fourth Presbyterian and St. Chrysostom's churches. Yet more than 82 per cent cast straws for Mayor Dever and only 16 per cent for Mr. Thompson. The vote at the door of each was as follows:

	Dever.	Thom'n.	Rob'n.
Fourth Presbyterian, Lake Shore and Walton	55	8	1
St. Chrysostom's, 1416 N. Dearborn	48	12	1
Totals	103	20	2

The churches attended principally by the Irish were not able to do much better for the present chief executive of the city. With the attendants at only one of these churches was Mr. Thompson able to get one-fourth as many votes as Mayor Dever. Excluding that one west side church, the poll indicates that the Irish are a trifle stronger for Dever than the colored people are for Thompson.

Irish Stand By Dever.

Some propaganda has been spread around the city that the mayor would lose many Irish votes. The poll refutes that yarn. The so-called Gold Coast has relatively few votes and it has been frequently charged that some of them are not cast when election day arrives. Descendents of Ireland, however, compose a large part of Chicago's citizenry; and their view on a mayoralty contest is highly influential. Those of German ancestry also compose a large part of the electorate, and a sample of their straws will be published later, probably tomorrow.

Getting back to the Irish, a summary of their straws is as follows:

Candidate—	Straws.	Per cent.
Dever [Dem.]	1,557	84.29
Thompson [Rep.]	275	14.88
Robertson [Ind.]	15	00.81
Totals	1,847	99.98

Car Crashes Head-On at 50 Mile Speed

An automobile driven without lights at a speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, crashed head on with a heavily loaded motor bus at Sheffield and Calumet avenues, Hammond, last night. Two occupants of the automobile were killed, another was seriously injured and the twenty-nine passengers on the bus were thrown into panic.

The dead are John Graniski, 21, of 11 129th street, and Julius Demlong, 21, of 1134 Indianapolis avenue, both of Whiting, Ind. Michael Ogranich, 417 West 21st street, Whiting, suffered a fractured skull.

Electric Cable Falls.

According to Irvin Clark, driver of the bus, the automobile, which was driven by Demlong, darted out of the traffic lines and swept over to the wrong side of the road. The bus was being driven north. In the crash the smaller vehicle was hurled back and against a light wire pole. The pole was snapped and a 23,000 volt line fell to the ground.

Sparks flew from it as it came in contact with street car rails. The terrorized passengers made a rush for the door of the bus. Two of them, Miss Virgie Kaczor and Virginia Plummer, the latter a small girl, ran across the road and fell into a deep ditch.

They were taken to St. Margaret's hospital, as were Ogranich and Edward Flagg, 1652 Van Buren street, Hammond. The latter's hurts were slight. A fourth passenger in the automobile, Anthony Rycicki of 1148 Indianapolis boulevard, Whiting, was not injured. He fled after the crash, but was arrested later.

Elgin Youth Dies.

Elmer Dowell, 20 years old, of Elgin, died at the St. Joseph hospital there of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by D. E. Banks, also of Elgin.

The day passed without fatalities due to automobiles in Cook county, the toll since Jan. 1 remaining at 189.

Ambrose Wyrick, concert tenor who was formerly with the Boston Opera company, was injured yesterday morning when a taxicab in which he, his wife, and two friends were riding crashed into an automobile at 45th street and Michigan avenue. After the accident the Wyricks were taken to the Congress hotel.

MRS. COOLIDGE CAN'T FIND OUT HUSBAND'S PLANS

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—There is a story going around Washington which aptly illustrates President Coolidge's reticence when his personal affairs are involved.

One of his admirers said that he had not indicated anything about 1928 which would justify making a prediction as to his course in 1928. As illustrative of the President's silence on personal matters he said that Mrs. Coolidge recently asked one of the white house military aides if he knew where the family was to spend the summer.

"Why, no," he replied. "Don't you know?"

"No," said Mrs. Coolidge, "if you hear, please let me know."

Auto Death Toll in 1926 23,000; Increase of 5 Pct.

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—R. I. Catlin, secretary of the Aetna Life Insurance company, announced tonight in an address broadcast by station WRNY that 23,000 persons were killed by motor vehicle accidents in 1926. This represents an increase of five per cent over the number killed in 1925.

Kewanee, Ill., man tells graphic story of foreigners' escape from Nanking.

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, March 28.—The seriousness of the Chinese situation was emphasized when Japan's main fleet, excluding its battleships, sailed for the China coast today.

Marshal Chang Tso-lin issued a warning to Tokio through the Japanese journalists, according to Peking dispatches, that recognition of Canton would result in an anti-Japanese movement in Manchuria. He said Russia still regards Japan as an enemy and contemplates carrying the Red revolution into Japan. He asked for co-operation of Japan to suppress bolshevism.

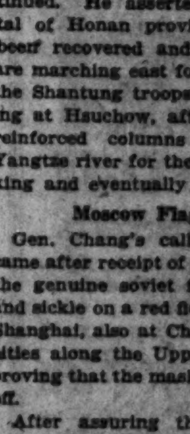
PEKING, March 27.—Declaring unflinching war against the sovietising of China and virtually asking for foreign armed aid to drive out the Russian intriguers, Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, in an interview this afternoon with foreign correspondents upon his own initiative, said he was enthusiastically "for the safety of foreign life and property."



CHANG TSO-LIN.

"I hold myself personally responsible wherever my troops control, but for the ridding of China of the soviet activities I must await my conferences with the ministers of the powers," he continued. He asserted Kai-feng, capital of Honan province, already had been recovered and that his armies are marching east for a junction with the Shantung troops, now concentrating at Hsuchow, after which heavily reinforced columns will cross the Yangtze river for the recovery of Nanking and eventually of Shanghai.

Moscow Flag Raised.

Gen. Chang's call for foreign aid came after receipt of definite news that the genuine soviet flag—the hammer and sickle on a red field—was raised at Shanghai, also at Changsha and other cities along the Upper Yangtze river, proving that the mask has been thrown off.

After assuring the foreign correspondents of his determination not to return to Mukden, but to remain here until the issue has been decided, Marshal Chang said: "When I first arrived at Peking I informed the ministers of the powers of the danger of the mob movement and secret violence. It developed as anticipated. However, the wavering attitude of the powers had much to do with this, especially their direct negotiations at Hankow and elsewhere.

"I wish to assure you that the Chinese are not anti-foreign, but were egged on by the bolsheviks. With this bolshevism I will fight definitely and emphatically to the end. Meanwhile I shall exert myself to the utmost to preserve foreign lives and property. It is clearly to our best mutual interests to work hand in hand with the foreigners. I hope you foreigners will see fit to follow the same action I take against the Red menace.

For Treaty Revision.

"I agree heartily with the southern desire for treaty revisions but differ from them in methods. Revisions should follow the proper lines of international law, to which no attention is given by the southerners. My main purpose is to bring order so the revisions can be made, and I will not quit Peking until order has been restored.

"I realize the difficulty of checking the bolshevik influences, about which I am now sounding the treaty powers. I have been unable to come to a satisfactory decision pending their replies. As long as the north is held by my troops there is no need for foreign troops, but I desire your coöperation. I recently have consulted the treaty ministers regarding soviet schemes for the embroilment of China and I anticipate such possible troubles, especially at Shanghai, in the near future.

"I am convinced that the soviet purpose is to destroy the commerce and relations of foreigners with China. I as well as the ministers who were consulted am fully aware that this Russian headed movement once started cannot be stopped nor would its damage be compensated for by an equivalent of the total foreign investment in China. I repeat emphatically that for the safety of foreign life and property north of the Yangtze I hold myself responsible, but for the greater issue of ridding the country of the soviet activities I require a favorable response to my proposals to the foreign powers."

U. S. Lands More Men.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Fear that new anti-foreign attacks at Shanghai may set the turbulent Yangtze aflame with hatred for foreigners before hundreds of Americans still in the interior can escape is felt by Washington officials as the result of disquieting radiograms received from China today.

These messages, both from Admiral Williams, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, reported grave danger of a mob attack against the boundaries of the international settlement at Shanghai and increasing anti-foreign sentiment at Hankow, Wuhu and other scattered points along the Yangtze river.

To meet the threatened emergency, Admiral Williams reported that the British are sending a regiment from Hongkong to Shanghai; that he had landed a temporary force of 300 men from his flagship, the cruiser Pittsburgh, and that the Japanese landed more than 500 men today. He added that the Japanese naval commander has also ordered the cruiser Hirado and eight destroyers to Shanghai.

Refuse Labor Leaders' Demands.

It is apparent that the new crisis in Shanghai is arising as the result of propagandizing of agitators among the local labor unions. Admiral Williams advised the navy that the local general labor union has demanded that the Shanghai municipal council remove all barriers from around the international council and reinstate discharged strikers. In the same message, the admiral said, the request had not been complied with and that as a result a general strike is threatened.

Washington officials tonight expressed the opinion that it will not be necessary to send additional troops to China as the result of the day's developments. At the state department it was said that officials in touch with the situation feel that the 1,500 marines ordered to China yesterday will be sufficient.

All day today a young lieutenant sat in the navy bureau of communications relaying the messages from China to President Coolidge, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Secretary of State Kellog, Admiral Eberle, chief of naval operations, and to other interested naval officers.

Ten operators were on constant duty at the wireless station waiting for word from Shanghai.

Russian Communists Sound Tocsin.

MOSCOW, March 27.—(AP)—Declaring the Nanking bombardment was a provocative act on the part of English and American imperialists, the executive committee of the communist international has issued a call to "all oppressed peoples to unite in protest against the new criminal war in China."

The call asks that the withdrawal of troops from Chinese territory be demanded and that "the murderous character of the new war" be exposed.

The Nanking ultimatum and the military preparations at Shanghai are alleged to indicate that further criminal plans are being prepared. The call declares England has abandoned the language of diplomacy in the south Yangtse and is speaking in the language of guns. The United States, the call says, heretofore posing as the friend of the National movements, has thrown aside "its rosy exterior and has disclosed its military leadership in an affair of mass slaughter and the burning and despoiling of Chinese towns."

ILLINOISAN TELLS HOW YANKS WERE SHOT BY CHINESE

Gives Eyewitness Story of Nanking Atrocities.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, China, March 27.—Dr. A. J. Bowen of Kewanee, Ill., president of Nanking university, tonight gave THE TRIBUNE a detailed account of the Chinese atrocities at Nanking.

Dr. Bowen said flatly that the bombardment of Nanking by American and British warships was absolutely necessary to save the lives of American Consul John K. Davis and his family and forty-seven other Americans who were marooned on Socony hill.

"There is absolutely no question in my mind," he said, "that had the gunboats not bombarded Nanking all the Americans marooned on Socony hill would have been murdered; and furthermore, it would have been absolutely impossible for the 120 American missionaries who had taken refuge in Nanking university to escape.

"Shells Cowed Cantonese."

"Also, I will make the flat statement that it was the bombardment of Socony hill by American and British gunboats which indicated to the Cantonese command that the powers meant business, and hence forced the Cantonese to agree to the evacuation of the remaining foreigners."

Dr. Bowen and three other American residents of Nanking, who went through the whole trouble, drafted a detailed statement this afternoon which was handed to the press and cabled to America for publication in church papers.

Dr. Bowen was present when Nationalist troops murdered Dr. J. Williams, a graduate of Northwestern university and vice president of Nanking university. He describes the atrocity as follows:

See Troops Loot Home.

"I was accompanied by Harry Clements of New Jersey, university librarian; G. F. Illick of New York, a faculty member; Mr. Lampson, a member of the faculty of the Nanking missionary language school, and W. P. Lowdermilk of Montana. We were walking on the edge of the college campus when we noticed what we thought to be northern (Shantung) troops looting and burning the home of Dr. Daniels, also a member of the faculty.

"We walked toward the Daniels home, when we were accosted by seven or eight soldiers wearing the uniforms of the Nationalist army. The soldiers stopped us and demanded our valuables, which we handed over. Dr. Williams, who was a noted Chinese scholar and spoke the language like a native, then stepped up and addressed one of the soldiers and protested at the action.

Soldier Kills American.

"The soldier immediately shot Dr. Williams through the temple, killing him instantly, after which he robbed him, taking everything of value, even stripping the clothing from his body.

"At the same time another soldier grappled with Mr. Clements, apparently thinking Clements hadn't turned over all his valuables. The soldier then fired two shots at Clements, but owing to his ignorance of the operation of the Mauser pistor the bullets went wide.

"Other soldiers fired shots at me and other members of the party, but these likewise went wild.

"After finishing robbing us and murdering Dr. Williams the troops walked off unconcernedly, chatting with each other as though they had shot only a pig or a dog."

Dr. Bowen said that the whole attack was against foreigners and their property, chiefly missionary property. It was apparently a concerted movement, which began simultaneously all over the city, he asserted.

"Fifteen minutes before the trouble started," Dr. Bowen said, "members of the Chinese Red Cross came and told us that no possible danger existed. In addition, Chinese members of the university faculty declared the crisis had passed and that the city had been occupied by the Nationalist troops without incident, but shortly afterward the storm broke."

Dr. Bowen also recited the details of the brutal shooting of Miss Anna Moffett of Fort Sheridan, Ill., secretary-treasurer of the Presbyterian mission at Nanking.

Shoot Illinois Woman.

Nationalists entered the office of the mission and demanded its funds. The first soldier demanded $200, which she handed over. Then another soldier demanded more money and enforced his demand by shooting Miss Moffett in the leg. Finally she opened the safe and handed over $1,100, but the soldiers were still not satisfied and another ruffian shot her in the stomach.

Dr. Bowen stated that every residence of the foreign faculty members was looted and nine houses were burned to the ground. In many cases the soldiers not only looted the houses, but took axes and wrecked the buildings.

While there was considerable looting of the university buildings, Dr. Bowen said, none of the buildings was burned and there were only a few cases where university property was wantonly damaged.

Owe Lives to Chinese.

"All the foreigners are in agreement," Dr. Bowen said, "that it was the loyalty of the Chinese members of the faculty, and the students, that made possible our escape, for before the American and British gunboats started their bombardment we undoubtedly would have been murdered had not the Chinese professors and students stood by us to the last ditch. Even students formerly connected with the university, but who walked out two years ago and joined the government university, also located at Nanking, returned and helped protect the Nanking university faculty against the soldiers who were intent on killing and looting."

Dr. Bowen told of a particular case of student loyalty where the soldiers threatened to shoot a missionary unless they were given $400. The missionary being unable to comply, a soldier cocked his revolver, but a student intervened, went among other students and raised $100 in order to save the missionary's life.

Blame Hunan Troops.

Dr. Bowen and other members of the faculty of the Nanking university declare emphatically that the responsibility for the Nanking outbreak rests with the Hunan troops who were incorporated with the nationalists, and that as far as can be determined no Cantonese troops were involved.

The official statement issued by the three Nanking missionaries this afternoon says the drive on the missionaries apparently was prearranged, and declares the belief that at least six foreigners were killed, including the Britisher, Dr. L. F. Smith; the American, Dr. Williams; one Frenchman, one Italian Roman Catholic priest, and one or more Japanese.

Raid Foreign Homes.

The statement said the nationalist troops forced their way into the foreign houses with cocked pistols and demanded money, and called in the populace from the streets to finish the looting started by the soldiers.

The report says:

"The soldiers made no distinction between Americans and other foreigners, some soldiers declaring: 'We are out to kill all the foreigners!' In some cases where no money was available foreigners were led through the streets to other foreigners where money could be obtained. In many cases the foreigners were stripped of all their clothing, except underclothing, and were forced to borrow Chinese clothing from Chinese friends.

"Many foreigners saved their lives by hiding in the houses of Chinese friends, or in the fields."

Yanks First to Land.

SHANGHAI, March 27.—(AP)—A landing party of forty sailors from the United States destroyer Noa was the first of the foreign forces to get ashore on Thursday afternoon to rescue the beleaguered foreigners on Socony hill in Nanking, it was learned tonight on the arrival here of the U. S. destroyer William B. Preston.

Another party of forty bluejackets from the Preston and a landing party from the British cruiser Emerald followed closely on the heels of the Noa detachment.

The Preston and Noa were fired on all day long by the Cantonese ashore, but made no reply, being unwilling to risk the possible slaughter by rioters of the Americans cooped up in the city. Consul J. K. Davis, who finally escaped from the city after harrowing adventures, withheld a request for the ship's barrage until the death of the Socony hill party was imminent, rather than risk a bombardment which would provoke reprisals against other Americans still at the University of Nanking, far distant from the warships' help.

Lieut. B. F. Stand commanded the Noa detachment and Lieut. J. A. Ouellet and Ensign E. M. Ellis the Preston men.

The Preston brought details of the naval guard which played a heroic part in the rescue of the party at the United States consulate. This guard consisted of twenty bluejackets, nine from the Noa and eleven from the Preston, in command of Ensign W. Phelps, son of Rear Admiral W. W. Phelps, former commander of the Yangtse patrol.

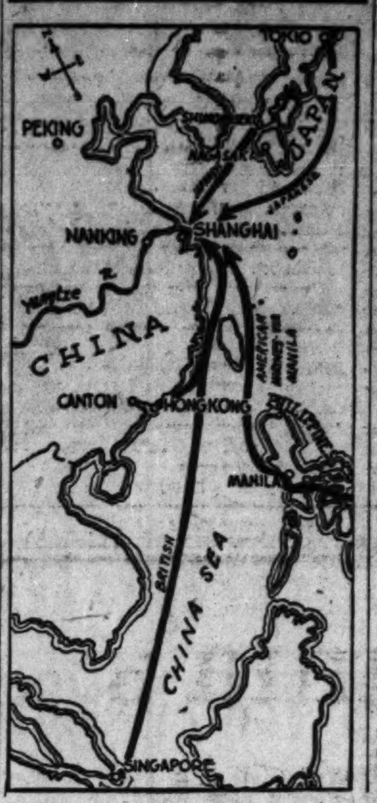
Two signalers from the Preston played notable rôles in the rescue. They were H. O. Warren and D. D. Taylor, who maintained communication from Socony Hill with the warships, semaphoring throughout the Cantonese attack from an exposed balcony where they were constantly under heavy fire.

Finally, under orders from Consul Davis, they gave the "begin firing" signal by flag and rocket and then stuck to their posts until all of the party had escaped.

DIES WATCHING OVER CHILDREN.

Mrs. Annie Davis, 65 years old, 3801 Lake Park avenue, went to the home of Charles S. Herron, 6836 East End avenue, Saturday evening to keep watch over the five children of the family while Mr. and Mrs. Herron attended a theater. When the couple returned they found her dead, supposedly of heart disease.

ON TO SHANGHAI



While the United States was mobilizing 1,500 marines for service in China, other powers yesterday began rushing re-enforcements to Shanghai and other danger points.

A British regiment has been summoned to Shanghai from Hongkong, and the Japanese are sending the warship Hirado and eight destroyers and have put more than 500 additional men ashore.

AMERICANS FACE NEW PERIL FROM SHANGHAI MOBS

Unions Threaten Attack on Foreign Areas.

SHANGHAI, March 28 [Monday]—(AP)—Under the protecting muzzles of American and British war vessels an almost complete foreign evacuation of the great Yangtse valley was under way today in the midst of a rising tide of anti-foreignism all along the river.

From virtually every Yangtse port and from many inland stations the waterways and landways are dotted with groups of foreigners, mostly Americans, fleeing from nationalist territory to the now uncertain haven of Shanghai.

The evacuation is under official supervision and is impelled by the fear of the anti-foreign wave now sweeping the Yangtse valley as a reaction of the Nanking bombardment to protect the foreigners on Socony Hill.

Crowds of Chinese Demonstrate.

Huge mass meetings were held in the Chinese city bordering the French concession yesterday and resolutions were adopted demanding the immediate retrocession of the foreign settlements and advocating another general strike. The crowds demonstrated in the streets, but no incidents were reported from the front line posts.

Anti-foreign posters have begun to appear in the streets, while students, meeting in the Chapei district, scene of last week's carnage after the capture of Shanghai, have decided to dispatch speakers to harangue street crowds throughout the city.

The barriers of the international settlement are being strengthened everywhere in anticipation of possible trouble. The Chinese are being rigidly excluded from the French concession, where the patrols have been increased and the machine gun defenses heavily manned.

Plans for Attack Rumored.

One rumor generally circulated was that the general labor union had decided to break down the barriers between the international settlement and Chinese territory by mass attacks along the northern boundary, but this did not materialize.

Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, in command of the American marines in China, and Maj. Gen. Duncan, the British commander in chief, today made a joint inspection of the defenses of the international settlement.

Gen. Duncan also held a meeting with the French military and naval authorities, at which an improved system of Anglo-French coöperation in defense of the settlements was inaugurated. This does not mean single control of the foreign settlement but greater coördination.

500 Missionaries Reach Shanghai.

Consul General Clarence E. Gauss has asked the department of state at Washington to advise the home mission boards to order some of the missionaries home to relieve Shanghai's refugee congestion which is growing more acute daily.

During the last 48 hours more than 500 refugees, most of them missionaries, have reached Shanghai and have overcrowded the emergency quarters. Today nearly 500 more are expected and beds are being placed in the Navy Young Men's Christian association gymnasium, in churches and schools.

Five river boats lie fogbound outside of Shanghai with nearly 500 refugees aboard. Scores of foreigners coming from Kiangsu and Chekiang are swelling the totals and the tide is only in midflow. Missionaries who hitherto had refused to leave their posts, or having once withdrawn had returned, are coming out with the rest. One of the five ships now lying off Shanghai, the Suiwo, brings 250 refugees, mostly women and children, from Hankow whence the evacuation was hastened by the attitude of labor there.

Protected by U. S. Guns.

About 100 refugees from Hankow arrived Sunday morning aboard the Lungwo, virtually completing the evacuation of the American women and children there.

Three steamers are bringing approximately 150 refugees from Nanking, while 39 Americans and 31 Britishers embarked on a steamer at Chenkiang under the protection of the United States destroyer Paul Jones. The Preble is working along the lower Yangtze, picking up 30 or more Americans at smaller ports.

Propaganda, emanating from Hankow, is demanding revenge for the Nanking incident and is widespread. At Wuhu, where all foreign women and children have been evacuated, anti-foreign agitation is rampant and soldiers are mounting guns on a hill overlooking the river for the alleged purpose of obstructing foreign shipping.

At Chinkiang, Chinese servants, loyal to their foreign employers, urgently warned them to leave the city. Only five foreign men remain in that city.

Fire on Yankee Warships.

The Noa, which played so prominent a part in the Nanking incident, has gone to Wuhu, where the Stewart also has been ordered from Shanghai. The Isabel is now the only United States warship remaining at Nankin.

The Stewart, Preston, and Preble all were fired on Saturday and Sunday between Shanghai and Chinkiang, and naval officers report that both sides of the river are now in Nationalist hands and that all firing was by Nationalist troops.

Fearing Nanking repercussions, United States destroyers are taking up stations at Amoy, Swatow, and Foochow, while the United States consul at Cheefo has asked for similar protection.

CHINA'S NAVIES MEET FOR BATTLE; LOTS OF SHOOTING; NO LOSSES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 27.—After sixteen years of revolutionary turmoil and civil war, China staged its first naval battle today at the mouth of the Whangpoo river, within sight of the British aircraft carrier Hermes, which stood by for the purpose of picking up casualties. However, the Hermes was disappointed, due to the fact that there were no casualties, all the shots falling wide of their mark.

Marshal Chang-Tso-lin's fleet, consisting of seven warships, slipped into the Yangtze river from Tsingtao last night and at daylight attempted to enter the Whangpoo river and Shanghai harbor to visit vengeance upon the Cantonese for driving the northerners out of Shanghai.

The southern fleet, which was a northern fleet two weeks ago but hopped over to the south, steamed out in battle formation, firing shots in all directions. The northerners turned tail and the last the foreigners saw of the battle was both fleets steaming out to sea, still firing but uninjured.

Battle Royal Burlesque Is Staged in Bal Tabarin

Popularity of boxing has reached such a point that patrons of the Bal Tabarin, in the Hotel Sherman, yelled their approval last night when Promoter Joe Coffey starred five Negroes in an old fashioned battle royal for the entertainment of 400 guests. Celebrities of the stage and society were there as the battlers burlesqued a knock-down and drag-out fight. The arena was established on the dance floor. Four of the sluggers were dragged off the floor, but Promoter Coffey asserted that they were merely acting "and doing it well."

Seek News of Wheaton Couple Missing in China

While cables continued to report the menacing disposition of the natives in China, the Rev. H. J. Dunton and Mrs. Dunton of 116 Madison avenue, Wheaton, called THE TRIBUNE yesterday for news of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Thomas, who sailed from San Francisco last December for Shanghai. From that point they were sent to Anking, 200 miles from Shanghai on the Yangtze river, where they took up missionary work. No word has been received from them since Jan. 12.

NEW PEACE PACT SIGNED TO HALT TONG WARFARE

As Chicago immigration officials prepared last night to take a hand today in the latest warfare between the two rival Chinese tongs, the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, word came from New York of the signing of a peace pact, supposedly of permanent duration, between rival tong leaders following a conference at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Threatened drastic action on the part of government officials against such Chinese as might be found to be in this country illegally, or who might be held as undesirable aliens under the law, is believed to have been the strongest factor in bringing the rival tongs to terms. Twelve murders occurred over the country during the three days' duration of the latest flare-up.

Jubilation over the signing of the peace treaty was apparent in Chinese districts of every large city over the country last night. Flags, bearing Chinese characters announcing the peace, were immediately hoisted in New York's Chinatown.

Baby Dies of Poison She Found in Home

Blanche Edwards, 19 months old, died at the Englewood hospital last night from the effects of poison which she drank at the home of her parents, 7253 South Green street, a few hours earlier. The poison had been used as a disinfectant and the child swallowed it while she was alone.

N. Y. STUDENTS SCORE GUNBOAT POLICY IN CHINA

New York, March 27.—[U. N.]—The American-British bombardment of Nanking was condemned as "gunboat policy" in a message to Chinese students, drawn up by 300 college students and others at an indignation meeting of the student forum Sunday.

Jacob S. Manheimer, chairman of the meeting, was authorized to send the following:

"Three hundred members and friends of the student forum, Temple Emmanu-El, meeting Sunday, March 27, unanimously express to you deep regret concerning recent unfortunate bombardment of Nanking and condemn the gunboat policy in the name of Americanism and humanity. We trust the Nationalist government to make every possible effort to protect innocent persons from outrage, and hail the advent of united republican China to that separate and equal station among the powers of the earth to which the laws of nature and nature's God entitle her."

FRANCE TO SELL MATCHMONOPOLY TO ROCKEFELLER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 27.—The government's proposal to dispose of the only mildly profitable match monopoly to the Rockefeller interests was approved by the ministerial council yesterday, THE TRIBUNE correspondent is informed. The plan faces serious opposition by the formidable political machine, composed chiefly of France's millions of functionaries, which thus far has successfully defeated attempts to dispose of the state monopolies.

Under their offer the Rockefeller interests will deposit a guarantee of $80,000,000 in the French treasury on interest at 5½ per cent for sixty years. However, their control of the monopoly will be comparatively precarious. The project envisages an entirely French company, with all the stock floated in France. The Americans must agree to pay the French treasury an annual sum equal to the profit the monopoly now yields and a certain percentage of surplus profits.

DEVER SWAMPS BIG BILL IN POLL OF CHURCH VOTES

But Thompson Is Still Favorite at Theaters.

	Dever.	Thompson.	Robertson.
St. Mary's of the Lake, Buena and Sheridan	217	30	2
St. Sylvester's, Humboldt and Palmer	236	31	3
St. Columbkill, Grand and Paulina	163	39	6
Our Lady of Sorrows, Jackson and Kedzie	176	17	5
St. Mel's, 4300 Washington boulevard	152	99	0
Holy Cross, 65th and Maryland	269	39	0
St. Clare's, 64th and Woodlawn	344	20	1
	1,557	275	15

Among the north side theater patrons Mayor Dever did not do so well. He there trailed Mr. Thompson by 18 points. In fact, Mayor Dever did not do so well in THE TRIBUNE'S second poll of the north side theaters as he did in the first. To get as near an exact comparison as possible, the same theaters were polled on the same nights in the week and between the same hours. The only difference was in the picture shown, the weather, and the personnel of the vote takers. By a remarkable coincidence, the number of votes taken in the two polls did not have a difference of 50 straws.

A comparison of the summary of the two north side theater polls is of interest to persons who are watching closely the way the wind is blowing. That comparison follows:

SECOND POLL, NORTH SIDE THEATERS.

Candidate.	Straws.	Per cent.
Dever [Dem.]	1,035	37.37
Thompson [Rep.]	1,549	55.84
Robertson [Ind.]	185	6.79
Totals	2,769	99.99

FIRST POLL, NORTH SIDE THEATERS.

Candidate.	Straws.	Per cent.
Dever [Dem.]	1,118	39.77
Thompson [Rep.]	1,592	56.75
Robertson [Ind.]	97	3.46
Totals	2,807	99.98

The difference in he two polls is not of much importance, with possibly one exception. It is generally understood that the prime purpose of certain backers of Dr. Robertson—if he cannot win—is to decrease the chances of William Hale Thompson to get back into the mayor's office.

It will be noticed that the Robertson vote in the latest north side theater poll is nearly twice as large as his straws in the first poll. In this particular straw vote, it appears that Dr. Robertson injured Mayor Dever more than he did Mr. Thompson.

Dever's Percentage Drops.

In the latest straw vote Dever's percentage went down 1.4 points, while Thompson's decreased only nine-tenths of one point. This may have been merely a freak of straw voting and no real significance is attached to it.

The following table shows the straws in the latest poll of the north side theaters:

Ward. Theater. Location.	Dever.	Thompson.	Robertson.
42. Erie, 641 North Clark	74	104	3
43. Parkside, 1550 N. Clark	58	101	3
42. Dearborn, Dearborn and Division	67	82	5
42. Windsor, Clark and Division	71	69	6
46. Lake Shore, Belmont and Broadway	84	66	2
49. Knickerbocker, 6217 Broadway	109	70	4
42. Newberry, 850 N. Clark	76	73	7
44. Lane Court, 322 Center street	31	93	6
45. Belmont, Lincoln and Belmont	78	211	96
46. Lake Shore, Broadway at Belmont	42	112	2
47. North Center, 4337 Lincoln	112	196	20
48. Riviera, Lawrence and Broadway	134	272	19
49. Knickerbocker, 6217 Broadway	57	57	6
50. Pershing, 4614 Lincoln avenue	42	93	6

After the mayoralty primary a story was printed that many Democrats aided in the nomination of Mr. Thompson in order to have a candidate who would be easy to beat. Polls of theaters in Democratic north side territory indicate that many Democrats are still voting for Thompson in the straw balloting. No one has explained why they are doing it now.

POLITICAL NOTES

A mass meeting for women called by the People's Dever for Mayor committee will be held at 2:30 Thursday afternoon in Orchestra hall. Mayor Dever, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Prof. Charles E. Merriam and Raymond Robins will speak.

Six thousand Polish Americans are expected to attend a Dever rally at Car Men's hall, Ashland boulevard and Van Buren street, at 3 this afternoon.

Maj. James E. White, veteran of the Spanish and the world wars and president of the Reserve Officers' association of Cook county, issued a statement denouncing Thompson's failure to volunteer for the former war. He said Thompson at that time was 27 years old, was athletic and free from any ties to hold him at home.

Probably more than 12,000 suspect notices will be filed by Democratic leaders tomorrow and Tuesday. Most of them are directed at Negro precincts where investigators have reported legal cause for the challenges.

De Witt C. Cregier has announced that a midnight gathering of Cregier Democrats for William Hale Thompson will be held at the Morrison hotel Saturday night.

BILL'S 'WHEN I'M MAYOR' PICTURE EVOKES CHEERS

Dever's Schools Falling Down, He Claims.

William Hale Thompson yesterday pictured his first week as mayor, if elected. He stirred to enthusiasm an audience of 1,000 in a 34th ward political meeting at 1136 North Western avenue when he asserted that on April 6 and within the seven days following his first official acts would include the following:

1. Close a dozen schools built during the Dever administration which Thompson declared are in danger of collapsing at any moment on the heads of school children. Women in the audience, composed largely of persons of Jewish and Polish ancestry, gasped and moaned as the speaker produced enlarged photographs showing gaping cracks in the concrete arches of new schools.
2. Use all his influence with the city council to repeal the water meter ordinance and strip the meters from the homes in which they are now installed.
3. Fire every policeman who enters a home in search of liquor. At this announcement there was a two minute demonstration and cries of "hurray for beer and Big Bill."
4. Start the ball rolling toward the dismissal of Superintendent of Schools William McAndrew and "put the picture of George Washington back in the school books."

Says Pupils Are in Peril.

"I have just discovered that disaster awaits your children in some of the new schools built by Dever," Thompson told his hearers. "Concrete was poured for many of the arches during the winter and while the weather was cold the concrete was frozen and therefore unsafe.

"Now that spring is here, the arches are cracking and these 200 ton arches are in danger of collapsing at any moment. Dever is afraid to close the schools or the people would find out how his builders grafted. So he has men working nights trying to bolster up these arches."

While several women grew almost hysterical at this announcement, Big Bill raised his arms and shouted: "I pray to God that those arches may hold until April 5. Because after that, if I am elected, I will close those schools until they are made safe and find some place to put the children."

Then he attacked the police department, asserting that most of the police were too busy peering through keyholes at persons taking a drink to pay much attention to crime on the streets.

"Those policemen who aren't poking into private homes are at the breweries making sure that city officials get their $5 rakeoff on each barrel of beer turned out," he asserted. "If I'm put in the mayor's chair, I'll immediately use all my power to help repeal the Volstead act, the search and seizure act and fire every cop who attempts to enter your homes in a search for a still or for liquor."

Then he took up the question of water meters, reading figures which showed, he said, that water now costs the citizens of Chicago one hundred times as much as it did when he was mayor.

Promises Cheap Water.

"It's warm in here," said Big Bill, wiping his moist brow. "Open up the windows, boys. Dever hasn't tried to tax the air as yet and we can have all we want of it free. And when Thompson is mayor, you'll have all the water you want at a nominal price."

The speaker came to a climax with his attack on Supt. McAndrew, whom he termed a puppet of King George trying to poison the minds of school children.

"I'll fire McAndrew and our school books will breathe patriotism again," he said. "On election day we'll snow this bird Dever under so hard that he'll think George Washington has arisen from his grave to reproach him."

School Cost Figures Cited.

Figures on the comparative cost per seat of schools under the Thompson and Dever administrations were released from the former's hadquarters. The Thompson type school cost $305 per seat, it was asserted, while the Dever type schools cost $708 per seat. School authorities say this is partly accounted for by the fact that under Mayor Dever two story buildings have been built.

At an evening banquet in the Hotel Sherman, more than 1,000 diners, representing twenty-five nationalities, listened to the former mayor claim credit for much of Chicago's progress in the last ten years.

"As an alderman, I started the children's playgrounds program," Thompson declared. "As a county commissioner, I had to do with the building of the forest preserves. Only recently I completed what I regard as the greatest achievement of my life, the putting through of the Illinois waterways bill which opens a channel from this city to New Orleans.

"God showered Chicago with natural advantages and it only needs great leaders to carry on the work. The poor old fellow now in the city hall doesn't know what it's all about."

A vitriolic reply from Thompson headquarters was issued during the day to the charge by Philip Yarrow, superintendent of the Illinois Vigilance association, that Thompson staged a stag party under the auspices of the Citizens' Good Roads association at which there were indecent performances by women.

"The Rev. Mr. Yarrow has prepared an obscene, lying story about that dinner and is reported to have sold 400,000 copies to Fred Lundin and 100,000 copies for the benefit of the Dever campaign," reads the statement signed by Homer K. Galpin, Robert E. Crowe, and Bernard W. Snow.

"The story could only originate in a degenerate mind and its filth is its own refutation. It is the product of a for sale professional reformer and discredited politicians and its appearance at the eleventh hour of a political campaign is evidence of the depths of infamy that depraved minds can descend to."

Trap Trio of Robbers as They Take Watch, Cash

Three robbers, surprised by Lieut. Michael Grady and his detective bureau squad as they were taking the watch and money of Charles Anderson, 4014 South Western avenue, were arrested early yesterday morning in front of 2274 Blue Island avenue. They are William Smyth, 1828 West 22d street; Clarence McGuire, 3928 Gladys avenue, and Frank Stanish, 1838 West 22d street.

BY PARKE BROWN.

William Hale Thompson's election as mayor, it was charged yesterday, would make State's Attorney Crowe the undisputed police dictator over Chicago and Cook county.

The warning came from Mitchell D. Follansbee, chairman of the lawyers' Dever for mayor committee, a nonpartisan organization whose roster of officers includes almost the entire list of former presidents of the Chicago Bar association.

It was based on the theory that if Thompson wins on April 5, Crowe will name the next chief of police. Mr. Follansbee said that this power added to Crowe's possession of the office of state's attorney and his influence over Sheriff Graydon would make the prosecutor a "czar."

Voters Facing Menace.

Chairman Follansbee's statement follows:

"We have reached the last week of one of the most important mayoralty campaigns in the history of Chicago, and it is time for the voters to realize that they face a menace against adequate law enforcement that is unparalleled.

"The state's attorney, Robert E. Crowe, is an able politician, a charming gentleman; and yet, in our opinion, he should not be appointed police dictator over all the people in this great community.

"Mr. Crowe is the public prosecutor. He personally selected the present sheriff and is in complete control of the affairs of the sheriff's office. If now Thompson is elected mayor, Mr. Crowe will name a chief of police subject to his dictation.

"He then would be in complete control of the three law enforcing agencies of the community—the state's attorney's office, which represents the state; the sheriff's office, which exercises the county's police powers, and the chief in command of the city's police force.

"Such a situation never has existed in Chicago, and probably never has arisen in any great city of the country. In the past in Chicago there always has been at least one of these three branches of law enforcing power acting as a check on the others. That is as it should be.

In Charge of Campaign.

"We now face a situation similar to that which confronted the voters when the present state's attorney recently backed a candidate of his own for the office of county judge. That struggle involved control of the election machinery and the voters arose and voiced unmistakably refusal to concentrate so much power in the hands of one man.

"The present danger is much greater. The state's attorney alone brought the present mayoral nominee out of political retirement and is in charge of his campaign. There is no reason to doubt the truth of rumors that the principal reward he will seek, and probably has been guaranteed, is the naming of the chief of police.

"If that most important office falls into his hands he will be the police czar of Chicago and Cook county. In his hands alone will rest the decision whether the property, liberty and lives of our citizens are to be protected or sacrificed—whether the law is to be enforced or immunity is to be granted.

"That is too much power—too much power to entrust to any man."

Dever Office Voices Approval.

Chairman Follansbee's statement issued without consultation with Dever was headquarters, where it aroused echoes of approval.

"This is a tremendously important issue," said one of the men helping manage the mayor's campaign, "and just how vital it is is shown by the fact that we have just received trustworthy reports that 200 gunmen are being imported into Chicago and will begin operations next week.

"The first tactics of intimidation predicted have already begun to show themselves and we have been warned they will increase until on election day a state of terrorism may exist.

"If one politician is to have the offices of state's attorney, sheriff and chief of police in his hands this sort of thing could go on indefinitely. There would be no limit to that man's opportunity to abuse his power in political matters as well as in the regular fields of law enforcement."

Mayor Dever spent a busy Sunday afternoon, addressing 14,000 people in six different meetings. There were 3,000 at the Coliseum annex and fully 5,000 at the Polish-American meeting in Carmen's hall. There were 2,200 at the Gunsaulus school and 1,700 in the Nativity church hall.

Chicago Countess and Dashing Briton She Shot Are Near Death in Paris

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 27.—The little Chicago countess, Alice de Janze, formerly Alice Silverthorne, tonight apparently is close to the death she bargained for when in the Gare du Nord yesterday she shot her reputed lover, Raymond Vincent de Trafford, youngest son of a wealthy and prominent British family, and then turned the revolver on herself.

COUNTESS DE JANZE.
[Moffett Photo.]

In the bleak Lariboisiere hospital, close to the station, the head nurse told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that Countess de Janze's condition still is most serious. De Trafford is in an even more serious condition. No predictions can be made as to the outcome in either case.

Countess Says She's Sorry.

The countess, who technically is under arrest, tonight recovered consciousness long enough to talk to the police, the newspaper Matin says. It quotes her as saying: "I made up my mind to do something desperate. After that I had only one idea—to kill myself. I regret such an irrational act."

As to the motive the countess also was silent. "That is one thing I will never reveal," she said, "it is my secret."

De Trafford, the 28 year old English clubman, who was said to have been instrumental in breaking up Count de Janze's household, was able to recount the tragedy to the French police, but he told no more than is already known—that the Chicago girl, whose intimate friend he has been for more than two years, suddenly produced a revolver and shot, after hysterically pleading with him to renounce his intention of returning to London.

When questioned as to his motives for leaving her and the details of the conversation that led up to the tragedy, Mr. de Trafford turned his face to the wall and refused to answer.

The doctors, who late last night succeeded in extracting the bullet which almost grazed his heart, then refused to let the police question him any longer.

Pity for Count.

Pity is felt for "Freddy" de Janze, who, with his face yellowed by African fevers and his spirit crushed by his wife's actions, now and then has been encountered, looking like a lost soul, in some Parisian rendezvous such as the Ritz or Maxim's. At present he is reported to be in a sanitarium on the outskirts of Paris.

Nobody who knows the countess, who is a relative of J. Ogden Armour of Chicago, thinks she would have brought herself to shoot merely because Mr. de Trafford apparently was leaving her. Even some of the young clubman's best friends hint at the possibility that Mr. de Trafford threatened the countess.

Mr. de Trafford is known both in Paris and London as the spectacular offspring of an otherwise conservative English family. A year ago he was expelled from the exclusive Travelers' club in the Champs Elysées after a wild night at cards with a member who apparently was not satisfied with the outcome. His French friends refer to him as a "tete brulee," or hothead, whose manner sometimes is not as irreproachable as, for instance, that of his brother, Humphrey de Trafford, who arrived in Paris today to represent the family.

Mother-in-Law Lends House.

Count de Janze's mother, the Dowager Countess de Janze, is prostrated today at her mansion in the Rue Jean Goujon, where the Countess Alice de Janze was a frequent visitor, despite the rift in the family.

Since March 7 Countess Alice had occupied a little apartment in the quiet Rue Chalgrin, which her mother-in-law loaned her—in hope of keeping everything as quiet as possible, it is said by some. Mr. de Trafford only twice visited the apartment, once on Friday night when he and the countess talked far into the night, and again on Saturday, after which they left together for the train, with the young Countess de Janze apparently much distraught.

LUNDIN SET TO 'EXPOSE' BIG BILL IN TALK TONIGHT

Fred Lundin, William Hale Thompson's former mentor, who makes his first appearance as a big time speaker at Medinah Temple at 8 o'clock this evening, gave some hints yesterday of the nature of his expose of his old associate.

"I shall name time and place where everything I disclose was said and done," he said, "and if anybody wants to vote for a candidate whose mind is so impaired that he will say those things and do those things, he must be willing to pay the penalty.

"If William Hale Thompson is elected the public will pay in increased taxation and increased carfares, and it will pay in increased danger to law and order, to property and to life."

Mr. Lundin has promised to explain why Mr. Thompson in the past has applied such epithets as "skunk," "crook," and "liar" to a number of men in public office including several of those associated with him in the present campaign.

GROCERS IN WAR ON FORD'S SELF SERVICE STORES

Threaten Reprisals for Price Slashing.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Detroit, Mich., March 27.—[Special.]—Henry Ford today faces a protest of the local retail merchants that is rapidly taking on national proportions. The protest has reached the stage of reprisals here, following a secret campaign of the city's 4,500 grocers and butchers.

The automobile maker, it is revealed, has gone into the business of retailing to the public groceries, meats, shoes, clothing, and drugs at prices below those of all competitors. He has slashed prices until he undersells other merchants, not even the big department stores being able to compete.

Threat of Nation-Wide Fight.

The protest of the retailers and the implied threat of making this a nation-wide campaign against the flivver king is attracting as much interest here as the $1,000,000 libed suit Mr. Ford is defending against Aaron Sapiro, the Chicago lawyer and organizer of farmers' coöperatives.

The retail merchants of Detroit say retailers and retail merchants' organizations in other parts of the country are joining the movement against Ford. A threat that the retailers of St. Louis and other Missouri cities may soon get into it is contained in a letter being circulated by the local retailers. This letter was written to Mr. Ford by L. F. Padberg, secretary of the Missouri Retail Grocers' and Merchants' association:

"Much bad feeling exists today among the independent retail grocers and butchers in St. Louis and Missouri toward the Ford company on account of you operating retail meat markets and groceries in Detroit," the letter says. "Protests are coming in from all parts of Missouri steadily. Why should you, after having been favored by God in acquiring your wealth, try to drive your fellow men in other lines out of business?

Many Grocers Operate His Cars.

"I am sure every grocer and butcher buys and operates an automobile in his business, mostly Fords. St. Louis has 2,500 independent grocers and butchers, with at least one car apiece. They deliver. If they did not, it would mean 2,500 Fords less. You, in your meat market, advocate cash and carry. 'No delivery.' Should we follow? Remember, no delivery—no Ford truck."

The retailers say that if Ford's new venture becomes successful thousands of small retail stores must go to the wall. One economist recently said that it would end with Ford in control of all the necessities of life.

the cost of living.

The movement in Detroit has taken several forms. On one hand the retailers are refusing to buy any more goods from any salesman or any concern using a Ford automobile. The merchants also are avoiding the wholesalers who sell to the Ford stores.

This puts the wholesalers in a hole. They see Henry Ford with $387,000,000 in cash on deposit in the banks of Detroit, and wonder what would happen if such should decide on revenge if they refused to sell to him.

Here Are Ford's Prices.

Some of the prices quoted today and yesterday at the Ford stores were: Flour, 25 pounds for $1.14; sugar, 5 pounds, 34 cents; a popular brand of assorted canned soups, 9 cents—a 10 per cent cut of the nationally advertised price; buckwheat flour, 5 pounds for 27 cents; Florida oranges, 25 cents a dozen; potatoes, $1.38 a bushel; onions, 5 cents a pound; tomatoes, two pounds for 25 cents; lemons, 18 cents a dozen; sweet potatoes, 5 pounds for 18 cents; graham flour, 4 cents a pound.

The retailers also ask what if Ford should decide, if nobody wanted to sell to him, to produce that commodity himself? What if he decides to manufacture shoes and clothing and produce the necessities of life? Couldn't he then undersell his competitors still further?

Mr. Ford went into the retail business—selling to the general public—five months ago. He now has a big store at each of his huge plants here. One of them is at the Lincoln Motor company plant, another at the Ford plant in Highland Park, and the third at River Rouge, or Fordson.

Full Economy of Effort.

These three stores are operated on the same principal that Ford uses to build his automobiles and they are as similar as are his automobiles. They are operated with full economy of effort. The clerk stands still at his or her station, the customer does all the moving around.

Steaks and chops and other cuts of meats are cut up with big electric cutting machines and trimmed by a butcher behind a partition. The one behind supplies the man at the counter. The man at the counter sells to the public.

The customer comes by, picks out his steak or his chops or his roast. The butcher behind the counter quickly weighs it and wraps it and marks it on the customer's "meat slip." The customer enters by one door and files out of another. When the customer enters he or she is given three pink, yellow, and blue slips. One of these is the "meat slip," a second is for drugs and a third for groceries and clothing.

After the customer has his basket filled, the cashier is paid and the receipted bill is his or her pass to get out of the store.

Since the stores were thrown open to the public, business has been steadily on the increase. Crowds of Detroiters go there every day on the street cars and in automobiles.

Certain business men who claim to know say that last year—when most of the time the stores were selling only to Ford employés, the Ford stores did a gross business of $12,000,000 and made a profit of $400,000.

It is stated that Mr. Ford's reason for opening these stores was to stop profiteering on his employés. When he started to pay his employés not less than $5 a day, a high wage for that time, the merchants in the vicinity took advantage of it, it is charged, and boosted their prices. The auto maker then opened the stores to help his employés.

Ford Stores Slash Prices.

But Ford slashed prices so rapidly that there arose a traffic in the badges he issued to his employés authorizing them to buy by identifying them as Ford employés. Some employés loaned their badges to their friends.

In later years various schemes to limit the stores to Ford employés were tried. None of them was entirely successful. Finally the doors were permanently opened to the public.

There is one story that when the Detroit butchers and grocers and other merchants sent delegations to Mr. Ford to urge him to stop these sales he replied by turning to the telephone and calling the manager of the retail stores.

Ready to Handle Public.

"Are you ready to handle the public?" Mr. Ford is quoted as asking his manager.

"Yes," came the manager's reply over the wire.

"Then open for the public tomorrow morning."

And that was the answer.

FORD'S ATTORNEYS TO ASK MISTRIAL OF SAPIRO LIBEL SUIT

Detroit, Mich., March 27.—[Special.]—Attorneys for Mr. Ford tonight announced they would seek to have the libel suit declared a mistrial when court convenes in the morning. Such action will be sought on the grounds that libels dismissed in an amended declaration by Sapiro have been implanted in the minds of the six men and six women sitting on the jury, that testimony on the dismissed libels has been given the jury and that it may not now be removed from their minds.

The announcement was made after a conference tonight between Senator James A. Reed, chief counsel for the automobile manufacturer, and his associates, Richard Higgins, Stewart Hanley and Clifford B. Longley, Ford's personal attorney.

Attorney William Henry Gallagher in the amended petition dismissed 54 of the original 141 libels charged. It is on this ground that the Ford forces will base their plea for a mistrial.

PICK UP TRAIL OF MAN HUNTED IN NEVERS KILLINGS

Miami, Fla., March 27.—[Special.]—The trail of C. H. Collins, sought in connection with the murders here of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nevers of Chicago, was picked up today by Florida authorities, fixing the date of his flight from the Miami Shores home of the Nevers as the night of March 19.

A filling station proprietor named John Quattlebaum of Pompano, forty miles north of Miami, told Deputy Sheriff J. B. Cone today that Collins drove into his station early on the morning of March 20. He was in a car answering the description of the Nevers car, and a companion rode with him.

Born Tired!

That's the way many feel, adding to their sleeplessness and nervousness by taking caffein—a drug stimulant—at mealtime. It is so unnecessary! You can enjoy a wonderful drink made of whole wheat and bran—wholesome as the grain itself. Postum! Your grocer has it in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Start today!

That all-over ache often starts with your feet

ONE reason why many men do not find their homes as cheerful as they might be is that their wives are tired and irritable. And one reason why many wives are tired and irritable is that they have spent the day on aching, throbbing feet. The constant strain saps their strength—ruins their nerves—wears them out. And what a needless sacrifice of priceless health!

Thousands of men and women have found quick and permanent relief by wearing Ground Gripper Shoes. In these shoes, exclusively, are found the three corrective features that remove the main causes of most foot troubles and then allow Nature to re-establish the normal health and vigor that your feet should have. They are: The Straight Line Inner Edge, the Flexible Arch, the Patented Rotor Heel.

Don't drag through another day on aching feet. Go to a Ground Gripper store and try on a pair of Ground Grippers. You will rejoice at the quick relief.

STATE GUARDIANS CALL PAROLE LAW CRIME IRRITANT

Replies to Questionnaire Hit at Political Power.

BY JOHN HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield Ill., March 27.—[Special.]—Illinois officials charged with administering the criminal laws believe the present parole system should be amended.

A large majority of 160 replies to a questionnaire sent by State Senator John Dailey to 300 judges, state's attorneys, and other officials calls for new legislation.

As chairman of the senate judiciary committee, Senator Dailey dispatched a circular letter calling attention to a statement by the present supervisor of paroles, Hinton G. Clabaugh, declaring it a mistake to place "arbitrary and exclusive power" in the supervisor's hands.

Wide Range of Replies.

Replies to the questionnaire accompanying the letter came from forty-two state's attorneys, forty-two county judges, eighteen Circuit or Cook county Superior court judges, some of those on the criminal bench, three Appellate court judges, twelve municipal or city judges, and from forty-one other officials.

It was stated that identities would be guarded. While a total of 160 replies was received, no one question received definite answers from all correspondents.

Briefly summarizing the returns, 103 officials voted for a board of from three to seven members, including the supervisor, to take over all parole power, and a majority of whose members would be required to grant a parole; 23 voted against such a board. Seventy-eight officials believed the court of original jurisdiction should decide questions of parole, the board being advisory only; 54 were against such a change.

Few Uphold Present Laws.

Out of 126 replies only twelve favored allowing the present laws to remain. Out of 134 replies, 110 favored some parole system; 24 called for repeal. Illinois officials, therefore, believe in parole, but stand nearly ten to one in favor of a change.

A large majority believes in taking what is deemed arbitrary power out of the hands of the supervisor of paroles. As for the question of giving the parole power to the court which imposed sentence, the tabulation showed that the majority favoring the change was made up largely of officials least in contact with actual criminal cases.

Point to Existing Wrongs.

These letters accompanying the replies give examples of what officials find wrong with the present system:

"The curse of the parole system is politics. The first consideration of one seeking a parole is who has the most political influence.

"Repeal practically nullifies the effect of all other criminal laws. A crook contemplating crime knows that he has 99 chances for acquittal to one of conviction.

"The desperate and willful criminals receive the benefits of the parole law. They have the influence to get out. The man without influence is liable to remain in the penitentiary indefinitely."

There are more moderate ones with suggestions for amendment.

A County Judge's Views.

A county judge declares a parole system should contemplate: "Liberality to first offenders, no parole for second offenders except upon unanimous recommendation of board, with approval of court of conviction; for third felony, no parole, with power of board to double sentence; life for fourth offenses."

A Cook county judge believes in a board, with the judge who passed sentence sitting in and voting; and that no parole should be granted to one who is of known bad repute or association.

Other Opinions.

"The law should not permit parole after a third offense," an Appellate judge writes, "and I would have no quarrel with it if it did not permit even a second parole."

A state's attorney says: "No convict should be released over the objection of both trial judge and state's attorney."

A Municipal judge of Chicago declares no convict should be paroled unless he has first been passed by an examining board of alienists. A county judge suggests a state criminologist or experienced psychiatrist as a member of the board.

A group of officials believes the jury originally hearing the case should exercise more final powers.

DAWES TRIES HIS HAND AT LURING PANAMA BAY FISH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, March 27.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes last evening sailed for a midnight fishing party in Panama bay, in the vicinity of the Perlas islands, as the guest of Rear Admiral George Day. Many officials accompanied the party. During the morning the Vice President, who has been the guest of Brig. Gen. Charles Martin, commander of the army forces in the Canal Zone, moved to the Hotel Tivoli and spent several hours resting. In the afternoon he was a guest at a reception at the United States embassy, to which Minister John G. South invited hundreds of Panama Canal Zone officials.

Mr. Dawes attended the Beethoven anniversary concert sponsored by President Rudolfo Chiari tonight.

The Panama president will give a banquet for the American Vice President Monday evening.

WOMEN LAUNCH DRIVE TO BEAT SMITH IN 1928

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—What is construed as a movement against the nomination of Gov. Al Smith of New York for the presidency was announced today by a group of women Democrats.

A call for a national conference on law enforcement in Washington, May 6 and 7, was issued over the signature of 30 Democratic women from various sections of the country. The women style themselves the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league.

"Women members of the Democratic party who uphold the laws," says the call, "will not indorse the nomination of any candidate for any office who is not loyal to the constitution of the United States.

"Tendencies in the Democratic party at present point to a repetition in 1928 of the tragedy that was enacted in 1924. Women Democrats in every section of the United States who are anxious for party success realize that steps must be taken to check a concerted effort that is being made for the nomination of a nullificationist for the presidency."

Among the women signing the call is Mrs. Daniel C. Roper of this city, whose husband was one of the McAdoo managers in 1924. Other women in the list include Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Miami, Fla., daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan; and Mrs. William A. H. McCulloch of Chicago.

The Whisper That's Going The Rounds

Paris I knew—Europe I'd done before—then I heard the whisper that's passed so much from lip to lip—"Have you been to Scotland?"

"Rugged romance—Highland adventure", goes the whisper—"Castles and plaids and bagpipes!"

And the most intriguing part of the secret comes first—"Seven days aboard an Anchor Liner in an atmosphere of charming club-like friendliness."

80,000 ITALIAN LADS SHOULDER MILITIA RIFLES

Premier Talks to Youths Entering Ranks.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 27.—Italy observed the eighth anniversary of the establishment of Fascism today — with ceremonies that bespoke the military hopes of the Fascist dictator, Premier Mussolini.

At Viminale palace the premier saluted wounded officers, who will resume service in the regular army as a result of a decision of the war ministry.

"We welcome you back into the army," Sig. Mussolini said, "both for the services you can still render to the country and the example you can set for the young vanguards who today joined the colors. Despite all the rifles, airplanes, chemicals, and other modern discoveries, we are absolutely useless without the spirit of sacrifice."

80,000 Youths Enter Militia.

Eighty thousand youths of the "vanguard," who have reached the age of 18, were inducted throughout Italy into the Fascist militia and were given their rifles. In Rome, 10,000 youths who were being taken into the militia paraded through the streets and then marched to the Piazza del Popolo, where the vanguards, Balilla, a Fascist boys' organization, and representatives of the Fascist militiamen listened to the flaming speeches after the ceremony.

After this the premier himself attended the inauguration of the first barracks for the Fascist militia, built within less than a year.

Mussolini Addresses Recruits.

"This ceremony marking your entrance into the life ranks of the militia must ever be memorable in your hearts," Premier Mussolini told the young recruits. "Today you raised your hands in an oath. This oath must remain sacred, no matter what the future may bring forth. For the king of Italy, for Fascism and for us."

Il Duce then received the Fascist troops amid thunderous applause.

DIES OF POISON DOSE.

Despondent over ill health, John Ogden, 40 years old, swallowed poison at the Van Buren hotel Friday afternoon. He died yesterday at the county hospital.

73 Year Old Physician Held in Woman's Death

Dr. David B. Eaton, 73 years old, of 4610 Ellis avenue, was in Hyde Park police station last night following his arrest on a charge of illegal operation. The warrant had been sworn out by Maurice Epert of 1065 East 47th street. Mrs. Epert, police were told, is in a serious condition at Michael Reese hospital as a result of the operation. For weeks, according to police, Dr. Eaton has been sought for questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Florence Soyonov, 23 years old, of 7859 South Shore drive, on Feb. 27.

THE WAYS OF POLITICS.

Charles S. Deneen, Roy West, Edward Brundage, Edward Litsinger, and other Republican organization men who were against Thompson in the primaries are now for him in the election. Sometimes a primary election is conducted in such fashion that the losers can support the winner without breaking some of their teeth on the crow. In other cases it is different.

The theory of party regularity can make an argument. A party is represented to its supporters and to the voters it attracts as an instrument of government to be preferred by them above all other parties. It is supposed to have definite intentions, a program, and principles, and it pledges itself to certain performances. With the direct primary its nominations represent the will of the voters who subscribe to the program of the party and indicate the candidates the people themselves want to carry out the party policies in government.

Factions may try to influence the popular will in the primaries and then accept the decision and unite behind the successful candidates for the election. The policy significance of parties has virtually disappeared in local elections. It exists in congressional and national elections, but is of small consequence in state elections, including elections for the legislature. There is no importance to parties in the Illinois general assembly and it is of next to no consequence whether the governor is a Republican or Democrat. The character of the man is important.

Parties retain importance in these fields merely for the politicians, for the distribution of patronage and pickings, for the retention or gaining of office. When the factional leaders have the desirable thing known as harmony they have increased the security of their tenure in office and if the places are numerous enough and desirable enough to keep them all satisfied they'd rather be helping each other than fighting each other. For the most part they have no consideration for political morals. They are not in politics for the public's health.

Men who regard party regularity as the essential of the continuance and usefulness of parties may say and do say that it is not for them to override but to accept the decisions of the party, particularly when the choice is made by the voters themselves. The truth is that if the decisions in favor of the other fellow are not accepted by you, decisions in your favor will not be accepted by the other fellow.

There was a great deal of heat in the recent primaries. The various organization men called each other about all the names permissible of use in platform speaking. The opposition to Thompson said that he was a calamity threatening the city. The opposition, excepting Lundin, who seemingly stands now where he stood then, will work to put their calamity in office.

It may be unavoidable in the scheme of these professionals to damn each other and then shake hands, but it should reveal to voters the entire hollowness of political pretense on the platform. The harmony circle of Republicans contains men who recently were calling each other liars and crooks. They conduct a primary campaign to convince the people of the utter unfitness of the candidates offered and then unite to put one of them in office.

Mayor Dever's case could be made complete merely by presenting Republican evidence against the Republican candidate.

THE STAGE AND THE LAWMAKERS.

A bill has been introduced at Springfield to permit the padlocking of theaters where plays thought to be indecent have been presented. The bill, if it becomes a law, would do away with the necessity for a jury trial. If the state's attorney got the notion that a play showed "depravity, unchastity, obscenity, or indecency," he could ask a judge to appoint a commission of five citizens to attend a performance. If the citizens agreed with the prosecutor, a temporary injunction would be issued. The hearing for a permanent injunction, closing the theater for a year, would follow.

The proposed law was drafted in State's Attorney Crowe's office at the instance of the "chairman of the law enforcement committee of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs." The committee appears to be misnamed. Its object is not law enforcement, but law enactment. The chairman seems less concerned to enforce the present statutes protecting public decency than to lay down new and more ruthless methods of suppression. Yet dirty plays are not an invention of the present generation of authors and producers and do not present a problem which legislators never before have faced. Any time Mr. Crowe thinks a play is menacing public morals he knows he can proceed against its producer under existing statute and send him and all the actors to jail. All he need do is convince a jury of their guilt. It is difficult to see why a state's attorney, with many more laws already than he can hope ever to enforce, should seek to burden his office with new laws.

The problem of immorality on the stage is almost as old as the stage itself. There is scarcely an age which has not had its stage filth, and often, it is worth noting, the filth is woven into the masterpieces. True, under our present laws, it is not as easy to convict play producers as the reformers would like it to be. It ought not to be easy. The presumption in our law ought to be in favor of the author and producer and against the agent of suppression. This is true not only because the agents of suppression are themselves quite commonly psychopathic. More important is the fact that our law ought to presume that citizens know what is good for them. No one is obliged to go to any play and no one is obliged to remain in the theater if the play offends him.

The bill is another attempt to make confiscation easy. It places the citizen and his property at the mercy of a judge. It gives that judge a broad field over which to roam in reaching his opinion. Anything which he considers depraved, unchaste, obscene, or indecent justifies him in robbing the public of something it may want and robbing the theater owner of his livelihood. No two men can agree on the meaning of unchaste or any of the other adjectives in the bill. Ten years ago girls who went bathing in Chicago had to have skirts to the knees and were obliged to wear stockings. Anything else was indecent. Last summer bare thighs were chaste as the driven snow. Some people today think the standard of ten years ago is none too strict and other equally competent citizens think even the style of 1926 borders on prudery. With such conflicts in opinion in the community, it is only common sense to protect the liberties and property of the citizen as far as possible from judicial tyranny. Jury trial may not be the perfect method of arriving at truth, but at any rate it may be a certain check upon oppression.

THE VIRTUE OF MINDING OUR OWN BUSINESS.

Dr. James W. Garner, professor of political science at the University of Illinois, gave the first lecture in the James Stokes lectureship at New York university. He spoke for world coöperation and against American isolation. He said that Washington's argument against participation in European affairs had peculiar applicability to his times and the condition of the new republic and did not have pertinence now. It was good advice then and poor advice now.

It was true then that there was danger the republic would be influenced by gratitude to France and dislike or fear of Great Britain and commit itself to errors. Washington knew that the nation had to stand on its own feet. It was not to be an appendage to European events and continue to have recoils here from every explosion in Europe.

It is as true now as when he said it that Europe has interests and clashes of interests to which the United States is alien. Europe has inheritances which affect its peoples and their governments and which for the most part will not affect the American people unless the American government deliberately seeks to make the attachment. Because the latest war finally involved the United States does not change the fact that other European wars did not. The detachment which Washington urged and which was maintained when an emotional urge would have thrown the young United States into war alongside France against Great Britain has been fairly successful in keeping the United States at peace when Europe's problems were keeping it in war.

The professors agree that peace is a desirable thing and we assure them it is just as desirable for the American people as for any other. The United States has been granted the most favorable terms for minding its own business. The responsibility of the American government in keeping other nations at peace is rather less than its responsibility in keeping the American people out of war.

Methods designed to preserve peace at home are quite as respectable and moral as methods intended to keep Italy out of Jugo-Slavia or the French out of Germany. It is not true that the next European explosion will involve the United States. It will not if the United States minds its own business and is strong enough to make it inadvisable for any nation to involve it in something which does not concern it.

The government of the United States is not an altruistic concern responsible for the good conduct of the world, but is trustee of the welfare of the United States. It has no obligation above that responsibility. Professors, bankers, and other individuals may have ideas and speak pieces. They may believe that the United States as a nation should behave as no individual in it would dream of behaving with his own welfare at stake. It is foolish, but there is no law against it. But the government of the United States is created for the service of the American people. In international affairs it has only one moral obligation. That is to protect the interests of the United States.

Individuals may make such sacrifices as they choose for what they may regard as better and finer things than national interest, but the American government would be in the greatest moral dereliction if it brought misfortune to the American people in trying to do good to some one else.

Editorial of the Day

ONTARIO'S BOOM.

[New York Evening Post.]

Apparently the first effect of Ontario's new liquor regulations has been the development of a real estate boom along the shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario on the Canadian side.

Of late years the shores on both sides of the lakes have been favorite places for the erection of summer cottages by Americans and Canadians. With stringent liquor laws in both countries, one side of the boundary line was as much preferred as the other. But the Ontario law, which is expected to go into effect on May 1, provides for permits to tourists or summer residents enabling them to buy wines and liquors at government stores. As a result, many Americans who have cottages on the American shores are offering them for sale and preparing to make their summer homes in Ontario.

Reports from Canada indicate that farmers living close to the lakes are turning their farms into city lots in anticipation of the boom. The distance between their former summer homes on the American shores and the new cottages on the Canadian side will mean little to men engaged in business in such cities as Buffalo. It is merely a matter of the next railroad station or a few more miles by automobile. Canadian officials, as well as business men, show a disposition to make it pleasant for these Americans to spend their evenings, week-ends and holidays during the heated months in Ontario. Facilities for handling the increase in traffic are being improved, bridges are being repaired and roads put in order, with the purpose of impressing upon the tourists the idea that they are very welcome guests.

At the same time, American officials along the Ontario line are getting ready for a busy and most unpleasant summer. The enforcement agents will be compelled to examine a small army of returning tourists every morning to prevent the smuggling of liquor. The fact that the purity of the liquor is guaranteed by the Ontario government is expected to result in numerous attempts on the part of the summer residents to oblige their friends on this side who now buy the dubious liquor supplied by bootleggers.

How to Keep Well.

SOAPS AS PREVENTIVES AND CURES.

THE United States army surgeons are apostles for soap. Not content with advocating the Saturday night bath for the file as well as the rank, they add a number of frills. They believe in making the bath so convenient that no soldier will wish to wait until Saturday night. Whenever they can justify themselves they enforce delousing regulations, of which the bath is an outstanding feature. Finally, some of their more inventive surgeons have been experimenting with soaps as preventives and cure for disease.

Reasoner proved that soap was an excellent preventive of venereal disease. It seems likely that in time, for this purpose, soap will eventually push out all the more elaborate and unpleasant forms of treatment given in the preventive stations in army camps.

Nichols and Walker, army surgeons, conducted experiments which rescued soap from the garbage can as a bactericide. They experimented with all kinds of soaps and discovered the peculiar virtues of each in killing different kinds of disease germs. They proved that the simple, every day soaps were better than the so-called antiseptic soaps—biniodide soap being a probable exception.

Now come two army surgeons, Col. Reasoner and Capt. Gill, with the suggestion that a good tooth soap used freely is an efficient preventive of trench mouth. Some people know trench mouth under the name of Vincent's angina. They suggest that the habitual use of soap as a mouth and tooth wash will prevent mouth cancer, or help to do so, at any rate. They treated mild cases of trench mouth, or Vincent's angina, with soap solution, and they all got well fairly promptly. However, they do not recommend the soap treatment as the sole treatment in trench mouth, and certainly not in the severe cases of that disorder. The ordinary dentifrices contain a good deal of soap, and that is their most valuable ingredient.

These army surgeons observed that trench mouth was unusually prevalent among our soldiers in Europe after the world war. Upon investigation they found the disease very prevalent among both the German and the French people. Neither of these people are fond of bathing, though the Germans have a better batting average than the French. Just after the war bathing in both countries, but especially Germany, was a luxury that few indulged. Soap was very scarce, and when marks and francs were almost valueless it was much too expensive.

Prior to the war Vincent's angina was seldom found among the well to do, though it was fairly prevalent among people who were not as clean as they should have been. When soap was beyond the reach of even the well to do Vincent's angina, known there as trench mouth, became prevalent in almost all social levels. The soldiers stationed among the civilian populations acquired the disease. Since soap was at such a premium it became difficult to keep the soldiers' barracks and bathrooms, and even the military hospitals, supplied.

DAUGHTER IS CONSTIPATED.

Mrs. J. P. B. writes: I wish you would advise me as to my daughter's health. She is 17 years of age, a junior in high school. She is always constipated. She only succeeds in keeping her bowels open with pills and liquid purgatives. I do not think that is wise, as it makes her dependent entirely on medicines.

She is a Scout and she follows the health rules used by the Girl Scouts; sleeps with windows open, drinks six glasses of water daily, walks a mile and takes other exercise in the open air, eats fruits and vegetables, sleeps nine hours.

Can you tell me what to try next?

REPLY.

If she follows these rules to the full she should not have constipation.

She must not take purgatives.

She should eat bran as a cereal and in breads.

One good plan is: Drink a full glass of 2 per cent salt solution on awakening and before leaving the bed. Lie quietly for half an hour to an hour. Go to toilet on arising or soon after breakfast.

SHE EATS TEA LEAVES.

M. L. B. writes: Are tea leaves, after being steeped, harmful to one's health? I have a dear friend who is not satisfied unless she eats them every day.

REPLY:

Does no special harm. They have about the same qualities as does tea for drinking.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

DECISION ON WILL.

White Hall, Ill., March 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise how to construe this will. There are three children, all of age and not dependent. Two are married, and there are two grandchildren under age. The will leaves the estate to a trustee to pay the net income to the widow during her life. One paragraph (d) reads as follows: "At the death of my said wife I direct my said trustee or his successor in trust to distribute, pay, and convey all my real and personal property then remaining in his hands to the heirs of my body surviving at the time of the death of my said wife, per stirpes, they to have and to hold the same forever."

If the wife renounces this will and takes her third and dower according to law, can the whole estate be divided, the children sharing according to law as if there were no will? M. C.

Syllabus No. 5 of the head note of the recent case of Schaffenacker vs. Bell, 320 Ill., 31, is as follows: "Where a testator gives his wife a life estate in all his real property, with remainder to his brothers and sisters on condition that they be living at the death of his widow, the share of any deceased brother or sister going to his or her lineal descendants who survive the widow, the remainder is contingent until the death of the widow notwithstanding she renounces the will under section 12 of the Dower act, and the shares of the contingent devisees cannot be partitioned until it is known who will take and in what proportion." We would consider this controlling.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CONTRACTS LET.

Chicago, March 23.—[Friend of the People.]—When does the city expect to pave Wilson avenue from Major to Menard avenues? We have intentions of putting in a side drive, but do not want to do so until we are sure when the street is to be paved, which we hear is this spring.

B. E. C.

On Jan. 6, 1927, we let contract to the White Paving company to pave the following system of streets:

Leland avenue from Major avenue to Menard avenue.

Slocum avenue from Major avenue to Menard avenue.

Wilson avenue from Major avenue to Menard avenue.

Major avenue from Wilson avenue to Leland avenue.

The work will be done this year.

FORTRESS MONROE. — Contrabands state that the rebel ironclad Merrimac, having been fully repaired since its battle with the Monitor, was brought out of drydock three days ago and is manned and ready for action. Several new guns of heavier metal than the old have been placed aboard.

WASHINGTON. — The Republican says that next to Capt. Ericsson the country is indebted to President Lincoln for the building of the Monitor, which administered a disastrous defeat to the rebel ironclad Merrimac recently, the plans having been rejected by the chief engineer of the navy. The personal intercession of the President alone secured their acceptance.

CAIRO.—An arrival on the Conestoga brings news of the bombardment of Island No. 10 up to March 26. He says rebel prisoners report the strength of the enemy at 15,000. Gen. Bragg is in command. Firing from the gunboats at the confederate batteries continues at intervals. It was reported that a rebel gunboat, in attempting to pass up the river, was exploded.

CAIRO.—The Rev. Dr. Tiffany of the Chicago sanitary commission is here to superintend the distribution of the supplies sent by that organization. Stores valued at $6,000 were shipped to Savannah, Tenn.

WINCHESTER, Va.—In a general order Gen. Shields congratulated the officers and soldiers of his division on the glorious victory achieved by them on the 23d near Winchester. Gen. Banks, commanding the Fifth army corps, congratulated Gen. Shields and his command on the victory, saying: "The division has achieved renown against superior forces and a subtle and barbarous enemy."

WASHINGTON.—Gen. McClellan is reviewing Gen. Franklin's division today. The weather is fine for reviews.

CHICAGO. — Ten soldiers of the Third Wisconsin cavalry were killed and many were injured in a wreck on the Chicago and Northwestern four miles northwest of Chicago. The disaster was caused by the breaking of an axle.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A secret meeting of representatives of Louisville's whisky interests was held here to revive the National Protective association, organized in Chicago in 1886 to wage war against the prohibition movement and to endeavor to show that "prohibition laws are ineffectual."

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—In replying to strictures on his last declaration that President Roosevelt was trying to turn the United States government into a military despotism, Henry Watterson says in a letter written from Washington: "He who cannot, without much stretch of the imagination, see how a union of the President, supported by the army, and the speaker of the house, supported by the committee on rules, might not in time of danger and excitement lay the basis for a Mexicanization of the government—that is, for the prolongation of one party in power and the continuance of one President a la Diaz in office—can see nothing except he run directly against it. Arbitrary power becomes in the end but another name for breach of trust."

VIENNA.—Emperor Franz Josef this morning (Maundy Thursday) performed at the Hofburg the traditional ceremony of washing the feet of twelve aged men. The nobility and the diplomatic corps, including Robert S. McCormick, United States minister, witnessed the ceremony.

CHICAGO.—According to dispatches from Denver, D. H. Moffatt and other capitalists are considering the construction of a new short line from Denver to Salt Lake City.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 28, 1917.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Wilson is gravely concerned over reports that congress may balk at a declaration of war against Germany. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the President's chief confidant on the senate foreign relations committee, called at the White House and urged Mr. Wilson to ask congress for an affirmation of armed neutrality instead of a declaration of a state of war.

LONDON.—An Amsterdam dispatch says: "According to a Berlin telegram, Berlin is filled with rumors that Germany has offered a separate peace to Russia. The terms offered are said to be complete autonomy to Poland, the internationalization of Constantinople, the evacuation by Russia of Austrian territory, and a Russian protectorate over Armenia."

PARIS. — The allies are forging ahead on the western front. The forces of Gen. Nivelle, after taking the town of Coucy-le-Château, wrested all the lower forest of Coucy from its German defenders, together with the villages of Petit Barisis, Verneuil, and Coucy-le-Ville. The French outposts now stand on the western outskirts of the forest of St. Gobain and the upper forests of Coucy. The Germans are resisting desperately all along "the Hindenburg line" to prevent a flanking movement by the French armies.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R.H.L.

KNEES.

To your eyes and your hair,
Your complexion so rare,
  I could write, oh such wonderful verse;
But whenever I see
You uncover your knee,
  I feel sorely tempted to curse.

Now I'm keen for your lips
And your new straight-line hips
  And your white pearly teeth make me stare;
But my dearest one, please,
Won't you cover your knees,
  I don't really care for them bare.

I'm in love with your talk
And the way that you walk
  And most all that you do seems to please;
But there is one thing just Aggravates me, you must Make arrangements to cover your knees.

VAN H. ESHELMAN.

IT'S CONTRIBUTORS' DAY, but we've got to horn in because we promised to help good Mr. Dever find subjects to talk about in his public addresses. Good Mr. Dever said that bad Mr. Thompson talked so wildly that he (good Mr. Dever) couldn't answer him, and so we very kindly undertook to furnish good Mr. Dever with subjects he could talk about. Well, Mr. Dever, for your lectures today we suggest this one, "THE CHICAGO SUBWAY. WHY I BUILT IT. AND HOW!" And then the band can play that rollicking old tune, "Lykell, Lykell, Lykell."

They Have Selected Glacier Park.

RHL: Kansas City has just been presented with a new site to be known as "Loose Park." The Slow clubs couldn't hold their national convention there, could they? FLAPDOODLE.

Probably a Bit of Both.

Dick: Considering the heroic figure cut by Albert in his efforts to retain his own two feet among the hordes of onrushing humanity at Field's Battling Ground Saturday, one must say if the boy ever does it again he is either coo-coo or a hound for punishment. AN UNPREFERRED BRUNETTE.

Pardon Me, It Was Not a Fool Cork.

Dick: For goodness' sake! How much did that fool cork cost? We must get this problem out of the way. Our whole office is disrupted thereby.

GIRLS FROM J. E. B.

THA B. AND C. THROWS A LINEN SHOWER.

DEAR DICK: Our 1927 savings program is starting off just grand. My application fer a cupple ring side seats at the poor house was mailed today. Last night I come home hungryer an ell an had my face all fixed for a nice lot of chow and whaddaya think, I have to sit down and finish the remnants of a linen shower. Seems one of the girl friends is shoving off and the B. and C. throws a shower. The only thing I got for nothing when I miscued was a relation shower, ennyway before I'm allowed to eat I godda get a ladder and remove some goofy lookin cupids often the chandaleer, take back some borrowed chairs and card tables and help dry enough dishes to eat on. Tha junk what the different girls brought was too heavy to carry so after supper I gotta take it over to the bride to be's dump. The mama tole her I would'n mind it a bit, wich was a lie. The groom got most of the gifts as nearly everybody brought dish towels. One girl brought a guest towel wich I was tole was in her family for over a hundred years, after takin a look at it I would'n doubt it a bit. Another girl gave a linen duster, after delivering the bundle and sizing up the brides house I think a feather duster would of been more practical. My supper was salmon salad sandwiches 2 inches square by a 1-16 of a inch thick. When I asked what the hell kind of salad I got the B. and C. says, "You should of seen it this afternoon it was so pretty, the bananas was all cut up in the shape of hearts." I would of bid a no trump. The desert was tasteless, it was Christened Marshmallow Whip. I would just as soon of ate a buggy whip. Next week another girl is giving a miscellaneous shower, when the mama asked me what she should give I tole her to give the wristlets wich her ole lady knitted for me fer Xmas and to tell her theyre a new idea for liftin hot coffee pots. Why, Uncle Roy—Yessir—It Certainly Does!

RHL: Why is it that between acts of theatrical productions so many of the so-called fair sex find it necessary to do some exterior decorating? When one looks around during intermissions and sees women busily engaged with the compact, it looks for all the world like a lot of cats washing their faces. UNCLE ROY.

But How Much Did the Cork Cost?

R. H. L.: I think that the Radio Mike boy who gave us that $1.10 bottle and cork problem must be a distant relative of Slieve Na Mon's, for it bears all the earmarks of his dirty work.

RDUBLU AT RWIB.

I'LL JUST GLANCE THROUGH IT.

R. H. L.: Ooooo! I'm so mad I could die! Just as I got all placed to enjoy "The Return of Snowshoe Al," autographed by Snowshoe Al heself (I thank you, Mr. Little), in breezes the b. f. "Oh!" says he, as he lamps the book, "The Return of Snowshoe Al." "Yes," says I, beaming, "It came." "Well!" says he, "I'll just glance through it." He did. In fact, I think he looked through it a number of times for the remainder of the evening. The only way I had of knowing he was present was when he would burst forth in a loud guffaw. At said times I wanted to send him where some of the other college students went. But that's not the half of it. I brought said little book to the office this morning, the boss spied it and said, "Well, I'll just glance through it." Wish I could add "BANG" to what then occurred, but, oh! What's the use, he's the BOSS! FRENCHY.

Maybe That's Why He Escaped.

DRESSED FOR THE WORK

[Kladderadatsch, Berlin.]

The American, English, and French governments have decided to dress up their troops as peace angels as a sign of their naval disarmament.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

NOT COWARDS.

Chicago, March 24.—I am not an Englishman and never did rave about them, but I consider they are as good people as you can find anywhere. They have many peculiarities which some people would call faults, but when it comes to doing their share of fighting as regular soldiers, they can be depended on to do their duty.

In the first column of today's TRIBUNE, dealing with events in Shanghai, one paragraph is headed "English Got Scared." Well, to my idea, your war correspondent had very little to write about when he accepted that statement from a marine and inserted it in his report. It is a poor way of showing goodwill between brothers in arms, and who knows the same marine before he is through, may be very glad to accept help from those same frightened Englishmen. E. WHITELAW.

A MERITED REBUKE.

Chicago, March 25.—The reporting, in an important news dispatch, of an American marine's irresponsible remarks regarding the wish of the officer commanding the British forces in Shanghai, that the American marines help hold the international concession against the Chinese hordes, is a shining example of American diplomacy and journalism.

America's stake in China may not be as large as Great Britain's, but her attitude in the present crisis has occasioned a merited rebuke from her own nationals, in the shape of a circular letter to British forces thanking them for their protection. CANDIDUS.

WHAT THE MARINE SAID.

Chicago, March 25.—The trouble in China is as usual bringing to the fore the good old invincible marines. We all know they won the war, did all the fighting, and had all the rest of the Yanks doing their K. P.'s.

And in China they are running true to type, the "English got scared and asked for help." It was a gob that said, "When a marine dies they bury the body and leave the head out, as it made a fine marble grave marker." The English he refers to seems to be the Coldstream Guards. If I remember rightly the Guards' history starts with the overthrow of Oliver Cromwell at Coldstream on the Scottish-English border. Since that time they have fought gloriously in battle, and are a handsome peacetime sight. When they say they got scared at the sight of an unarmed mob, then we get to thinking of what the gob said.

NULLI SECUNDUS.

OLD CARS ON THE "L."

Chicago, March 23.—This complaint, protest, and suggestion is a bit tardy; however, I don't intend to let the opportunity slip by without mention. I am referring to the recent accident on the "L" lines. I am a constant user of the north side "L" line, and I am more or less compelled to use the Wilson avenue division. On this branch the Rapid Transit Lines run cars some of which date back to the year of the world's fair. Believe it or not, some of these cars have wooden seats and benches to them!

Within the last year there have been a couple of fires on elevated trains. Look up the records and you will find that the trains were either of the Wilson branch or Englewood (which run the same cars). No one can deny that these fires happened, for in one case I read the account in THE TRIBUNE, and as to the other, I was on the car that started to burn.

May I protest against the use of these cars, if for no other reason than to insure the safety and lives of the patrons who are so unfortunate as to have to ride on "World's Fair Special"?

T. D. HUTCHINGS.

PHARMACISTS, THE HOSPITALS, AND PROHIBITION.

Chicago, March 20.—To the college trained pharmacist with years of rigid preparatory work, it is astounding to learn that the hospitals have just received orders from Health Commissioner Bundesen to have a fully registered pharmacist in charge of dispensaries and all that pertains thereto. Just why such a rule as this has not been in force long ago betrays a woeful ignorance on the part of hospital authorities. The state law is very explicit in such instances.

Physicians and nurses are not competent to act in the capacity of pharmacists because they have not been trained in pharmacology, chemistry, and compounding. As a rule they do not lay claim to proficiency in these branches. Their own work is ample enough in scope and responsibility.

The profession has been given a black eye since the passage of the prohibition law which placed the handling of intoxicating liquors in drug stores. Organized pharmacy did no lobbying to have that provision embodied in the dry law. Liquor has been literally forced on the drug trade, with the result that ex-saloonkeepers and unscrupulous druggists have opened pseudo-pharmacies for the sale of liquors. The state of Illinois has amended the pharmacy law, which requires that only fully registered pharmacists may own and operate retail drug stores. The charlatan in our ranks has already started to fade out of the picture. WILLIAM ADAMS.

WHO WROTE THIS VERSE!

Hopkinton, Ia., March 18.—I am writing to ask you if you can help me find a poem of which I know neither the author nor title nor the time of writing. I heard a part of it quoted once and I think I have four lines correct, as follows:

"I know a land that is sunk in shame,
  Where hearts do faint and tire;
But I know a Name, a Name, a Name
  That can set that land on fire."

I shall be very grateful for any help you may give me and shall be glad to have author, title, and time of writing, if I may, as well as a copy of the words.

MRS. J. W. FOOTE.

LEGISLATION FOR THE FORESTS.

New York, March 22.—Your leading editorial of March 20, "The Platform Revised, IV.", is a splendid contribution to the education of the public in a matter of great national concern. Unlike some of our other resources, our forests can be permanently renewed if their varied service to mankind, which embraces watershed protection, wild life preservation, health and recreation, and a wealth of material for a thousand daily uses—including the paper upon which your message was printed.

We are making progress in forest conservation, but there is a long, long way to go, and, as you point out, it is chiefly an economic problem, but adequate fire prevention and taxation adjustment to the nature of forest crops are essential. R. S. KELLOGG,
Chairman, National Forestry Program Committee.

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Oregon, Ill., March 21.—Your editorial today concerning a federal constitutional convention tinkering with the whole instrument instead of with the eighteenth amendment is patriotism, wisdom and great common sense.

SCHWAB, HERE, SEES BOOM IN U. S. BUSINESS

Finds Europe Also on Industrial Upgrade.

Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to Los Angeles, pausing only long enough to predict unprecedented industrial expansion in the United States during the next few decades.

"American business is healthy and sound," the steel magnate declared, "and the condition of the steel industry has never been better. Most of the plants are operating close to capacity. Prices are not as satisfactory as they might be, but this in my opinion isn't significant. I look for recovery in the near future."

Praise for Coolidge.

The same conservativeness of the Coolidge administration, Mr. Schwab declared, is the factor controlling America's present prosperity. Mr. Schwab predicted the President's reelection if he should seek another term.

Mr. Schwab has recently returned from Europe. He found there a business boom which he said exceeded his utmost expectations.

Although steel industries on the continent are merging, Mr. Schwab believes that the United States has nothing to fear. Keener competition will be necessary if the combine is effected he asserted.

The magnate made frequent mention of his age. "You know I'll be 65 in May, and I really shouldn't take any chances with your Chicago weather. At 65 I see greater opportunity for success in America than I ever did before. I wish I were twenty years younger."

Can Succeed if Energetic.

Mr. Schwab added that any man can succeed in the United States today if he wants to. He declared that there are jobs crying for poor men to make millionaires of them. Mr. Schwab hinted that he is ready to retire. "I'm getting ready to get out of the trenches in business," he said.

Mr. Schwab with his wife and sister-in-law, Mrs. M. R. Ward of Wayne, Pa., arrived in Chicago early yesterday morning in the private car, Loretto, attached to the Pennsylvania's Metropolitan express. In the afternoon he left on the Santa Fe for Los Angeles.

INSURE YOURSELF FOR HEALTH SAKE, BUNDESEN URGES

Every minute 21 persons are hurt, every five minutes, one person is accidentally killed, and every year 11,000,000 persons are killed or injured in the United States. These figures are quoted by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner of health, in the weekly bulletin issued yesterday, as indicative of the need for insurance to protect widows and orphans.

"Every year," the bulletin says, "5,000,000 women are left to shift for themselves and their children, many left in absolute poverty because their husbands had failed to provide for their future by means of insurance or savings. Records of the Chicago department of health show that ill health of the husband is followed by needy widowhood and that fatherless children and a high child mortality go hand in hand.

"Insurance is the one great saving investment that insures health and education, home and happiness to your children."

GIRL DIES AFTER FALL.

Bernice Kubiunis, 5 years old, died at the Auburn Park hospital yesterday of a fractured skull, suffered Saturday when she fell downstairs at her home, 8427 Gilbert court.

Policeman Is Sought After Janitor Is Shot

Struggling for possession of a revolver, Albert Verst, a janitor, 32 years old, 4059 Greenview avenue, was shot in the upper right thigh in his home early this morning by Policeman Leo Hammersback, 3808 Osgood street, attached to the Summerdale station, who fled after the shooting, according to a statement made by Verst at the Ravenswood hospital, where he was taken.

REBEL APPEALS TO U.S. FOR PEACE OVER NICARAGUA

Sacasa Says He's Denied "Yankee Fair Deal."

BY GERALD MARTIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PUERTO CABEZAS, Nicaragua, March 27.—Appealing to Washington to "end this distressing situation and finish this fearful crisis," Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, Liberal president of Nicaragua, received THE TRIBUNE correspondent at the Nicaraguan "White House" here this morning. He reiterated his intention to stand by his guns and his intention of continuing "my sacred duty of defending the cause of Nicaragua and democracy."

THE TRIBUNE correspondent flew over from Managua for the purpose of discussing with Dr. Sacasa the most recent developments.

Recalls Days in U. S.

One would never think that more than two-thirds of Nicaragua is beyond reach of Dr. Sacasa's forces, following his most pleasant manner of greeting, his perfect English, and his recollections of happy youthful days at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Sacasa recalled reading THE TRIBUNE regularly for years, and was glad to read it again. His conversation touched on the latest moves in political, sporting, and literary happenings. He said he kills time playing golf and tennis with American lumbermen around here.

Dr. Sacasa pointed out the difference in the United States attitude toward the Mexican and Nicaraguan recognized presidents, permitting arms to cross the border to assist the Mexican outs, while the reverse policy was taken toward the Nicaraguan outs.

Bitter Against U. S. Aid.

"I think the American recognition of the illegal Diaz régime does not imply obligations to give military support," Dr. Sacasa said. "However, the American government thus interprets the recognition, having instructed its naval forces to dump our ammunition overboard, also supplying the Diaz régime with fresh war materials, establishing a naval blockade against us, declaring neutral zones in the largest cities and enabling Señor Diaz to mobilize garrisons while the American troops guard them. The American government, therefore, not only recognized President Diaz, but declared an alliance in favor of Señor Diaz and military hostility against the Nicaraguan people.

"I much regret that the American government has not taken any opportunity offered by myself, together with the Liberal party, to end this distressing situation, which would greatly benefit not only Nicaragua, but American diplomacy, if applied in a humanitarian friendly way.

Decision of War.

"Were it not for the decisive American protection favoring Señor Diaz, Nicaragua would have ended the fearful crisis. Practically every battle demonstrates the weakness of the Diaz régime. The present warfare is proof positive that public opinion rejects the usurpation and that the much advertised Mexican intervention is nothing but cruel malicious propaganda; also that the only armed intervention comes from the American government, which prolongs the unnecessary suffering of the Nicaraguan people, retarding the constitutional reëstablishment of the Nicaraguan government."

GAUGES MINDS OF BOY STRANGERS; GETS 71 RIGHT

Loyola Dean Shows Advance of Science.

Gauging the measure of a mind accurately is so nearly within the realm of modern science that the Rev. Austin G. Schmidt, dean of the graduate school of Loyola university, yesterday achieved a record of 70 per cent in reports on the mental qualifications of 31 boys he had never seen.

In a demonstration before the graduate students of Loyola, at the university's downtown school, 28 North Franklin street, Father Schmidt submitted lantern slides he had prepared, showing his report on the various boys, who are eighth grade students at St. Ignatius elementary school, Loyola and Glenwood avenues.

Checked by Reports.

These were then checked against reports on the same boys, made by their teachers, and placed in a sealed envelope, their contents being revealed for the first time at the lecture.

The standard tests given the 39, which occupied about two hours, covered work in reading, arithmetic, grammar, history, literature, nature, science, spelling and composition.

An idea of the accuracy obtained may be secured from a comparison of the reports on different boys. Of No. 1, Father Schmidt declared: "He has an average mind and his work is about what should be expected, with the exception of his spelling, which is frightful." His teacher said of the boy: "Slow, but careful. Poor in spelling."

Other Examples.

No. 6 was reported by the dean to be "just an average or a bit below average boy. Moves along tranquilly and is in no danger from overwork"; and by his teacher, "Studious, but not conspicuuous in anything." No. 29, according to Father Schmidt, "is a normal boy doing normal work, but the report raises a suspicion that something occurred to invalidate the results of the reading test. Entered school late or was retarded by some misfortune. Is weak in arithmetic." By his teacher's report, the boy is "over age, intelligent, but poor in arithmetic."

Discounting the factors of distractions, dishonesty and lack of time, the tests may be made almost 98 per cent accurately, Father Schmidt believes.

ONE SLAIN WHEN GUNMEN INVADE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Alexander Monski, 31 years old, of 2320 Elston avenue, was shot and killed early yesterday in a battle that began when four uninvited and unwanted guests tried to crash their way into a party given at the home of Joseph Schalask, 4435 South Wood street.

Following the shooting the four hoodlums fled, but were arrested a short time later by Sergt. Michael Hackett and his detective bureau squad. One of them, Stanley Lontka, 4412 Honore street, confessed that he fired the shot that killed Monski.

About thirty guests had gathered at the Schalasky home for the celebration of Joseph's nineteenth birthday anniversary. The merriment had gone on for hours and the guests were preparing to leave when the four outsiders stepped on the porch, knocked, and demanded entrance. The Schalaskys told them to leave.

Instead of complying, the four hoodlums formed a flying wedge and tried to crash the front door. Schalasky's father called for help. Monski and several others responded. They thrust the intruders out and locked the door.

Then a single bullet was fired through a glass panel. It struck Monski in the head and he fell dead.

1926 PRIMARIES NOT ELECTIONS, CHOSE SENATORS

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—Senatorial contests in 1926 were actually decided in a majority of cases in the primaries rather than the elections, according to an analysis made public today by Simon Michelet, a Washington attorney and election statistician.

The figures assembled by Mr. Michelet disclosed that many more voters cast their ballots in primaries than in the elections, not only in southern states but in lesser degree in such northern Republican states as Illinois and Pennsylvania.

The primary vote settled the election in seventeen out of twenty-nine states where nominations were made by the direct primary, according to Mr. Michelet. The primary vote exceeded the general election vote by 46 per cent in nine Republican states and by 140 per cent in eight Democratic states.

The nine Republican states were California, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington, and Wisconsin. The total vote for Republican senatorial candidates in these nine states was 4,741,930 in the primaries, against 3,369,178 votes for Republican nominees in November.

The eight Democratic states were Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and South Carolina. The aggregate primary vote for senator in the eight states was two and one-half times the total general election vote for senator.

BABY GIRL FOUND DEAD.

The body of an unidentified baby girl, one day old, was found in the car barns near Clark street and Devon avenue.

MEXICO AND U. S. AT CRISIS BRINK OVER FORGERIES

Falsity Revealed; Serious Break Averted.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—The United States government has narrowly escaped a serious crisis in its relations with Mexico. This crisis was due to a plot skillfully arranged and carried out. Forged communications purporting to have been signed by Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state, and other officers of the Washington government were placed in the possession of the Calles administration in Mexico City and brought to a dangerous point the already tense state of affairs affecting the two nations.

Through the discovery of the forgeries, the Washington administration has been able to overcome the danger that threatened an open clash.

It is believed the Mexican government is now assured of the entire innocence of the United States in connection with what appears to have been a conspiracy to bring about an international calamity.

Explains "Mystery Notes."

What has become known as "the mystery note," recently sent by the state departments to the Mexican foreign office, is understood to have related to these forgeries. First news of this puzzling communication came in dispatches from Mexico City. No officials in Mexico City or Washington in a position to know the contents of the "mystery note" would supply any information on the subject. It now appears that there were two "mystery notes," one addressed to the Mexican government by the United States and the other the response of Mexico.

It is now possible to give an outline of the circumstances that led to the discovery of the forgery plot.

How Plot Was Revealed.

George Barr Baker of New York, a former newspaper man, now engaged in other business, is given credit for having brought about the exposure of the plot. Mr. Baker laid the foundation for the exposure during a month's visit to Mexico in quest of newspaper material. He is understood to have been there from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15.

Mr. Baker called on President Calles shortly after he reached Mexico City. According to the account given of the interview their talk of the strained Mexican-American relations led into a discussion of the allegations that the Mexican government was bolshevist in its tendencies.

Part Genuine, Part Forged.

President Calles declared that bolshevism had no chance in Mexico while he was president and referred to what he termed the belligerent attitude of the United States toward his government. To support his assertion he produced photographs of messages which purported to have been sent by officials of the United States government, including Secretary Kellogg, to representatives of the United States in Mexico. It is said some of these messages appeared to be addressed to James R. Sheffield, the American ambassador to Mexico.

It is intimated that some of the messages were originally genuine communications of American officials with the addition of forged interpolations of a bellicose character, but this also is not clearly known. Whether any of the messages were in cipher code is another circumstance not disclosed.

Some of the messages appeared to be instructions from the state department to the American ambassador. Others contained discussion of military and political conditions in Mexico and the United States.

President Calles, according to information now disclosed, interpreted them as convincing evidence that the United States was planning a war on Mexico or seeking to foment a revolution in that country. Some of the messages, it is said, indicated that the United States contemplated putting up a candidate for president of Mexico and supporting him as it was supporting the authority of President Diaz of Nicaragua.

Mr. Baker was amazed over the photographic copies of the papers shown to him by President Calles. He expressed the opinion that they might not be genuine and suggested that President Calles bring them to the attention of President Coolidge.

Averts Serious Break.

Nothing has been ascertained to show whether President Calles communicated with the United States government on the subject, either directly with President Coolidge or through the ordinary channels of diplomatic intercourse.

What stands out is that the discovery that these messages were forgeries relieved a situation that probably would have led to a serious breach in the relations of the two countries.

BATTLE FLAG OF CIVIL WAR DRAPES COFFIN OF 'GOOD WILL' FLYER

Traverse City, Mich., March 27.—[Special.]—A battle scarred regimental flag of the civil war draped the casket of Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey, U. S. army aviator killed in the Argentine on America's "good will" flight a month ago, when the captain's body was buried with full military honors at his boyhood home, Northport, Mich., this afternoon.

Across the flag was printed "Woolsey Post, No. 93, Grand Army of the Republic." The two surviving members of the post, which was named after Capt. Woolsey's grandfather, killed in the civil war, presented the emblem to the Woolsey family as a tribute to the grandson's memory.

SCOLDED FOR 5 A. M. PARTY, GIRL SHOOTS HERSELF

Runs Into Mother on Way to Church.

Staying at a "perfectly decent party" until 5 o'clock in the morning resulted in a severe scolding from her mother and caused 18 year old Margaret Wichman of 2853 North Ashland avenue to shoot herself yesterday.

She was taken to the John B. Murphy hospital, where it was said she would recover. The bullet entered her left shoulder.

The gathering she attended was a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Laurie at 1325 Wolfram, Margaret said, and the pastimes enjoyed, she recounted, were "so respectable that we didn't even play kissing games." Meeting her on the way to church in the morning, her mother upbraided her, so that when they reached home the girl went sobbing to her father's room, where she secured his pistol and shot herself.

Mrs. Margaret Gebford, 18, of 7019 South Maplewood avenue, swallowed a quantity of poison yesterday afternoon after her husband had accused her of keeping an appointment with another man on Saturday night.

She was discovered shortly afterward and police rushed her to the German Deaconess hospital. She was revived and sent home a short time later.

EXPECT DECISION IN LAKES LEVELS CASE THIS FALL

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—The long drawn out litigation over the right of Chicago and Illinois to a water diversion from Lake Michigan may be decided by the United States supreme court some time this fall.

It was learned today that Charles Evans Hughes, special master in the lake level suits instituted by Wisconsin and other lake states, expects to complete his study of the evidence and submit his conclusions, findings and recommendations to the supreme court early in June.

Lawyers representing the state of Illinois, the Chicago Sanitary district, the allied Mississippi valley states and the complaining states have been instructed to have their oral arguments prepared within thirty days after the conclusion of the hearings now being held by Mr. Hughes. The hearings will probably be concluded Wednesday.

ACCEPTS OFFER TO RIDE IN AUTO; HELD FOUR HOURS

Mrs. Lucille Collingsworth, 23, of 1610 West Harrison street, accepted an invitation early yesterday to ride with four men in a green automobile. They held her a prisoner for four hours, attacked her and robbed her and tossed her out of the car at 37th place and Homan avenue.

She asserted that she believed them when they told her, at Halsted and Harrison streets, that they would take her home. She resisted when one of the four attempted to attack her and the others aided him to beat her into submission. A drink of liquor was also forced on her, she declared.

The Brighton Park police found her wandering in the street in a dazed condition a short time after she was released.

FOUND DEAD IN GAS FUMES.

Anton Kral, a butcher, was found dead yesterday in the gas filled kitchen of his home at 1650 Cullerton street. Four burners of a stove were open. The police were unable to learn a motive for suicide.

ORGANIZED LABOR FOR WM. E. DEVER

for Mayor

Mayor Dever's Position

Capital and Labor have had long years of mutually destructive warfare. There is a rapidly growing belief, in America, at least, that this constituted a social error of the first rank. Employers now know that both individually and nationally, prosperity depends upon as a first necessity a fair living wage to the worker, that he must be made not only a producing machine, but a consumer. Unless the worker is comfortably housed, clothed and well fed, and with a wage sufficient to provide these material things as well as to provide for the education of his children and an opportunity to enjoy life, national prosperity cannot endure. In the attainment of this end I faithfully promise my most active assistance.

William E. Dever, Mayor

During the administration of Mayor Dever the workers have enjoyed an unprecedented period of prosperity. Municipal improvements initiated and carried out during his term of office provided uninterrupted employment for thousands of Chicago wage earners and these civic improvements were done on a one hundred per cent trades union basis.

Mayor Dever's re-election would insure the completion of the vast number of contemplated improvements among which are the straightening of the river, the widening of many streets, the paving of over five hundred miles of new streets, the starting of the subway (the legal obstacles of which have been removed by this administration), many school buildings, several bridges, three new municipal buildings, and many others too numerous to mention and would provide continuous work for thousands of workers. The completion of these projects under his administration would be a guaranty to the workers that they would continue to enjoy prosperous times under fair conditions.

Mayor Dever is the first mayor in Chicago's history to hold a membership in a trades union. Forty years ago he first joined Local Assembly No. 1810, Tanners and Curriers of the Knights of Labor. He held continuous membership in his organization until he entered public life, receiving at that time an honorary membership card which he now carries.

Chicago Trade Unionists are justly proud of his public career which includes a period of ten years as alderman, thirteen years as judge, and four years as Mayor of Chicago, and during all of this time he has always proven himself a consistent and sincere friend of all men and women who toil.

He has been striving constantly to establish a more harmonious understanding between employers and employees, and Mayor Dever's work in this respect is reflected in the fact that during his administration there has been an almost total lack of industrial disturbances such as prevailed during previous administrations.

MAYOR DEVER IS OPPOSED TO THE IMPORTATION OF UNDESIRABLE LABOR FOR THE PURPOSE OF BREAKING DOWN THE WORKING CONDITIONS AND WAGES OF CHICAGO LABOR.

Mayor Dever has consistently favored the performance of the maintenance work for the City of Chicago by day labor.

His staunch advocacy for a wage rate to maintain American standards of living for all wage earners has won him the commendation of many trades union conventions.

Mayor Dever's fight for re-election is the battle of every working man and woman in Chicago. To safeguard your home and your family's welfare we urge you to do everything possible to secure the re-election of our friend. Mayor Dever's re-election means a continuation of prosperity and tranquil labor conditions in Chicago.

DEVER DID DELIVER

10,000 YANKS A DAY GO OVER THE RIVER TO DRINK

Juarez Popular; Called a Hellhole by Pastors.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

JUAREZ, Mexico, March 27.—Described by all preachers in the southwest as "the worst hell-hole in America," Juarez is booming and thriving, thanks to prohibition in the United States and the Mexican laws permitting gambling in all its forms.

In 1917 the population of Juarez was 7,000; in 1927 the population is 27,000. The reason is: prohibition north of the Rio Grande, fermentation south of the Rio Grande.

The street cars to Mexico run every five minutes. Capacity is about 100 persons. From morning to 9 p. m. they are crowded. There is an endless stream of automobiles across the international bridge. You can see the colors and read the numbers of every state in the Union. As many as 12,000 persons a day have slaked their thirst and lost their silver dollars on the two main streets of Juarez.

No Drunkenness in Town.

But there is, strange to say, no drunkenness in Juarez. The other day your correspondent mingled with 10,000 persons, mostly men and women who attended the cattlemen's convention in El Paso, and went across the river for a barbecue. Altogether there must have been 12,000 persons drinking and gambling that day and evening, and there was not a single case of serious drunkenness, not a single old-time fight or any of the old-fashioned disorderly scenes of pre-Volstead days in Chicago or New York, not to mention present festival days.

Another strange thing: many persons complained of the gambling. The said the roulette wheel and the faro bank and various poker games were a shame and a disgrace, and how could the Mexican government claim it was civilized when it allowed such flagrant gambling to go on. But no one protested about the 84 saloons along the two main streets. Of the 84 saloons, 50 are first class. Of the first class saloons Americans own or operate just 50.

Women Stand at Bars.

The saloon men have various theories about why Americans drink and don't get drunk in Juarez. Thousands are having the first pure non-worry whisky in years and thousands rave over the fact they can get real beer which is scarcer in the states than good whisky. But they do not abuse their happiness.

The saloon men are of the opinion that the class of tourists who come to El Paso from all parts of the United States and who face the prospect of a dry return soon, are the sort who never would get drunk at home in the old days and who realize that a jag in Juarez won't make the future any brighter.

A feature fo Juarez drinking is the presence of women customers. The familiar "family entrance" signs abound, but at the Tivoli, which is the Monte Carlo here and other big places you will find wives accompanying their husbands to the brass rail, blowing the foam with the same dexterity and wiping the sawdust from their shoes. It is something like drinking in France or Germany where there are no swinging doors, no secrecy, no atmosphere of committing a moral crime—and incidentally no drunkenness.

El Pasans are the chief complainants about the Tivoli. This gambling house, one of the show places of America, seems to do a bigger business than Monte Carlo. They say that two days of the cattlemen's convention netted the house $25,000 which is about 625,000 francs, or a larger sum than Monte Carlo, with its swell fixtures and evening dress croupiers, takes in.

On the roulette table your correspondent counted 9,000 silver American dollars and 17 Mexican silver pesos. It seems as if Juarez is draining America of silver dollars.

The stud poker game limit is $5; draw poker, $10; the 21 game limit is $25 and the faro game, $10. There are three tables of a peculiar three-dice game for pikers with nickels and dimes and four tables with a big dice game with a minimum of $1.

El Pasans say the Tivoli takes $4,000 to $5,000 a day away from U. S. citizens. They think the beer and whisky situation is all right because it attracts thousands of persons to the Texas town who live in the El Paso hotels, buy clothes in that town and go to its theaters, and who spend a few dollars for booze and enjoy it. But El Pasans believe millions of dollars are flowing into Mexico which ought to stay on the north bank of the Rio Grande. They say you can't beat the Juarez gambling.

Losers Have to Walk Home.

Well, the men who run the gambling tables say the same thing. They point to the slot machines, which, incidentally are without exception Chicago make, and say the roulette and card and dice games are almost as mathematically mechanically certain to skin you as the Chicago machines. And it is true. Only one man is known to have made a clean up this year, a Texas cattleman who got $11,000, all in silver pieces and who threw the lot to the poor of the town.

Unlike Monte Carlo the Tivoli does not pay your way home when you go broke, but there are always big hearted westerners to take you along. Unlike Monte Carlo there is no suicide's cemetery. There may be more real money changing hands here but it is not such a serious business. Except that it gets so much silver away from El Paso.

PAN-AMERICAN FLYERS ARRIVE AT GEORGETOWN

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, March 27.—(AP)—The United States army Pan-American airplanes arrived here safely today from Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana. The three planes left Cayenne, French Guiana, yesterday and arrived at Paramaribo later in the day. Their next destination is Port of Spain, Trinidad.

The planes, the St. Louis, San Francisco, and San Antonio, covered the 210 miles between Paramaribo and Georgetown in 2 hours and 20 minutes.

Maj. Herbert E. Dargue, flight commander, said that after flying over so many miles of jungle and swamp lands, the flyers were greatly impressed by the many signs of civilization in British Guiana.

The aviators were welcomed by an enthusiastic crowd and were received by officials and consular representatives here.

Sudden draughts in a hot room cause stiffness

Relieves Stiffness Caused by Chill

Pressman tells how newspaper workers keep fit

The pressmen working in a newspaper office at Dorchester, Mass., used to have great trouble with rheumatic stiffness owing to frequent sudden draughts of cold air when the doors were opened to take in rolls of paper.

One of their number began using Sloan's Liniment and now they all chip in to keep Sloan's always on hand for the entire shop.

"After my day's work I put a little Sloan's Liniment on my back and legs. It never fails."

Apply Sloan's gently, without rubbing. Right away you feel the comfortable, glowing warmth as the new blood is brought to the sore spots, and soon the aching stops. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents. Dr. Earl S. Sloan, 113 W. 18th St., New York.

CREDITS ZONE MERCHANDISING AND THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

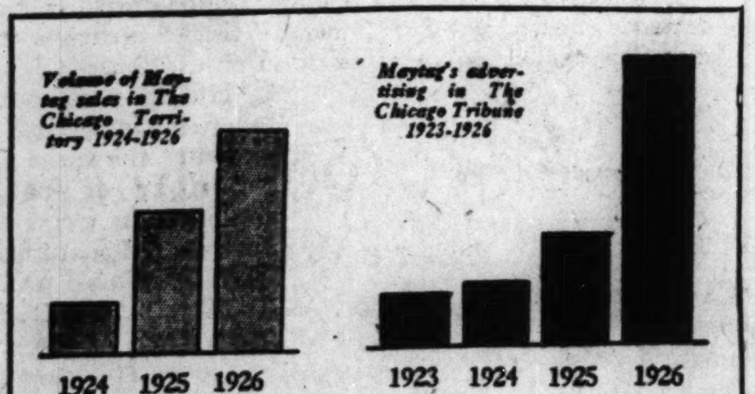
FROM $1,000,000 in 1920 to $53,000,000 in 1926. Sales of the Maytag Company show this amazing gain! After thirty-two years in business, sales of this company reached the figure of $1,000,000 in 1920. Then the sales barometer went wild. Each year for the next six years sales doubled the record of the previous year.

Up to the year 1920 Maytag had stood fifth or lower in the washing machine industry. Then he decided to try new outlets for his product. He divided the country into sales territories, and studied the possibilities of each zone. He established branch offices and local warehouses. He started to advertise in The Tribune and other metropolitan newspapers. After six years of intelligent merchandising the Maytag Company is today doing 40 per cent of all the electric and engine power washing machine business in the world.

In 1924 Maytag's zone campaign hit the Chicago Territory. A schedule of 6,300 lines was ordered in The Sunday Tribune. Sales that year were $2,518,801 in the Chicago Territory. In 1925, 17,300 lines were used, costing $21,625. Sales were $4,532,147. In 1926, 27,000 lines, costing $33,750, were used in The Tribune. Sales were $11,774,675. The net results of Maytag's three years of Tribune advertising effort in a virgin territory were: Business here jumped from $2,041,484 in 1923 to $11,774,675 in 1926—an increase of 476 per cent in three years. Maytag sections were opened in ten Chicago department stores. One hundred and eight new dealers were opened in Cook county, and twelve Maytag stores were established in Chicago; 141 additional dealers were secured in cities outside Chicago but covered by The Tribune; $45,000 was spent by dealers last year advertising Maytag in local papers.



"When we came into this territory," writes F. L. Maytag, "we concluded to rely on The Tribune, and we were right. The Tribune has shortened by years the time required to reach a point of dominance in sales in the Chicago Territory. Our 1926 lineage records show that we have again more than doubled our business in the Chicago Territory.

"Since the time we started to develop the Chicago Market we have considered The Tribune an integral part not only of our advertising program, but of our entire merchandising and sales policy."

A glance at the lineage figures proves that other appliance manufacturers have found in The Tribune a sales source unequaled elsewhere. In 1926 The Tribune carried twice as much household utility lineage as the next Chicago paper, and 82 per cent as much as all the other Chicago papers totaled together.

F. L. MAYTAG

"I have followed the news columns of The Chicago Tribune for many years before I was in a position to ascertain for myself its tremendous advertising value. Since the time we started to develop the Chicago Market we have considered The Tribune an integral part not only of our advertising program, but of our entire merchandising and sales policy. It is only natural, too, in order to show our appreciation to our hundreds of resalesmen who are in the field bearing the brunt of the selling job, that we should want to buy the best help for them that we could possibly obtain.

"At this time I wish to acknowledge the assistance given our organization during the year 1926 by your advertising department."

F. L. Maytag

Chairman of the Board of Directors—Maytag Co.

Many another manufacturer of household utilities, of vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, of stoves, sewing machines, kitchen cabinets, dish washers, or any product bought for the home, could duplicate Maytag's success by applying his methods. Place your product, material or equipment before the buyers of this market, where 20,000,000 people live in a 200 mile radius. Their net income is eight billion dollars! Here, at the head of the richest valley in the world, is the richest market in the world—rapidly growing cities and towns—1,151 of them, covered by one great medium—The Chicago Tribune.

The net of the experiences of other successful merchandisers is yours for the asking. A phone call or a letter will bring a Tribune man to your office.

From $1,000,000 sales in 1920 to $53,000,000 in 1926!

Maytag's story should be an inspiration to other manufacturers seeking large sales volumes!

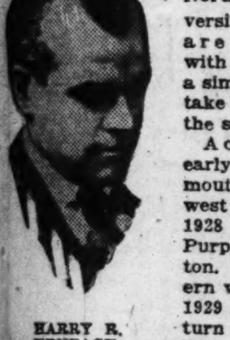
PURPLE MAY PLAY HARVARD, MAROONS BOOK TIGERS

INTERSECTIONAL HOME AND HOME GAMES PLANNED

U. of C.-Tiger Series to Start in 1929.

Northwestern has booked home and home football games with Dartmouth for 1928 and 1929, and is attempting to arrange a similar series with Harvard. University of Chicago and Princeton have signed contracts for home and home games in 1929 and 1930.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.



HARRY R. HENEAGE.

Having completed arrangements for home and home football games with Dartmouth for 1928 and 1929, Northwestern university officials are negotiating with Harvard for a similar series to take place during the same seasons.

According to early plans, Dartmouth will come west in the fall of 1928 to meet the Purple at Evanston. Northwestern will go east in 1929 for the return engagement. The proposed agreement with Harvard calls for the Purple to play in Cambridge in 1928 and for the Crimson to come to the Purple stadium in 1929. The arrangement will insure two great home games for Northwestern in 1928 and 1929.

Hanley Favors Games.

Announcement of Northwestern's arrangement with Dartmouth was made last fall when Harry Heneage, supervisor of athletics at Dartmouth, held conferences with K. L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern. Although Northwestern officials remained silent on the games, it is known that the Purple and Green elevens will clash during the seasons of 1928 and 1929.

Richard Hanley, the new gridiron coach at Northwestern, is so elated with his material that he urged the home and home series with Harvard. Hanley, who is friendly with Arnold Horween, the Harvard coach, expects the series to be arranged, while the Purple football players say the games have already been contracted.

Seldom Come West.

If Harvard agrees to play Northwestern at Evanston in 1929 it will be one of the few trips west a Crimson eleven has ever made. In 1920 Harvard went to the coast to meet Oregon.

Many teams from the middle west have journeyed to Cambridge, but the Crimson never would agree to a home and home series. Michigan met Harvard in the east when Johnny Maulbetsch was the Wolverine star. This year Purdue and Indiana will play in Cambridge.

Coach Hanley has a good knowledge of eastern football. While coach of the Haskell Indians he took the Redskins into the east almost every year.

MAROONS PLAY TIGERS

A. A. STAGG.

Princeton and the University of Chicago will resume football relations, it was announced yesterday by Director A. A. Stagg. The Maroon team will play at Princeton in 1929 and the Tigers will come to Stagg field in 1930. The two teams met in 1921 and 1922, Chicago winning 9 to 0 at Princeton and Roper's team winning at Chicago in 1922, 21-18, in one of the greatest games of the year.

Chicago has a contract with Pennsylvania which has two seasons to run, the Quakers coming to Stagg field this year and again in 1928, in return for two Maroon trips to Philadelphia.

Princeton also has another western rival in Ohio State, playing the Buckeyes this year and in 1928.

Prof. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the faculty athletic committee of Princeton, and Graduate Manager Murray recently came to Chicago for a conference with Athletic Director Stagg and offered to resume the annual games. Stagg was willing, and the Chicago board of athletic control ratified the agreement.

Warren High in Class Shoot at Lincoln Park

More than fifty trap shooters participated in the 100 target event at the Lincoln park traps yesterday. W. G. Warren broke 97 clay birds to win in class A. H. Kuhlman shattered 97 to win class B; George Schimmelpenig broke 89 for first in class C; Sam Sutton was high in class D with 86. Other high scorers were A. W. Becker, J. Samuelson, and J. R. Graham, with 97 apiece.

A. H. Schulte, with 46, won the doubles event, and Charley Winninger was second with 45.

FARRELL, GOLDEN PLAY 18 HOLES FOR THAT FIRST PRIZE

Atlanta's $4,000 Check at Stake.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WALTER HAGEN.

Atlanta, Ga., March 27.—With the conclusion of the southern open championship the exodus of the nation's keenest golden eagle golfers was well under way today, a few of them going to their jobs, but most heading for the last big show of the winter season, the north and south open at Pinehurst, N. C. That is, all were leaving except the three who finished highest in the tournament which ended yesterday.

Bobby Jones, whose 281 for 72 holes won him a silver medal, because he is an amateur, makes his home here, and Johnny Farrell and Johnny Golden, who tied for first among the pros, aren't leaving because tomorrow afternoon they'll play 18 holes over the Eastlake course to see which gets the $4,000 check for first prize among the pros and which the somewhat smaller check of $1,750 for second.

Meighan Gets in This, Too.

Coincidental with the departure of Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, both of whom finished far down in the $100 and $50 prizes, came the anouncement of another "grudge" match over the 36 hole route at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., next Sunday. Despite Hagen's defeat of Sarazen in Florida recently by the decisive score of 8 and 7, the fact remains Sir Walter has yet a win a match from Giuseppe on northern greens.

The story goes that Thomas Meighan, the motion picture actor, who is a friend of Sarazen, is the motivation for the match.

In view of the fact that the gallery and, sonsequently, the gate at White Sulphur will be small, this seems not unreasonable. The "grudge" angle, however, is likely to give a smile to the cynical, for Hagen rode up to Atlanta from Florida in Sarazen's car and they shared a five room suite at the Biltmore during the tournament.

Prof. Hagen's Psychology.

Meighan is said to feel that Sarazen again was the victim of the Haig's psychology on the last match. The tale is this: Hagen was expected to run down and practice on the course, which he had never played before the match, but as the days rolled by no Hagen appeared, and finally Sarazen became worried for fear Walter wasn't coming. There was a goodly gate to be considered.

The day before the match Walter came in, but instead of going out to play a round on the course he sent out his caddy with a steel tape measure, hiring two other caddies. Hagen's aid carefuly ran his steel measure over the course, murmuring, "Ah ha! One hundred and fifty yards to the pin—mm—mm——" and then making many cabalistic figures in a little bok. He said nothing, but the indication was that Hagen knew where every shot was going. Naturally, the story got to Sarazen, and Sarazen took a most painful licking.

Whether this is an example of goat getting de luxe, or whether it was only a keen press agent's plant, is more or less of a question.

Soccer Fans, Players Riot at Newark

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 27.—The third game of the Uruguayan soccer team's tour of the United States ended in a riot in David stadium in Newark this evening. The fiery Scarone of the touring team was beaten on a play by Green of the Newark club of the American Soccer league. Immediately Sacrone began striking right and left with his fists. Others joined him and most of the 2,000 spectators rushed out on the field and for fifteen minutes fights took place among players and spectators.

Finally the players were escorted to the clubhouse, the referee was led off the field by policemen, and Newark, having scored a goal after 18 minutes of the second half, was declared the winner.

Just what action will be taken by the United States Football association is not known but it was stated by local officials that the referee's report would be presented to the board and that drastic action likely would be demanded.

Canadian and Sparta Soccer Teams Win

Sparta and the Canadian club came through with victories yesterday in Midwest league soccer games. At De Paul field, the Canadians upset the Bricklayers, 2 to 0, and the league leading Spartans trimmed the Thistles, 2 to 1, at 27th street and Kostner avenue.

The victory of the Canucks came as a surprise. Strengthened by a newcomer, A. Young, the Canadian eleven played a clever game. Young scored the first goal while Jimmy Corbett, a former Bricklayer, counted the other.

Sparta Rally Wins.

Sparta was extended by the Thistles, who at one time led the league leaders, 1 to 0. Graham Gardiner put the Scots ahead by scoring a penalty kick ten minutes before the half, but three minutes later Pete Mair evened the score. Adolph Burger counted the winning goal in the second half when he kicked the ball out of scrimmage past Howitt. Lineups:

Montrenaud, 25 to 1 Shot, Wins French Steeplechase

PARIS, March 27.—(AP)—Louis Alric's Montrenaud, at the long odds of 248 to 10, won the 100,000 franc Prix Du Printemps steeplechase at Auteuil today. G. L. Redmond's Datura was second and Dikran Kelekian's Bien Fait third.

WEST SECTION K C TEAMS WIN FIRST OF FINAL GAMES

6,000 Attend City Cage Title Contests.

Two west division and two south division teams advanced into the second round of the Knights of Columbus basketball league championship series yesterday by winning their opening contests at the 132d Regiment armory. More than 6,000 spectators, one of the largest crowds that has ever seen a local basketball game, watched the play.

Hennepin, west division champion, ran up a 46 to 16 count on Oak Park of the southwest section, leading 25 to 6 at the half. Cunningham with six baskets and a free throw and John Winterhalter, with one less ringer, topped the scoring.

Damen Starts Fast.

A dazzling passing attack by Damen netted three baskets in the first forty-five seconds and started that team off on a rampage that ended with a 50 to 20 victory over St. Francis of the southwest division. Each team was a second place winner.

Fort Dearborn of the central division was eliminated by Aquinas of the south in a bitterly fought battle, 26 to 20. The south siders got off to a 13 to 9 lead at the half, and although their opponents several times came within a point of tying in the second period, always managed to pull ahead. Nash's five free throws and five baskets accounted for more than half his team's points.

Calumet Wins 31 to 16.

The speedy Calumet quintet, champion of the south division, received a tough argument from St. Patrick's of the central, trailing at one time during the first half, but finished up fast to win out, 31 to 16. Lineups:

Shoots Self Following French Rugby Defeat

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTPELLIER, France, March 27.—After his team from the local rugby club lost the championship of France to the Racing club of Narbonne this afternoon, Pierre Wisser shot himself. He had played a magnificent game, but when the team lost he reproached his teammates, went home, got a gun and fired it through the roof of his mouth. He will probably die.

Pick College Athletes for Honor Roll

The collegiate honor roll, composed of the athletes who made the best performances in track and field competition last year, is published in the new almanac of the National Collegiate A. A., which is just off the press.

The track and field committee of the National Collegiate A. A. went to much effort to verify the records.

The honor roll is made up of the following athletes, five having been chosen for each event:

AARON WARD.

Dallas, Tex., March 27.—The 1927 Texas tour of Comiskey's Texas heroes ended this afternoon with one of those dull thuds. The Dallas Steers were unlucky because they didn't get more than their four runs and the White Sox were fortunate to get their two. Although it was the fourth defeat the Sox have suffered in their spring exhibition series, it was the first to really cause those who have the club's interest at heart to become apprehensive.

The Sox made a total of four hits. Two of these were made by Aaron Ward, one by Peckinpaugh, and one by Connally. Peck's effort, after a three base error which actually allowed Sheely to run 270 feet to third on what should have been an easy out, was the only one that meant anything. Passes and errors enabled the Sox to fill the bases twice, and in the eighth two were on with none out. But these situations offered no inspiration to our vaunted sluggers.

Falk and Kamm Hitless.

Capt. Kamm and Bib Falk, who started today's game with southern batting averages above .400, and Bill Barrett, who was playing roughly with pitchers until he arrived in Dallas, simply couldn't function.

Ike Boone, who holds the all time season batting record for the Texas league, also drew a zero in the hit column. In view of the double trimming that the boys have received during their three day stay in Dallas, the fact that the club is returning tonight to Shreveport for another week on their training lot is looked upon by Manager Schalk as a satisfactory state of affairs.

While other American league clubs are facing touring handicaps, Schalk and his two coaches, Lena Blackburne and Frank Roth, will be able to start all over again with the morning drills at headquarters. In addition there will be games against the Shreveport team before the club starts north.

Play Charity Game.

Tomorrow afternoon the game at Shreveport will be played for the benefit of the United Charities. Tuesday will be an open date and so will Thursday and Friday. Then the Sox are booked solid until the day before the opening of the flag race at Cleveland on April 12.

CHARLEY GRIMM.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—Capt. Charley Grimm, the baritone with the German silver throat this afternoon rendered a tune all his own entitled "California Here I Go." But before departing Capt. Charley passed out cards in the form of two home runs and two singles, these being the highlights of a 10 to 5 Cub triumph over the Hollywood Stars in the major leaguers' final appearance of the year on the west coast. It was the fifth Cub victory in nine exhibitions in the local park.

It was well for the usually reliable Charley Root that Capt. Grimm was rendering a tune pleasing to Chicago ears, because the star right hander wasn't quite himself. Ordinarily Root can locate the plate blindfolded but today, at least in the first couple innings, he was wild, and the Stars hopped on him for four runs. Then he found himself and from the start of the third to the end of the sixth, when he was excused, only one additional tally was marked against him. This was a home run by Anderson in the fifth. Percy Lee Jones southpawed the last three innings.

Four Cubs Score in First.

Grimm's vengeful attitude toward the ball appeared to stimulate everybody in the batting order, Hartnett and English excepted. Adams got three singles, Heathcote chimed in with a double and two singles, Webb with a brace of one basers, and Freigau with three of the same variety. Hack Wilson tried hard to maintain the pace established by his mates, but he singled only once and on two occasions he fanned.

Due mainly to Grimm's first homer the Cubs jumped off with a lead of four runs in the opening inning. Adams started by drawing a pass off a lad named Mulcahy. Heathcote flied out, but Webb wormed his way to base on four wide pitches; then Wilson contributed his sole single of the day, a hot liner over first base that sent Adams scooting home. Next came Grimm with his robust smack that nestled among the patrons in the right field bleachers.

Heathcote Steals Second.

The Stars started to whittle down the Cub advantage by getting one tally in their half. Then they landed on Root with both feet in the second inning, three runs scoring.

Mulcahy's flinging kept the Cubs in subjection until the fifth when they took a one run lead. Heathcote's single, his steal of second and Grimm's hit turned the trick. Hollywood tied it again in their half on the ball that young Anderson slapped over the left field barrier.

The Cubs broke the tie in the sixth with two runs. Root's single, Adams single and a two bagger by Heathcote brought the tallies. Another pair registered in the eighth. With one out Adams singled. Heathcote also singled and when the right fielder fumbled, Adams scored and Heathcote hiked to third. A hit by Webb scored him. The only other Cub tally was Grimm's second homer into the right field bleachers in the ninth.

Chicago leaves here tomorrow morning for El Paso where the Cubs play the Amarillo team on Tuesday.

SEATTLE BEATS GOOFS

SEEK ANOTHER TAYLOR CLASH WITH CANZONERI

Mullen and Rickard Bid for Scrap.

Bud Taylor of Terre Haute and Tony Canzoneri of New York, who boxed ten rounds to a draw with the world's bantamweight championship at stake at the Coliseum Saturday night, may be rematched today to fight for the title at one of the local baseball parks early this summer.

Promoter James Mullen, who staged Saturday night's show, will attempt to sign both fighters for the return engagement. He is reasonably sure of securing Taylor's signature, but may meet with some obstacles in signing the Italian.

Rickard Wants Match.

Eddie Long, manager of Taylor, and Sammy Goldman, who looks after the interests of Canzoneri, received offers yesterday from eastern promoters, including Tex Rickard of New York. Tex wanted to buy the last match from Mullen, and now that Bud and Tony went ten rounds to such a slashing draw the battle will be even more attractive in the east.

The fight was the principal topic of conversation among boxing fans yesterday. There were just as many who thought Canzoneri was entitled to an edge as there were Taylor enthusiasts who were positive Bud had the shade.

Promoter Loses on Show.

It was a great show, but the crowd was not as large as some had predicted.

The receipts, according to Mullen, were about $38,000. He says he will lose about $5,000 on the show. His next series of bouts will be held in the Coliseum on April 12, but the card had not been arranged.

Tiger Jack Burns and Joey Thomas will be the principals in the windup of the boxing show at Lincoln gymnasium, 1019 Diversey parkway, tomorrow night. They will box eight rounds to a decision and weigh 120 pounds. Five other bouts complete the card.

Harry Forbes, Ohio bantamweight, and Harold Smith of the stockyards are billed for the windup at Eagles' hall, 5247 West Madison street, Thursday night. Joe Medill and Ralph Mendoza will mingle in the semi-windup, which will be supported by four other contests.

Eight amateur bouts will be conducted at the Broadway armory tonight.

Kenny Leads Interstate Cue League by 6 1-2 Games

Len Kenney, playing brilliant billiards last week, won all his four games and remained on top in the Interstate Three Cushion Billiard race. He has a six and half game lead over Art Thurnblad. Allen Hall holds third place, while Angie Kleckhefer is in fourth place with a two game advantage over Earl Lookabaugh.

Bell to Fight European Bantam Champion May 5

New York, March 27.—[U. N.]—Archie Bell, New York bantam, who defeated Johnny Vacca of Boston at Chicago Saturday night, has accepted an offer for a 15 round bout with Teddy Baldock at Albert Hall, London, May 5. The bantamweight championship of Europe will be at stake.

Sun Meddler Easy Victor in $10,000 Tia Juana Futurity

TIA JUANA, March 27.—(AP)—W. S. Kilmer's entry, Sun Meddler and Sunchen, ran one-two in the Tia Juana futurity here today. Our Adele, owned by William Daniel of Chicago, was third. The distance was 5 furlongs and Sun Meddler won easily by three lengths while Sunchen beat Our Adele for the place by but a neck.

The value of the purse to winner was $10,510 and for second place $1,250.

Sun Meddler, ridden by Jockey Eddie Taplin, was off to a good start but Peralta was the leader until well out of the chute, where the colt quit. Sun Meddler dashed into the lead as they straightened out for the stretch run. Sunchen was back during the early running, as was Our Adele, but both made a race out of it for place. The winner was the favorite, paying $5.80 in the two dollar mutuels.

Henrietta Wildaire fell approaching the three-quarters pole.

MONDT, MUNN TO GRAPPLE IN BOUT TONIGHT

Two Other Matches on Card.

Joe Mondt and Wayne Munn, heavyweights, will meet in the windup of Paddy Harmon's wrestling show at the Dreamland arena, Paulina and Van Buren streets, tonight. It will be a finish match, best two in three falls, conducted under the rules of the Illinois athletic commission.

Munn and Mondt met in a time limit match at a recent show at the Dreamland and Mondt was given the decision. Wayne then asked Promoter Harmon for a return finish engagement, and he arranged the match, which will start promptly at 10 o'clock.

Mondt is no longer under the management of Billy Sandow, who has piloted Champion Ed Lewis for so many years. Toots now is handling his own business affairs and hopes to eventually meet Lewis in a finish bout for the world's title.

Alex Garkowienko and Ed McGuire will take holds in the semi-windup. The other matches will bring together Marin Plestina and Joe Komar and Jim McMillan and Buck Olson. The show will open at 8:15 o'clock.

Pyle and Grange Plan Ice Hockey League on Coast

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—[Special.]—C. C. Pyle and his football partner, "Red" Grange, have added to their professional sport ramifications. "Cash and Carry," who already has entered the football and tennis fields as the champion exploiter of athletic phenoms, today announced the purchase of the Winter Garden Ice palace.

His plans contemplate the enlargement of the palace, the staging of big league hockey matches there, and the formation of a California league of four teams, with franchises in Los Angeles, Hollywood, San Francisco, and Oakland.

MRS. HOOVER'S CHOW BEST DOG AT KENNEL SHOW

Awarded John C. Eastman $1,000 Trophy.

Choonan Brilliantine of Manchover, a chow owned by Mrs. H. Earl Hoover of Glencoe, Ill., was awarded the gold medal, emblamatic of the $1,000 John C. Eastman in Memoriam trophy, as the best dog exhibited at the twenty-sixth annual dog show of the Chicago Kennel club, which was concluded last night at the First Regimental armory, Sixteenth and Michigan.

Mrs. Hoover's chow received the award in competition with 1,156 dogs of more than 40 breeds.

Champion Cito v. d. Marktfeste, a regal shepherd owned by Mrs. Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge, New York, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, won the award as the best of his breed and in so doing he whipped one of the greatest arrays of shepherds ever shown in the middle west. The champion is valued at $10,000.

Judge Bitten by Dog.

The wirehaired fox terrier entries of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bondy, Golden Ridge, New York, were victorious in the specialty show of the Chicago Fox Terrier club held in conjunction with the Kennel club show. Gain's Great Surprise, hailed as the most nearly perfect of her breed in the world, took best in the winners' classes as well as best of breed in the show.

Mrs. Elizabeth Trass, Chicago, gave an exhibition of courage when she continued to serve as judge of shepherds after being bitten on the right wrist by Edie, a powerful shepherd owned by the Elenor kennels of Fowler, Ind. The judging was halted while Mrs. Trass received medical attention. The awards yesterday follow:

BIKE RIDERS GO EAST TO START OUTDOOR SEASON

Next Race in October at Harmon Stadium.

With the exception of the Chicagoans, the riders who took part in the six day bike race at Dexter Park pavilion last week, left yesterday for the east to prepare for the outdoor season, which will open at the Newark velodrome next Sunday.

Paddy Harmon, local promoter, and John Chapman of New York, who staged the race, said a little money was made, but that the event was not the financial success of those conducted at the Coliseum. According to Harmon, the race was put on primarily to keep faith with the bike fans, as it was announced last October that another six day event would be held in March.

The next six day race will be held in the new Harmon stadium which is to be built on the west side in October, Harmon stated. Every effort will be made to secure the services of the best riders in the world.

Franco Georgetti, who won the race last week with Carl Stockholm of Chicago as a partner, intends to go to his home in Italy and may not return until the indoor season in the fall. The little Italian asserted he does not care to ride with Reggie McNamara in future races, as Reggie gets all the credit for their victories.

New York U. Students to Control Athletics

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—The student body at New York university received further recognition in the control of athletics with the formation today of an undergraduate board of athletic control. Nine students comprise the board. The undergraduate board of athletic control will work in conjunction with the faculty board of athletic control.

This modern age knows that Camel goodness is dependable

THIS modern age is the hardest to please ever known, and it delights in Camel. The smokers of today find tobacco enjoyment in Camels, for their goodness always is so dependable. The choicest tobaccos, and the most superb blending known to the smoking art are Camels.

In Camel you will find out what modern smokers demand—a smoothness, mildness and mellowness that you've never known before. That's why Camels never fail to meet the strict, exacting demands of present-day smokers. This modern age knows the sure call to smoke enjoyment: "Have a Camel!"

42 PREP BASKET TEAMS EN ROUTE TO MAROON MEET

Forty-two basketball teams, representing nearly every state in the Union, will begin to gather at the Midway today for the ninth annual University of Chicago interscholastic tournament, which opens at Bartlett gym at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Last minute shifts in the personnel of the tournament, and sending of invitations to the winners of the Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota championships, have been occupying the attention of Coach Fritz Crisler, and John McDonough, undergraduate manager of the meet.

New Jersey Champs Enter.

Colorado Springs, Colo., has canceled its acceptance of its invitation to enter the tourney, but a new entry from an unexpected source bobbed up to compensate this loss, when Bridgefield high school of New Jersey, which defeated Passaic for the state title, accepted after a previous refusal.

The New Jersey entry set a new record for the present meet, as it swelled the total of states sending teams for the first time to the meet to five. The other states sending teams for the first time are Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Virginia.

Texas Five Arrives.

With the exception of the two local entries, Englewood high school and Deerfield Shields of Highland Park, every team competing in the meet comes as the state champion, or runner up. In two cases, a state is sending two teams to the meet where the champions beat out the runner up by one point. These states are Arizona and South Dakota, the former sending Safford, the title holder, and Gilbert, the runner up, and the latter sending both Huron and Aberdeen.

Athens, Tex., the Long Horn entry, went through unusual hardships to reach the Midway, but finally landed safely after a fifteen hundred mile trek in a pair of Harold Teen flivvers. On the other hand, the town of Alpine, Tenn., a village of 300 mountaineers, which is sending a team north, proved more of a threat than an amusement to the Maroon authorities by offering to accompany their favorites en masse.

St. Cecelia Loses 25 to 15 in Forester Cage League

St. Monica upset St. Cecelia, 25 to 15, yesterday in the fourth round of the championship tournament of the Catholic Order of Forester basketball at St. Rita gym. This leaves Hofbauer undefeated with four games won and none lost. Hofbauer defeated St. Sabinas, 23 to 9. Englewood clinched fifth place by beating Carmelite, 40 to 29.

'Fidelio' Gives Elmer Treat in Opera Form

Beethoven Works Sung with Real Beauty.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Yesterday's journey for this ether traveler began with a tabloid production of Beethoven's only opera, "Fidelio," on the Lyon & Healy program, W-G-N, 2 to 3, by Zerline Muhlman Metzger's opera class. I was completely taken by surprise at the pristine beauty, grandeur, nobility, and simplicity of the work, also the charm and effectiveness of the singing. I am hastening to beg the station and the singers to give a repeat performance.

These few words are written in greatest admiration for dazzling thirteen year old Mildred Waldman, piano soloist on the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra concert, North Side Turner hall, W-G-N, 3 to 5. That intangible thing, genius, is surely with her, and in a profusion that only time can measure. One easily senses this in her playing of Chaminade's concert piece in C minor, Liszt's 15th Rhapsody, and her other shorter pieces.

A gem of a broadcast, which fortunately needs only be mentioned in this column, was the New York string quartet concert, Goodman theater, WMAQ, 3:30 to 5.

The Palmer House Sunday symphony program, WJJD, 4 to 5, was devoted to American composers. And MacDowell's Second Concerto, with Pansy Liberfarb as soloist, gave this hour a marvelously deep, rich color and with more than a touch of glory for American music.

The piano recital by Moissaye Boguslawski, KYW, 4:30 to 5:30, contained the Beethoven "Moonlight" Sonata and one other piece in memory of the Beethoven centennial. Mr. Boguslawski has not only solved the mystery of the inner minds of the great music masters, but he has solved the matter of radio technique.

Stanley Martin's organ recital, Sunday Evening club, WMAQ, 7:40, was the most imposing recital that I ever heard him express from that great instrument.

Conspicuous was Chopin's last published work, a sonata for cello and piano (opus 65), but in this instance transcribed for violin and piano, and played by Godfrey Ludlow and Lolita Gainsborg, WJZ-KYW, 8 to 8:30. It is an impressive work, but the piece loses, not gains, by the transcription.

The joint recital by Edith Mason, Chicago Civic Opera company prima donna, and John Corigliano, concert violinist, from New York, W-G-N, 8:15 to 9:15, was immensely interesting. Miss Mason sang with a vivacity almost unknown to radio, by sheer force carrying her audience along with, almost ahead of, her.

FOUR DIE WHEN GIRL AUTO DRIVER GROWS CONFUSED

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 27.—[Special.]—Four persons were killed and another probably fatally hurt today when a girl driver bewildered, drove an automobile into the path of a Pere Marquette locomotive near Grandville, five miles southwest of here. The dead:

WILLIAM AMES, 45, of Grandville.

WILLIAM AMES JR., 7.

FLORENCE AMES, 15, niece of William.

CLIFFORD AMES, 8, nephew of William.

Another son of William Ames, Floyd, 21, is in a hospital here. His skull is fractured and it is believed he will not recover.

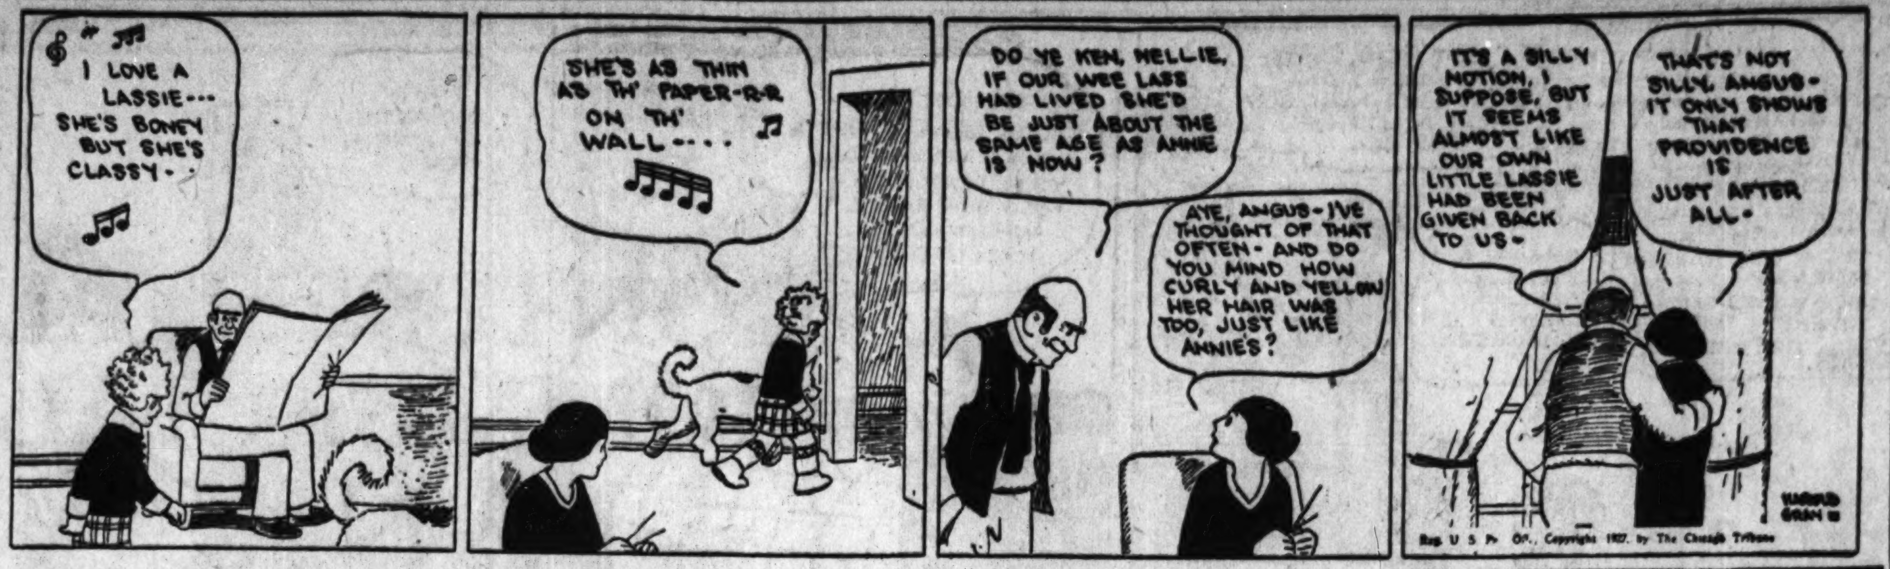
CHINESE FETE SOLONS, JUDGES, AND MINISTERS

The Chicago chapter of the Chinese-American Citizenship alliance entertained prominent judges, golfers, legislators, preachers, and their wives last night with yinwall bird nest soup, minced wall-eyed pike yeugoon, chicken guidang, and Hawaiian song.

The occasion marked the tenth anniversary of the founding of the local chapter of Chinese, who by virtue of their American birth are eligible to vote. Of the 600 Chinese voters of Chicago about 100 were at the banquet held at 202 West 22d street.

Among the guests were Chick Evans, golfer; Lieut. Gov. Fred Stirling, Senator John Dailey, Senator Adolf Marks, Judges William R. Fetzer, Howard Hayes, Harry B. Miller, Director of Labor George Arnold, and Herbert Auw.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: A Happy Thought



I LOVE A LASSIE--- SHE'S BONEY BUT SHE'S CLASSY-
SHE'S AS THIN AS TH' PAPER-R-R ON TH' WALL----
DO YE KEN, NELLIE, IF OUR WEE LASS HAD LIVED SHE'D BE JUST ABOUT THE SAME AGE AS ANNIE IS NOW?
AYE, ANGUS-I'VE THOUGHT OF THAT OFTEN- AND DO YOU MIND HOW CURLY AND YELLOW HER HAIR WAS TOO, JUST LIKE ANNIE'S?
IT'S A SILLY NOTION, I SUPPOSE, BUT IT SEEMS ALMOST LIKE OUR OWN LITTLE LASSIE HAD BEEN GIVEN BACK TO US-
THAT'S NOT SILLY, ANGUS- IT ONLY SHOWS THAT PROVIDENCE IS JUST AFTER ALL-

GIRL EVANGELIST ELECTIONEERS AT REVIVAL MEETING

Electioneering for God and the grand old party of heaven, as she herself expressed it, Uldine Utley, the fervent juvenile evangelist who has been attracting thousands to her every meeting at the Coliseum, pleaded last night with a congregation of 6,000 in the north annex, to cast their ballots on April 5 for the man who would most nearly represent that party and stand firm on the planks in its platform.

Invitations had been extended to all three of the mayoralty candidates, but only one, Dr. John Dill Robertson, was present. When introduced by Uldine, Dr. Robertson gracefully declined to enter into an election oration, but spoke with some vehemence of the necessity of knowing the character of the candidate for whom one votes. It is considerably more satisfactory, he stated, to cast a vote conscientiously for the man the voter believes will best serve the city, than to climb on the bandwagon of another just because some one else thinks he has a chance to win.

Converts at the meetings yesterday brought the total number recorded during Uldine's revival here to 600.

LITTLE CONCERN OVER PROXIMITY OF COAL STRIKE

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—The coal strike due to begin April 1 is being faced with a fortitude in government and industrial circles that is markedly at variance with the concern shown over the industry's labor convulsions in previous years.

One reason is disclosed in certain dry columns of statistics relating to production of union and nonunion coal mines.

In 1919 and 1922, when the miners downed tools, mines normally responsible for producing 65 or 70 per cent of the country's soft coal ceased functioning. Further, among the 35 per cent of nonunion mines, substantial proportions were shut down in sympathy.

On April 1, when the 1927 strike call becomes effective, it is not probable, labor department officials say, that as much as 35 per cent of the normal coal production will be stopped.

Coal consumers will have on hand something like 80,000,000 tons of coal, stored for emergencies, a quantity which is officially estimated to more than make up for any shortage the strike may create.

After each of the national strikes the unionized coal area has contracted and the nonunion area has expanded. Since 1922 the process has gone on steadily.

The New York Times.

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—The probable course of American trade and industry during the rest of 1927 continues to be discussed, three months after the beginning of the year, with much the same doubts and qualifications as became familiar at intervals in 1926.

There is this much of difference in attitude—that whereas last year's doubts were apt to envisage the possibility of severe reaction because of some unfavorable elements in the situation this year's appear to be mostly based on the question whether business activities and profits this year can equal those of a year ago.

So far as the trade statistics show, they have not done so thus far in the year, and it is not at all impossible that they will fail to do so in the rest of the year.

Production Somewhat Smaller.

In some important branches of industry, production and consumption certainly have been smaller this year than a year ago; building construction and motor car output are instances in point. It must, however, be remembered that the comparison is exacting.

We know now, on the basis of abundant evidence, that 1926 was a year of wholly exceptional industrial achievement, and notably so in its earlier months. Last March was a month in which output of steel in response to visible consumptive demand ran beyond all precedent.

Building construction started during the year's first quarter, was 25 per cent in excess of the year before, although 1925 as a whole, had broken all records. Production of motor cars in the same three months was greater by nearly 12 per cent than the large output of the year before.

Change of Pace Not Surprising.

That the pace should have slackened thus far in 1927 is no occasion for surprise or concern unless on the stock exchange, where a level of prices substantially higher than a year ago might possibly be construed as having reflected expectation of a further increase of trade activities. The more essential consideration is that, even with visibly reduced volume of trade as compared with a year ago, production and consumption still is immensely large. Even for January, a month now commonly described as disappointing, the reserve board's "index" of industrial production works out six per cent above the monthly average of 1923 to 1925 inclusive, and production of manufactures 4 per cent higher on the same comparison.

In pre-war days, the circumstances which would occasion decreased buying of goods in the United States, resulting either in a temporary halt or in prolonged reaction of trade, were well understood and classified. Such a change in the situation was expected when the harvest failed or agricultural prices became unremunerative.

Old Portents Were Clearer.

It would occur when severe money stringency had upset the plans both of merchants and producers. Sudden curtailment of overproduction in manufacturing establishments, for that or other causes, throwing large bodies of workers out of employment always would cut down buying. Political disturbance, with resultant apprehension of trade disturbance itself would check buying. Rapid and general fall in prices of goods sometimes would check purchases, as it did even at the beginning of 1919—not because the consumer objected to cheaper merchandise, but because the merchant feared that if he were to buy today, his competitor might get the same goods tomorrow at a lower price.

For an exactly opposite reason an extravagant advance in prices would often reduce demand for goods; it did so notably in the "consumer's strike" of 1920 which was not a pre-war year but whose character placed it half way between the old time business seasons and those which have grown familiar since 1921.

But Times Have Changed.

It is one of the curious aspects of the present period in finance and trade, however, that none of these causes seems to operate. Agricultural hard times we have had with us during all the recent years of abundant prosperity, but the straightened condition of the farmer has not seemed to affect the general welfare; the old tradition that good times in American trade depended on prosperity on the farms has apparently lost its force.

We have had no spell of actual money stringency since 1921. Merchants' loans have ranged all that time between 4 and 6 per cent, a rate which used to be considered "easy money" and with the steady expansion of commercial and financial loans, there has been no sign of a change—largely because of the equally continuous heaping up of gold in the bank reserve. Nobody seems to be disturbed over the political outlook.

Limit on Future Trading Desired by Government

Placing of a limitation on size of lines, long or short, and upon the extent to which an individual may buy or sell in one day, is necessary, according to officials of the grain futures section of the department of agriculture. This is given in a report on the study of trading in May wheat in 1926. In addition it seems advisable, the 'report says, to place some limitation on the extent to which prices may fluctuate within a single day.' The grain trade and farmer desire stability, it is said, and supply and demand should have a greater degree of importance than future trading.

Standard Oil of Kansas.

P. M., Hampshire, Ill.—Standard Oil Company of Kansas reports net income of $163,203 for 1926, or less than one-third the net income of $494,296 in 1925.

This was equal to 51 cents a share on the $8,000,000 capital stock of $25 par value in 1926, against $1.54 a share in 1925.

Profit and loss surplus stood at $636,936 at the end of 1926, as compared with $473,734 at the close of 1925.

The company has paid no dividends since June, 1924.

The stock is a speculation at present.

We cannot predict the course of the market.

Gimbel Brothers' Sales Increase, Profits Drop

Net profit of Gimbel Bros., Inc., amounted to $3,357,570 in the year ending Jan. 31, 1927, a decrease of $798,380 from the preceding 12 months, the annual report, issued yesterday, revealed. Sales totaling more than $122,000,000 were the largest in the history of the concern.

North American Company to Vote on Stock Increase

New York, March 27.—(AP)—Stockholders of the North American company will vote April 25 on a proposed increase in common stock from 6,000,000 shares, $10 par, to 10,000,000 shares, no par; also an increase in preferred from 1,200,000 shares to 2,000,000 shares, $50 par. It is proposed to raise the redemption price of the preferred from $52.50 a share to $55.

President Frank L. Dame explained the proposed change in common stock from $10 par to no par, conformed with the program the directors have had in mind for years. If approved by stockholders, common stock without par value will be issued share for share in exchange for present common.

Factory to Consumer

MANUFACTURING communities produce goods for the whole country—they consume but a fraction of their own production.

Food producing communities consume quantities of manufactured commodities—they produce almost none.

Manufacturing to be economical must be constant, non-seasonal. Food production and farming community purchasing ability are seasonal. Manufactured goods must, therefore, be stored.

America has developed quantity production at low cost but has not developed economic distribution. "A shorter, smoother and cheaper route from maker to user means an added profit for both."

The modern Terminal Warehouse provides this "shorter, smoother and cheaper route."

Bonds secured on Terminal Warehouses are insured by economic necessity

Bond Salesmen

We will employ three or four experienced bond salesmen to sell our first mortgage gold bonds.

Men who are now selling Industrial and Public Utility securities will be especially interested in our proposition.

We always have on hand enough conservative securities to keep our sales force busy. This is an exceptional opportunity for young and aggressive bond salesmen. Call Central 6383 and arrange with Mr. Wade for an appointment.

All interviews are strictly confidential.

CHINA, BALKANS ARE DAMPER ON LONDON MARKET

BY SIDNEY CAVE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, March 27.—Events in the near east, the budget bogey at home and the general political anxieties combined successfully to dampen the enthusiasm of financial interests and the stock exchange markets in particular this week. The uncertainty regarding the outcome of the difficult fortnightly settlement, for quite heavy differences had been met in some sections, also proved a restraining influence.

China, naturally, was the most disturbing element, with the result that little attempt was made for new business and few real activities are expected in the current account, or at least before the budget is out of the way, April 11.

The high class investment securities market was disturbed by the poor results of the issue of the £6,000,000 London county council 4½ per cent loan at 93½, the underwriters being left with 80 per cent of the stock. The poor response from the public naturally affected other British funds, which fluctuated during the week, although there was no material change in the market values shown at the close.

Foreign Issues Affected.

The political uncertainties materially affected foreign government securities. The possibility of a disturbance in the Balkans produced a reactionery tendency in several continental counters, including the Bulgarian 7 per cent loan and the Greek refugee issue, which were marked down appreciably, although the week-end saw some recovery. Chinese bonds weakened on the news of the Cantonese success, the 5 per cent 1912 bonds being especially flat.

Brazilian bonds, exceptionally, found favor, notably the fives on the appreciation of prospects following the restart this year of the redemption of purchases at par.

Home Rails Improve.

Home rail traffics are improving and the prices of the stocks gradually crept up, with the southern group denominations the disappointing exception. Argentine rail stocks were good. United Havana Railways weakened a couple of points to 77 on the announcement of a new offering of debenture stock.

Better conditions were noticeable in the market on the more popular industrials. Leading tobaccos, particularly Imperials, have rallied, newspapers are better, textiles are firm generally; the iron and steel group sagged; Dunlops were good, and shipping was influenced by Cunard's dividend increase to 6 per cent.

South African mines were more active on the good support from Johannesburg, while Brussels operators actively assisted the Tangeryicka market. Rubber was quiet and oil was irregular.

Despite the generally restricted nature of the business, however, the undertone of the market on the whole was comparatively firm. The speculative positions have been materially reduced, the dealers not being overburdened with stock. With better news from the east a sharp recovery in market values is expected.

WHEAT REACHES EXPORT LEVELS; SALES INCREASE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat prices have dropped to an export level for domestic, hard and red winters and springs, particularly for the winters.

Good high protein wheat is needed by European consumers to mix with Argentine grain, the latter having a low percentage of protein, although it is of heavy weight. High grade protein wheat is most needed. Corn is down to where export sales have been made. All grains are lowest of season and the situation is healthier.

Wheat values have been too high for big export business, and with values down on the proper level as result of heavy liquidation, the market is more two sided. Traders believe that it would be for the best interests of all to have a further decline to enable exporters to take wheat more freely.

Wheat Movement Holds Up.

At present, the movement is a good average for this season, taking the total primary receipts, and there is enough wheat in the world for all requirements, and to leave a moderate surplus at the end of the season, although supplies in the aggregate are not burdensome. European importing countries are said to be accumulating wheat stocks to bring them up to the normal, hence their takings of late have been large, although world's shipments the last week have fallen off materially.

There has been a break of around 11c in May wheat in Chicago from the recent high point, with the low figure last week $1.31½ or 7⅝c under the previous week's high, while July has dropped 6¼c. A rally due to short covering and a change in sentiment by some of the big operators made the week's finish ½@⅝c net higher than a week ago, with May wheat $1.34¾@1.34⅞; July, $1.29⅝@1.29¾, and September, $1.27¾.

Winnipeg May closed at $1.40, or 1⅞c higher than a week ago. May at Kansas City finished at $1.27½, or ¼c higher for the week, with July at $1.23⅝, or ⅝c better than a week ago. The latter price means close to $1 to the Kansas farmers for a new crop. Prices for the week follow:

May Corn Close to 70c.

May corn dropped to 70⅞c last week, establishing a new low for the season, with a break of practically 7c from the high of the previous week, and ½c lower than the inside figure of the same week last year. Two years ago corn broke 10c during the week, with the low $1.07¼. A rally, due largely to short covering, brought the price up later to 73c, with the finish Saturday at 71⅞@72c, with July 76⅝@76¾c, and September at 80@80⅛c, recording net losses of 1⅞@2c for the week.

Industrial consumption of corn has not been sufficiently large to cut into the unusual supplies, although with the smallest primary movement at this season for five years or more, and should make a more rapid decrease.

Outside buying power is limited and those who are long have suffered losses, and may not come into the market until it shows a more healthy condition. Prices for the week follow:

	May.	July.	Sept.
Mon.	73½-74⅝	78 -79	82 -82⅜
Tues.	72¼-74½	77 -78⅛	80⅝-82½

Liquidation in Oats.

Liquidation carried oats for May delivery down to a new low for the season, 42c, but they were back to 44c three days later.

A better cash demand is reported from various quarters and No. 2 white oats bringing 2c to 4c over May and are scarce. May oats closed Saturday at 43⅞@44c; July, 44¼@44⅜c, and September, 43⅝c, showing net losses of ⅝c on the nearby futures and a gain of ½c on September. Prices for the week follow:

Rye dropped to the lowest prices in months, with a complete recovery on the May on export buying, and a net gain for the week of ⅝@1⅝c, May finishing at $1.01@1.01⅛; July, 99⅝c, and September, 96½c. Export business at Duluth was unusually large, and indications are that Germany will take rye more freely.

Meat prices were strengthened by improved domestic and speculative buying, and short ribs gained 15@30c and bellies 35@40c on futures for the week. Consumptive trade is good for the season, and supplies of hogs are disappointing. The average at Chicago last week was $11.25, the lowest for that period since December, 1925. Trading in lard is limited with the close 5c higher on May and 2½c lower on the deferred futures. Prices for the week follow:

1926 Prosperous Year for Norfolk & Western

Philadelphia, Pa., March 27.—(AP)—The Norfolk and Western Railway company in 1926 enjoyed one of the most prosperous years in its history, according to the annual report, made public tonight. Operating revenues were $120,409,038.37, a gain of $15,190,047.38, or 14.44 per cent. Operating expenses increased $3,292,098.69, the total for 1926 having been $71,226,914. Net revenue from operations was $49,182,124.19, an increase of $11,897,948.69; total operating income, $38,094,792.53, increase $9,439,639.34; net railway operating income, $40,922,150.68, increase $9,411,198.29; gross income, $42,430,648.21, increase $10,039,564.85, and net income, $36,867,406.34, an increase of $10,302,660.18.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Where economy is the goal in gardening it is a good plan to grow both vegetables and flowers, utilizing the entire space from early spring until frost. The combination garden is common on many small city plots where space is limited to only a few square feet. Even in suburbs the combination garden is commonly used.

It is an interesting and profitable pastime figuring out the various combinations of crops, including both vegetables and flowers, that can be grown in a garden during a single season.

Harry C. Pifer of 1620 Lake avenue, Wilmette, Ill., has a plan which he worked out himself that has been found valuable. Mr. Pifer has an early vegetable garden, a midsummer flower garden, and a fall vegetable and flower garden all in one year. His garden is about the size of the average suburban gardening plot.

With such a plan Mr. Pifer keeps his garden working early and late. For example, he plants his double rows of peas far enough apart to put flowers in between them later. Gladioli go well between peas, he finds. Last year Mr. Pifer had 200 varieties and expects to have 250 varieties this season.

The Pifer garden planting plan is so arranged that such early vegetables as peas, lettuce, onions, spinach and beets can be followed with flowers such as asters and zinnias, and later with such vegetables as cauliflower, celery and lettuce.

INVESTORS TAKE BILLION IN NEW ISSUES; ASK MORE

New York, March 27.—(AP)—The unprecedented volume of new offerings since the first of the year at last has been virtually digested. So well have dealers' shelves been cleared of new bonds that many of them were reported to be calling for more new issues. Consequently interest in the market again swung around to contemplation of offerings in prospect. Forthcoming state and municipal issues are attracting considerable attention in Wall street, among them several of formidable proportions.

The eight year improvement program which Detroit is planning has gathered its share of attention. The Michigan city contemplates the construction of new transit systems, street improvements, and municipal building which will entail expenditures of nearly $400,000,000. Chicago likewise is considering a more immediate improvement program, and the proposition of issuing about $21,000,000 in bonds.

The Ohio legislature has before it a project of submitting to the voters an issue of $25,000,000 to defray the state's share in the elimination of railway grade crossings. Missouri law makers have in the making a constitutional amendment to enable the state to borrow some $120,000,000 to complete its hard roads program.

New York's remarkable ascendency over London as a bond market created some comment during the week. New issues here since the first of the year have totaled well over a billion dollars, while offerings in the British capital in the first two months amounted to less than £21,000,000, or roughly $104,000,000. London floated only two so-called major issues, or loans of $20,000,000 or upward, while New York floated 19 such issues in the same period.

Of the more than a billion new issues in New York since Jan. 1, nearly a fourth has represented new railroad financing. The total to date, approximately $221,000,000, is already within $90,000,000 or so of the total for 1926.

CARGO WEIGHTS TELL PANAMA CANAL'S FUTURE

BY HARPER LEECH.

Why should ships traversing the Panama canal from Pacific to the Atlantic have heavier drafts than ships going from the Atlantic to the Pacific?

The answer to that in a recent study in the Panama Canal Record, emphasizes again the tremendous advantages the seaboard strips of America derive from the canal. Cargoes from Pacific to Atlantic are composed of heavy raw materials, iron ore, nitrates, wheat, mineral oil, etc.—raw stuffs for the manufacturing industries of the eastern seaboard or food for their workers. The cargoes going the other way consist of finished goods very largely—either not so heavy intrinsically or incapable of being so closely packed into a ship's cargo space.

It is notable that the vast majority of ships using the canal draw less than 25 feet, the depth proposed for the first lakes to sea channel. Yet ships carrying iron ore from Chile to eastern seaboard steel plants, drawing 33 and one-half feet, make the canal trip with perfect ease.

The average draft of ships traversing the canal from east to west for 1924, 1925, and 1926, respectively, was 21.3, 20.8, and 20.8 feet. The average for the same years in the other direction was 24.6, 24.5, and 24.6. These figures do not indicate a general trend toward ships of lighter draft. The high average for 1924 was caused by the enormous tanker traffic that year caused by the great California outburst of oil in the Los Angeles fields.

Except for that tanker traffic, the general trend of freight movement via the canal is steadily upward, as western railroads know—$100,000,000 worth in a single year, according to a recent study by Franklin Snow.

As Uncle Sam is now such a great transportation magnate on the isthmus, the question becomes germane as to whether he should use advanced corporate methods in carrying on that business.

The modern corporation, when it can, finances extensions out of earnings—it sometimes piles up a surplus with a long look ahead toward improvements or replacements.

At the present rate of increase the construction of another canal either at Panama or in Nicaragua, or a vast increase in the facilities of the present canal, possibly its conversion into a sea level ditch like Suez, without locks, is inevitable. This job may indeed be necessary within 20 years. Why should not the toll rates of the canal be so adjusted, not only as to pay interest on the present investment as any well managed corporate enterprise would do, but also to provide a surplus which with accruing interest would finance the new construction, which increasing trade makes inevitable sooner or later?

The fact that such charges would not only be sound and advanced financing, but also a matter of equity to midwestern industries and transcontinental railroads, ought to make their adoption even more desirable.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Pennsylvania in 1926 handled the greatest freight traffic in its history, according to a compilation of the year's business just completed for the forthcoming annual report. There were 28,706,042 separate individual shipments of freight. Approximately 97 per cent of the total tonnage was represented by carload traffic.

Net railway operating income of the Illinois Central for February was $2,516,542, after all charges and taxes, a decrease of $65,222, according to the monthly statement which will be issued today. Gross railway operating income was $14,316,872, a decrease of $51,331.

The gross receipts of the British railways for 1926 declined £29,262,000, or 14 per cent, from those of the previous year and the expenditures declined £11,924,000, or 7 per cent, while the net receipts, including miscellaneous income, fell off from £17,956,000, or 43 per cent, according to advices received from London.

The annual business meeting of the Traffic club of Chicago will be held tomorrow in the Hotel La Salle between noon and 6 p. m.

Daniel W. Kelly, since 1923 superintendent of the Milwaukee terminal of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, has been appointed general superintendent of the middle district, it was announced Saturday. He succeeds the late W. J. Fields. Starting as a brakeman, Mr. Kelly served in various capacities at Green Bay, Portage and Mason City, Iowa.

The New York Central is in the market for 3,500 freight cars and 121 passenger cars. The Wabash railroad has placed orders for $1,500,000 worth of equipment.

CHICAGO BANKS' REPORT SHOWS FINANCIAL POWER

BY O. A. MATHER.

At the beginning of spring, Chicago's financial institutions stand in strong position to meet the usual heavy agricultural and commercial demands which the season brings. While there has been a general contraction in loans and discounts, total deposits, and savings deposits since the end of 1926, the showing compared with a year ago is one of general expansion.

Deposits usually decline in the late winter when the country banks withdraw their funds from deposit with the city banks in preparation for spring credit demands. At the same time, the city banks usually reduce their loans and discounts. But the fact that both loans and deposits are larger than a year ago evidences the active business year recently completed and suggests an active condition of current trade.

Based on Bank's Figures.

This general analysis of the situation is gleaned from statements of condition as of March 23 submitted by the banks in response to calls for reports of condition made yesterday by the controller of the currency and the Illinois state auditor. The last previous call was as of Dec. 31, 1926, and the call a year ago was of April 12.

The composite statement for all Chicago banks, compared with the end of 1926, shows the following declines: Loans and discounts, $56,541,000; total deposits, $104,948,000; cash resources, $103,858,000; and savings deposits, $5,585,000. Loans and discounts of the national banks declined $29,476,000, while those of the state banks receded $27,065,000. Total deposits of the national banks declined $52,714,000, and those of the state banks fell $52,234,000. Cash resources of the nationals receded $47,103,000, while the state banks dropped $56,755,000. Savings deposits of the nationals increased $932,000, but those of the state banks declined $6,517,000.

Shows Year's Prosperity.

But the full force of last year's general prosperity and trade activity is shown by comparing the current statements with those of a year ago. The composite statement for all Chicago banks shows the following increases: Loans and discounts, $54,323,000; total deposits, $40,939,000, and savings deposits, $12,517,000. Cash resources declined $40,030,000.

The increase in savings deposits is evidence both of good employment conditions and high wages and thrift on the part of wage earners. Such deposits of the state banks increased $10,561,000, while those of the nationals gained $1,956,000. Loans and discounts of the state banks expanded $40,050,000, and those of the nationals increased $14,273,000. Total deposits of the state banks expanded $30,050,000, while those of the nationals rose $10,889,000. Cash resources of the state banks declined $20,639,000, and those of the nationals fell $19,391,000.

I.C.C. Favors S.P.R.R. Use of Oregon Trunk Trackage

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—The way has been cleared for final negotiations started by the interstate commerce commission for joint use by the Southern Pacific company and the Oregon Trunk railroad of the railroad line from Bend to Klamath Falls in central Oregon in line with the commission's policy to encourage competition without unnecessary duplication of facilities.

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

These Debentures will be free from the Pennsylvania Personal Property Four Mills Tax.

The Company will agree to reimburse to owners of Debentures resident in Connecticut the amount of any Connecticut Personal Property or Exemption Tax, not exceeding 4/10ths of 1% on the face amount thereof in any year, paid with respect to such Debentures, and to owners of Debentures resident in Massachusetts the amount of any Massachusetts Income Tax, not exceeding 6% of the interest thereon in any year, paid with respect to interest on such Debentures, but in each case only upon application made in the manner to be provided in the Trust Agreement and subject to the terms and conditions to be therein set forth.

The following information has been furnished to us by Mr. Frank H. Smith, President of the Company:

Lawrence Portland Cement Company, incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1898, owns a modern cement plant located in the Lehigh Valley District, at Siegfried, Pennsylvania, having an annual capacity of over 2,700,000 barrels of Portland cement, and 500,000 barrels of mason's cement. In order to supply more economically the increasing demand for its products in New England, the Company has recently acquired properties in or near Rockland, Maine, and is about to construct a modern Portland cement plant at that point, with an initial annual capacity of approximately 1,000,000 barrels.

The Company has operated at a profit for each year since its incorporation, and has paid dividends without interruption since 1902, the rate having been at least 8% in each of the past thirteen years. For the four years ended December 31, 1926, the net earnings of the Company, after depreciation, but before interest and Federal Taxes, have averaged $749,109 a year, or over 6.8 times the maximum annual interest charges of $110,000 on these Debentures. For the year 1926, such net earnings were $983,093, or over 8.9 times such interest charges.

The Balance Sheet of the Company as of December 31, 1926, before giving effect to this financing, shows current assets of over 4½ times current liabilities, net current assets of $1,458,205, and total tangible assets, net of all liabilities, of $5,610,524. Since that date, the stockholders have subscribed for $1,000,000 of additional capital stock, at par.

These Debentures will be direct obligations of the Company, and will be issued under a Trust Agreement which will include conservative provisions restricting the mortgaging and pledging of the Company's assets or the creation of additional funded indebtedness.

The Trust Agreement will provide for a semi-annual sinking fund, commencing February 18, 1930, sufficient to retire $150,000, aggregate principal amount, of these Debentures per annum.

The production of Portland cement in the United States for each year since 1872 has shown an increase over the preceding year, with the exception of only four years. The importance of cement in the construction of highways and public and commercial buildings and on farms and railways, and the essential nature of these uses, assure the cement industry a stable and increasing demand for its product.

We offer these Debentures, if, as and when issued to and received by us, subject to the approval of our Counsel of all legal proceedings in connection therewith. It is expected that delivery in the first instance will be made on or about April 11, 1927, in the form of temporary Debentures or interim certificates.

Price 98½ and interest, to yield 5.65%

INCREASE SHOWN IN DISTRIBUTION OF COMMODITIES

Washington, D. C., March 27.—(AP)—Industrial output increased during February in anticipation of the usual spring business pick-up and was slightly larger than a year ago, says the federal reserve board's survey of business conditions. Distribution of commodities by railroads was larger during February and March than in any year of the board's experience. A general decline in wholesale price levels was reported, these prices reaching the lowest point since the summer of 1924.

Factory production and employment continued smaller during February than during the same month in 1926. Automobile production increased from 234,000 in January to 298,000 in February, but the total output still is considerably smaller than a year before. The daily average consumption of cotton by mills was larger than recorded in any previous month and was accompanied by decreased activity of woolen and silk mills.

Large volume production of bituminous coal has continued, but anthracite production has been reduced considerably.

Decreases were reported in prices of coal, iron, and steel, petroleum, nonferrous metals and lumber, and the general index for nonagriculture products was at the lowest post-war level.

A CLEARING HOUSE BANK

"THE AMERICAN WEEKLY" IS THE MOST WIDELY READ MAGAZINE IN THE WORLD

One switch controls a world of power and light

IN THE power-house a switch is thrown. Instantly a world of brilliance leaps to life. The strength of a thousand horses is unleashed. Energy flows outward over countless lines to speed the varied processes of living.

In The American Weekly an advertisement is inserted. At once its sales-impulses surge into 5,000,000 homes. 22,000,000 consumers, scattered from Maine to California, are subjected to its stimulating influence. Demand, like an electric arc, flashes from coast to coast.

This is the power which The American Weekly offers you. For this great magazine is like a giant generating plant, from which trunk-lines radiate to fourteen of the most important trading areas in the country. And these main lines, dividing, penetrate into the homes of one-fifth of all the consumers in the United States!

The fourteen trading areas in which The American Weekly has peak circulation constitute the greatest and richest market in America. These fourteen cities, and their economic territories, are concentration points for the wealth and energy of the nation. They have one-fifth of the total manufactures, one-third of the urban population, three-fourths of the bank clearings of the entire country!

The people who read The American Weekly are heavy and consistent buyers. They have a high standard of living; they insist not only upon the necessities of life such as food, clothing and shelter but the more common luxuries, such as cosmetics, automobiles, and moving pictures. They have the money to pay for these things, and they are willing to spend it. Their total annual expenditures run into colossal figures.

There is no other publication, or group of publications, that will reach this tremendous buying public so quickly, so effectively, and at such little cost. Yet, despite its widespread influence The American Weekly is not an expensive advertising medium. Its rates, in relation to its circulation, are the lowest of all large-scale publications. And it is the only national medium in which the advertiser can take a full newspaper-size page in color.

The American Weekly is the switch through which you can cut in on a nation-wide circuit of demand. It will throw power into your sales-campaign, shed light upon your product. Write today for complete information to the nearest office (see below) of the most widely distributed magazine in the world, The American Weekly, A. J. Kobler, President.

Starring Dulcie Jayne

By Virginia Tracy.

SYNOPSIS.

Cornelia Marsh, employed in the scenario department of Hertzog's Perfection Motion Picture studio at Fort Lee, N. J., learns with sorrow that Henry Horner, the head of the department, has been fired by Lyman Hertzog, son of the owner of the studio. Every one knows that Lyman is jealous of Henry because he is in love with Dulcie Jayne, the star of the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland.

Mr. Hertzog suggests to Lyman that they feature Leland as an actor as well as a director and this causes a quarrel between father and son. Old Mr. Hertzog suffers a stroke of apoplexy as a result and Lyman is left in charge of the studio. His first independent action is to discharge Leland, who takes his dismissal coolly, and proceeds to finish a picture he's been working on. Lyman meets Dulcie on location and tries to force himself on her. Benny Rosencrans, Leland's camera man, comes to her assistance.

Cornelia Marsh is detained at the studio by Lyman, after the others have gone, to write a criticism of a play he's interested in. She asks Lyman to let her off because she has an engagement to meet her mother downtown and take her to dinner and the theater as a birthday celebration. Lyman refuses. Cornelia misses the last trolley, but Dulcie Jayne comes along in her car and offers her a lift to the ferry. Dulcie invites Cornelia and her mother to dine with her and she tells Cornelia that she is engaged to marry Henry Horner and that she, Henry and Leland have schemed to break her contract with Hertzog's but couldn't. It contains a clause forbidding her to marry. The only clause in her favor in the objectionable document states that she is to have submitted to her all scenarios passed on by the scenario department. Dulcie writes to Henry and has him submit a scenario which Lyman rejects. Dulcie marries Henry and Lyman starts suit against her. He tells his story to the reporters.

INSTALLMENT LVI.

THE RIOT.

Lyman settled back in his chair and continued his story to the reporters.

"A man don't feel many times in his life the way I felt then! I hadn't ever really expected to get anything like this on her! I the same as had the sharpest kind of whip in my hand and could cut off her and Leland's heads—for of course you've realized all along it was Leland I meant—with one snap. 'Well, my lady,' I thought, 'your papa certainly will tear the heart out of you and eat it before your face for this! What price all the rotten, insulting dirt you've slung at me, now?' Why, the time of night, her father'd only have to ring and have the porters throw Leland right out of the hotel! Right under her eyes! Gee, she'd soon find out what it'd be like to have Lyman Hertzog stand by her or not stand by her! By jinx, I had her where I wanted her now, all right!

"But her papa, of course, was the one to handle the situation. The maid came in again, locking the door behind her, and Dulcie yelped for her to come help pick up the pieces in the bathroom. So I made my getaway as far as the door, unlocked it, scooted through—and then, for some reason, I turned and looked back. Right through, out to the balcony. And coming up over the balcony railing was a hand.

"Say, then I whispered to myself, 'There's a God all right!' There I stood and watched. I can't exactly say whether it was a shoulder or a leg came over next but there was a sort of a heave and then the whole tall shadow of a man stood up on the balcony. He came through the dark into the light room and he wasn't Dan Leland, either. It was this Henry Horner I told you about, the bum I had to throw out of my scenario department."

Lyman's audience gave a stir of freshened interest but he himself seemed stuck in a dead calm. Suddenly he burst out, "I hope you're not going to think my deduction anyways unnatural, gentlemen. Remember my idea still was she expected not him but Leland—I couldn't drop that all in a minute, could I? So I made for old Mack and told him, 'Snap out o' this! You go stand outside her door and don't let anybody out that way. While I speak to the proprietor.' Then, as I turned to send for him, I heard a queer sound.

"It was quite a distance off and then all of a sudden it was close. Not any kind of machine, it turned out, but a roar of mixed yells and curses with musical instruments tootling. You, in your profession, gentlemen, maybe get used to the noise a mob makes. But over in this country anyhow they don't play screechy pipes and drums nor anything crazy that way when they get after people. Down runs one of the staff from an upper window yelling to the proprietor how they were coming in from the desert hollering for money that was owing to them. Then I was on. It was my treasurer's blood they were after!

"'In luck,' I said to myself. For it came to me how much better they could do my job than the hotel could. Henry Horner, making a fool of me all this time, with his beard! Shaving it off today and standing on the corner of the street in a white suit holding her hand! Maybe after all, gentlemen, away down in what you may have heard that modern science calls the subconscious mind, I had an inkling! Maybe I'd had it all along, before I fired Horner, while it was snowed under with what seemed so plain about Leland! Only I didn't listen to hear how it clicked! And now for the showdown!

"By the time the first of them had got round into the street I was in a window over the front door cutting off the interpreter they'd brought with 'em—our interpreter, if you please, Hertzog's had hired—telling him to tell them it wasn't me had done them out of their money; my treasurer'd started out with it but had been attacked on the way and robbed, murdered maybe—I thought he had, you know—but unless I was much mistaken I had just laid eyes on the thief."

There was a tiny piece of ice in the bottom of Lyman's glass; he floated, captured, swallowed it.

"Came Bedlam! 'Now, listen,' I told them. 'Don't take my word; maybe I made a mistake. But about the same time as you could be heard coming in here I saw a man climb up the side of the hotel and hide on that balcony,' and I pointed back through the lobby across the courtyard. When the light from the room there fell on his face I saw it was an old employé of mine I'd discharged in America and who's had a spite against me ever since. I found out today he's followed me over here and been living here in disguise. Maybe he didn't steal my money. Maybe he hasn't got your pay roll. But, if he hasn't, why did he climb up the side of a house when he heard you coming? I saw him climb up like a thief in the night and creep into that room! If he had any honest business there, why didn't he go in by the door? He's hidden there, in that room, now! Ask him where your money is!' I said. 'If he says he hasn't got it, ask him what he's doing there at this time of night. Ask him!' And I didn't have to say it again because, believe me, whatever the interpreter had translated or left out, they had started with a rush to ask Horner.

"By the time I'd chased to my own room and out onto my own balcony to see the show they'd pushed past everything the hotel people could do to hold 'em and were getting through into the court. Nor they hadn't lost track of which were Miss Jayne's windows. They couldn't. Because there was Henry Horner with one leg over the balcony, trying to get down, and there was Dulcie Jayne holding onto him, trying to keep him up.

"Say, I can tell you I never got her number till I saw her then! Even if she was raised in the gutter I'd always stood up to everybody the kid had the makings of a lady. And now she was getting four thousand a week and known all over the globe as an ingénue star, wouldn't you think she'd have shown a little regard for her reputation? Nix, gentleman, not a blush in her! A lown down-and-out piker that's been hiding over here with a beard grown onto him and working for his meal ticket with a lot of niggers that were howling now to lynch him! After they'd caught him in her room in the middle of the night! You'd think she'd be praying for me and her father to save her face. But what reasonable actions can you expect from a girl that's got no shame? There she hung clutched round him, tight as a spider, he arguing, as I know now, to let him get away through the crowd before I recognized him or found out their secret and loosening one of her hands and then the other. She not saying a word but fighting to hold onto him. And more and more of the crowd pouring into the courtyard! So what chance he'd ever had of knocking down the first few and sprinting on those long legs of his was lost already. And the girl still holding onto him like a crab. Till finally he got both her hands off him at the same time and gave her such a shove down she fell onto her knees with the breath knocked out of her."

GASOLINE ALLEY—AN UNEXPECTED CALLER

YES IT IS A BIT OF A SURPRISE, PHYLLIS, BUT I AM ON MY WAY TO LONDON. I SAIL DAY AFTER TOMORROW AND I JUST DROPPED IN ON YOU IN PASSING.
HELENE! IT IS A SURPRISE! AND IT IS A SUDDEN DECISION ON YOUR PART ISN'T IT?
I SAW YOU COMING UP THE WALK AND COULD HARDLY BELIEVE MY EYES, MME. OCTAVE.
YOU KNOW HENRI IS ILL IN A LONDON HOSPITAL AND EVEN IF HE AND I HAVE BEEN SEPARATED FOR SEVERAL YEARS I FEEL IT MY DUTY TO BE AT HIS BEDSIDE.
YOU MUST FEEL THAT IT IS SERIOUS TO MAKE A TRIP LIKE THAT.
YES IT MEANS A VERY SERIOUS ILLNESS WHEN HIS BROTHER VISITS HIM. THEY HAVEN'T HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH EACH OTHER IN AGES. HE IS THERE NOW AND IS THE ONE WHO CABLED ME. I WILL BE THERE IN A LITTLE OVER A WEEK.
I HOPE YOU WILL FIND EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT, HELENE.
YES A WEEK IS A LONG TIME WHEN YOU'RE SICK. HE MAY BE WELL BY THEN.

Story of Savior Beautifully and Tenderly Told

THE PASSION PLAY
OF
THE LIFE OF CHRIST
Presented at the Playhouse.
By the Freiburg Players.
Direction of Dimitri Buchowitski.
Featuring:
Adolph Fassnacht .... as Jesus
George Fassnacht .... as Judas

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

They are telling the story of Jesus over at the Playhouse.

So simply, so tenderly, so beautifully do the Freiburg players present the Passion Play that no sect, no creed, could possibly find in it cause for offense. And their presentation has been screened with such sympathy and reverence that to my mind the picture stands shining alone among all Biblical productions that I have seen.

It is utterly without pretension. Its big dramatic moments are only its big, human ones. They do not occur with fanfare and no brilliant bursts of pantomime distinguish them. They are just THERE to hold your soul still and prayer-locked. You are in the presence of the Savior.

The picture proper starts with Jesus, a man grown, ascending the mountain to talk with the Father. And then, with his disciples, he descends among the people to fulfill his destiny—which has given the world that sweetest, saddest, most tragic story ever told—with the happiest ending.

The Passion Play was first played in Freiburg in 1264. In the seventeenth century it was given in Oberammergau, and has been presented decennially as the result of a vow made by the inhabitants in 1633 on the cessation of a plague.

The players are trained for their rôles from childhood. And those years spent in the atmosphere of the Story have made them livers, not actors, of the parts they portray. You will understand me when you see the picture.

It was filmed at Baden and the photography is not as it would have been had the Passion Play been filmed under Kleig lights. But as you watch you will be in no mood to pick flaws.

It is very wonderful.

And shall have a place by itself in the column this morning.

See you tomorrow!

New Plan to End Radio Jam, Keep All 733 Stations

New York, March 27.—(AP)—Reassignment of radio casting wave lengths in a manner that will bring order out of the chaos can be accomplished within 60 days without disrupting any of the 733 existing stations in the United States, it was contended today by the National Association of Broadcasters and the Radio Manufacturers' association.

Their plan to bring about this result will be presented at a hearing of the federal radio control commission to be held in Washington on Tuesday.

Preliminary assignment of six wave lengths to Canada, the associations said, will take care of at least six major stations in the dominion.

In addition, the Canadians for two years have shared time on 12 other wave lengths, and it is proposed to add four channels to this number. It is contended that these 16 shared wave lengths will be ample to accommodate all of Canada's 86 stations.

From the American share of these channels, the associations said it is possible to accommodate the 36 stations of 500 watt power located in the southern part of the United States and also take care of 150 of the American 50 watt stations without working a hardship on any of them. This would leave 73 exclusive channels for the remaining 547 stations.

Twenty-two of these channels would be used for the 139 existing stations of 500 watts, an average of six stations per wave length. Considering power and geographical location, the associations said this "can in all probability be well worked out." This would leave 51 channels to accommodate the 113 American stations now operating on 1,000 watts or more, an average of a little better than two stations per channel, which according to the plan presents a hopeful situation.

Japanese Children Give Party for Americans

Japanese youngsters in the garb of their native land played host yesterday to American children at the Japanese department, Y. M. C. A., 747 East 36th street. A program of songs and recitations in both Japanese and English was presented by the Nipponese children. The party was suggested as an acknowledgment of the friendly overtures of the American younger generation who sent many dolls to Japan at Christmas time, and was proposed in order to build up the spirit of friendship between the races.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Ralph G. Faxsell, 1006 South Third street, Champaign, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

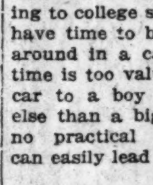
Would you want your boy to have a car if he were at college, and you could afford it?

Where Asked.

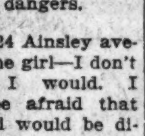
Washington street at Randolph.

The Answers.

E. L. Miller, 4547 North Paulina street, real estate—I would not. A boy going to college shouldn't have time to be riding around in a car. His time is too valuable. A car to a boy is little else than a big toy of no practical use. It can easily lead to many dangers.

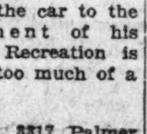


Miss Mabel Simon, 4324 Ainsley avenue, home girl—I don't believe I would. I would be afraid that his mind would be diverted. He would be paying too much attention to the car to the detriment of his studies. Recreation is all right, but a car is too much of a recreation for a minor.



Norman H. Person, 3317 Palmer street, salesman—I would have no objections. I had a car when I was in high school, and enjoyed it immensely. If a boy in school with a car didn't use it in the right way I would place the blame upon those responsible for his rearing, not to the fact that he had a car.

Miss Alice Greene, 3705 Osgood street, stenographer—I don't know; I don't believe I would. If they have too many luxuries when they are in college they don't appreciate them when they get out of school. Things like cars should be earned. Most great people are the greater for the necessity of application.



Isaac Laibovitz, 2309 North Kimball avenue, tailor—I would if the college permitted it. I have a car myself. I also have a young son, and I don't believe that if he were old enough to go to college that a car would do him any harm. Give the boy a good start, then he will face life with a bigger, broader outlook.

Gabrilowitsch and Bauer Give Two-Piano Treat

Audience Sticks Until the Lights Are Dimmed.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

About once a year Harold Bauer and Ossip Gabrilowitsch get together for a program of music for two pianos, and it is generally worth hearing. Yesterday's audience at the Studebaker found it so. The two artists played their whole program and all the extras that they had in stock, even including one that classified as a duet for one piano, and even then the audience would not go home until some one turned out the lights.

It was a somewhat graver program than most two piano programs, but these two pianists, particularly Mr. Bauer, are grave pianists. The glitter of popular entertainment does not enter into their scheme. Not that this has anything to do with the fineness of their playing, which is always, even at its most sedate, efficient, elegant, and with the cool blood of the studio. And though most of their music was of the studio, there was an occasional excursion in their encores, like that of the Arensky Waltz, into something that caused blissful sighs from the audience.

Next door, at the Playhouse, Ruth Radkey was introducing herself as a solo pianist and making a good job of it. Heard in some unaccustomed pieces by Bridge and Blanchet, she disclosed both a satisfactory technical equipment and a point of view that was more than satisfactory. She had definite opinions, good taste, and sympathetic feeling that sounded as though it came from within instead of without.

The New York String quartet at the Goodman was visited during its performance of Haydn's Quartet in G minor, a performance indicating that the organization was bent upon making chamber music popular. This desirable end was being reached through a tone perceptibly larger than that of most string quartets and a manner that gave the impression of trying to transmit something to the audience instead of being self-centered for its own delight. It is a logical and legitimate manner, and those that learn its secret are the ones most likely to succeed with their audiences.

Eric DeLamarter led the Civic Orchestra of Chicago through a performance of Tschaikowsky's Sixth Symphony at Orchestra hall in a way that spelled accomplishment. He wisely omitted the final movement, which is trying at all times, leaving the other three, which are as good music as Tschaikowsky ever wrote, and the young orchestra bore itself with suavity and spirit. The second movement, that of the five legged waltz, was as good a performance as this organization ever gave in my hearing. Lillian Rehberg, cellist, was the soloist of the d'Albert Concerto, but her appearance came at a time when it was necessary to be elsewhere.

3 Chicago Girls Win in Illinois Beauty Contest

Urbana, Ill., March 27.—[Special.]—Three girls from Chicago and suburbs are among the eight voted as the prettiest co-eds on the University of Illinois campus. They were selected by popular vote conducted by Pierrot's first annual "Vanity Fair Beauty contest" during the week-end.

The girls will be ushers at Pierrot's opera, "The Prince of Pilsen," Friday and Saturday nights, and will be presented from the stage on Friday night. The vote was the largest cast in any election ever held on the campus, 3,763 ballots being cast.

Those honored are Miss Cicely Delaney, 6342 Winthrop avenue, Chicago; Miss Helen M. Schraeder, Oak Park [The Chicago Tribune $10,000 peach winner]; Miss Cecile Gilroy, Wilmette; Miss Dorothy E. Bredehoft, Danville; Miss Blanche Todd, La Harpe; Miss Martha Oliver, Urbana; Miss Ann Solon, Champaign, and Miss Bernice Ann Boner, Indianapolis, Ind.

The pictures will appear in the women's issue of the Siren, student publication.

Presbyterians Here Seek Million Dollars for Pastors' Pensions

GEORGE WOODRUFF

The Chicago presbytery, which includes Joliet, Waukegan, and Kankakee, in addition to Chicago and suburbs, has accepted an allotment of $1,000,000 as its share of the $15,000,000 fund for the pensioning of Presbyterian ministers at the age of 65, the widows of deceased ministers, and dependent children. This was announced yesterday by George Woodruff, vice chairman of the National Bank of the Republic, who has been appointed by Will H. Hays, national chairman, as chairman of the Chicago district.

"A total of $9,000,000 has already been subscribed in the territory east of Chicago," said Mr. Woodruff. "The entire amount of $15,000,000 will be subscribed in time to report to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in San Francisco May 25, it is expected.

"Retired Presbyterian ministers now receive only an average annuity of $376. When the $15,000,000 is paid in the average will be raised from a minimum of $600 to a maximum of $2,000.

"The $15,000,000 fund is necessary to provide for the accrued liability due to the varying ages of ministers now active. When the plan is operative the funds will be maintained by the payment of 7½ per cent of the minister's salary by the congregation and 2½ per cent by the pastor. The active canvass for $1,000,000 here will begin April 26."

Company to Market Quarter-in-the-Slot Photograph Device

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, and a group of business associates announced today that they had purchased the control of the photomaton—a quarter-in-the-slot automatic photographing device.

The deal was closed when a check for $1,000,000 was handed to Anatol Josepho, the inventor, a young Russian, who has been in this city for three years. The value placed on the invention was not stated. The million was paid only for the inventor's interest in Photomaton, Inc.

Mr. Morgenthau announced that it was his intention to open 220 studios at strategic points throughout the United States within two years.

Duluth Bishop to Give Week's Lenten Talks

Meetings to Be Held at the Garrick Daily.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Entrance on the fourth week in Lent finds Chicago churches increasingly active in religious services looking towards Holy week and the culmination on Easter, April 17.

BISHOP BENNETT.
[Walinger Photo.]

The Rt. Rev. G. G. Bennett, Episcopal bishop of Duluth, Minn., will speak daily at the noon meetings in the Garrick theater under the auspices of the Chicago Church club. Bishop Bennett is widely known for his work among the Indians of the northwest. On one occasion he was made an honorary chief of one of the tribes. He has held annual convocations with them.

The Lutherans of the Missouri synod, which comprises 98 congregations in several languages in Chicago and vicinity, and represents a national and international church with foreign missions in several countries, will begin a series of noonday meetings at the Adelphi theater, 11 North Clark street. The speaker for the five days this week will be the Rev. Harry Eckhardt, D. D., Pittsburgh, Pa. His subject today will be, "Who Is Christ, Man or God?"

Next week the Rev. Carl Ehlers of Lakewood, O., will speak five times. On Thursday of that week he will speak on "Can Crime Be Curbed?" During Holy week, April 11-18, the speaker will be the Rev. W. H. T. Dau, D. D., president of Valparaiso university at Valparaiso, Ind. On Good Friday Dr. Dau will speak twice, once at 12:05 and again at 12:35.

The Lenten services under the joint auspices of the First Methodist Episcopal church and the Chicago Church federation will begin next Monday at the Chicago Temple, Clark and Washington streets. Representatives of seven Protestant denominations will make the addresses. On Good Friday a three hour service will be held with five speakers, Bishop E. H. Hughes, Dr. A. J. Ferry, Dr. W. A. Morgan, Dr. M. P. Boynton and Bishop S. P. Spreng.

The United Lutherans will hold services at the La Salle theater the five days of Holy week. The Cathedral Shelter will hold daily noon day services during the week. Dr. George Craig Stewart of St. Luke's church, Evanston, will be the speaker tomorrow.

Continuous from 1:30

Exploding thrills, bristling with dizzy innovations of jazzland and done to a delicious blues by Al Short's gang of delirious jazz maniacs, you'll agree the new Schoenstadt's policy of jazz at the Piccadilly is a "whang."

All inmates of Al Short's jazzatarium are generating creepy, weepy, moany, groany spasms that will raise a swell crop of goose bumps on your hide (no matter how thick) bigger than warts on a sprightly dill pickle.

It's a shame King Tut had to kick off so soon and so young. He missed something.

Ted Leary will crack your funny bone louder than the bathroom radiator ever did. He is hotter than any bathroom radiator ever thought of being and if you've ever reached for your slippers in the bathroom you may know how hot that radiator can get.

Dot Johnson, the baby saxophonist of the happy Piccadilly family, will tickle your spine with jazz shivers, Lew Keane will panic your sense of originality with his hoofing (sometimes called dancing) and Ray Conlin, the ventilating ventriloquist, will have you talking to yourself.

The Southland may have given birth to the blues, but Al Short's tribe certainly is giving the child a rare education.

The Manna Loa Serenaders, imported from the west coast as a feature this week, have a line of unstrained jazz that only men who play tiddledy-winks with wild pineapples could possibly create—and that's no pineapplesauce.

The King of Honolulu fainted when he learned the Serenaders had staged a runout on him. He threatens war on the Virgin Islands if Al fails to send the gang back.

But as Julius Caesar once said to his barber. "It took a lot of Gaul to make me famous. So the King of Honna can jump in the ocean."

A flock of other stage features are on and all is gaily conveyed through the fantastic realm of jazzland by the most beautiful and talented girls in the land. Each one passed by Al Short's pure fun and joy act.

Trek of Fashionables to Doll Palace Exhibit Is Like Easter Parade

BY NANCY R——.

The happy combination of bright sunshine, balmy breezes, and a tea for Lady Beatrix Wilkinson brought out what looked like a veritable Easter parade on Michigan avenue yesterday afternoon between the hours of two and six.

Any number of our fashionables might have been observed strolling down the boulevard toward Tobey's, where pleasant company, a cheery cup of tea, and a private view of the wonderful and intricate palace built for Titania, the fairy queen, by Sir Nevile Wilkinson, were the order of the day.

Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick was one of the early hostesses of the afternoon, greeting the guests near the door, escorting them to the starting point of the tour of the palace, and then taking her place at one end of the long tea table. She wore a small black hat and a smart spring frock of satin elaborately patterned in metal thread, with a double strand of pearls about her throat.

Lady Beatrix, who is tall and handsome, was clad in an ensemble of dark blue. She seemed to take no end of pleasure in showing visitors the fine points of the palace, which she and her husband have worked on for more than two decades, and which is still unfinished. The great garden court in the center is her special delight—in winter she says she uses bits of cotton wool for snow, but yesterday it blossomed with tiny flowers and shrubs, with a pink vine, climbing most realistically up one wall, made just the other day by her nimble fingers of seaweed and tinted heath.

Mrs. John R. Winterbotham looked, as usual, like a fashion plate in a dress and hat of deep bois de rose, while Mrs. John H. Winterbotham, another of the hostesses, was in cocoa brown. Princess Michel Cantacuzene wore a printed silk with a fox scarf, while Mrs. Harry Wanner, chairman of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid committee in charge of the exhibition, was wrapped in a leaf green coat with a knot of orchids on one shoulder.

Mrs. Hollister Sturges had one end of the table during the first tea hour, and Mrs. E. R. Fifield was on hand to do her share, while among those who wandered in during the afternoon were the Joseph T. Ryersons, Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw, and her young daughter, Frances Theodora; Miss Elizabeth Baker, Edwin Krenn, Charles O'Connor, and Boyd Hill.

This week's list of hostesses include Mrs. Kenneth Sawyer, the two Mrs. Winterbothams, Mrs. O. W. Hinkley, Mrs. M. P. Cromling, and Miss Grace Bennett.

Day's News in Society

The Onwentsia clubhouse will be the domicile during the summer for Mrs. Granger Farwell of the Ambassador, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Rutter, Mrs. W. F. Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Foster, Robert Stevenson Jennings, Patrick Valentine, William Turner, Richard Bevell, and Frederic F. Norcross. The first arrivals are expected at the club about May 10. The George E. Marcys, James M. Hopkins Jr., Mrs. Caswell Alan Sharpe, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Robbins are to occupy quarters in the club's two cottages.

The engagement is announced of Miss Alice Fuller, daughter of Lucius C. Fuller of Chicago, and Mrs. Cretta Patterson Fuller of Evanston, to Joseph Horton Fall III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horton Fall Jr. of Evanston.

Mrs. Fremont A. Chandler, member of the board of managers for the School of Domestic Arts and Science, is chairman of the arrangements for a luncheon to be given today for Mrs. Smiley Blanton of Minneapolis, of the Child Guidance clinic.

Working with Mrs. H. Shaller Dow on booth standardizations for the Woman's World's fair are Miss Ethel Coe, president of the Cordon; Mrs. Ralph Small, Mrs. Shreve Badger, and Mrs. Walter Paepcke.

Dexter Cummings has just signed a two year lease for a new house on Illinois road near the Uri B. Grannis place and that of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Belden. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings [Emilie Hoyt] are to move out on Friday.

Mrs. Thomas H. Cowles of Lake Forest has departed for a six weeks' stay at Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. Cowles is to join her later.

Chicagoans in Paris.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 27.—The following Chicagoans registered today at the Paris bureau of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE: Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Stefanowicz and Mr. and Mrs. Sam S. Mendelsohn.

Benefit to Be Given This Morning for the Evanston Cradle

The first of a series of three programs being given by the Evanston auxiliary of the Cradle society for the benefit of the Cradle is to take place at 11 o'clock this morning at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Johnson of 202 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston. Dr. G. A. Jaederholm is to speak on "Personality versus Social Adjustment." The second program, a musical, is to be at the residence of Mrs. Charles G. Little on Tuesday, April 5, and the last one, a concert, is to take place at Mrs. George B. Dryden's on Monday, April 11.

Chicago friends of the former Margaret Boyden and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peabody Magoun Jr., are interested in word that arrived on Saturday of the birth of a son in Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Magoun is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cowper Boyden of Winnetka. The baby is to be named Francis Peabody III. Mrs. Boyden is now in Cambridge.

Chicago arrivals in Bermuda include Mrs. Jacob Baur and Miss Rosemary Baur, who is having her spring vacation from Miss Walker's school. Benjamin Marshall and his son, Benjamin Marshall Jr., are also registered at one of the large hotels.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., March 27.—[Special.]—Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britten of Chicago gave a dinner tonight with the Swiss minister and Mme. Peter as the ranking guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont had a large company last evening in their R street home to meet the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur. Mrs. Wilbur was the guest at a luncheon of Mrs. William Fitch Kelly, formerly of Chicago, who had twenty-four guests to meet her at the Arts Club of Washington.

Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur have as their guest the former's niece, Miss Gertrude Paist of Philadelphia, who is on vacation from Bryn Mawr.

Miss Julia Mattis, niece of the late Senator McKinley of Champaign, Ill., has returned to Washington and opened their Washington home for a time this spring.

Infant Welfare Meeting.

The Hyde Park branch of the Infant Welfare society is to meet at the residence of Mrs. Dallas B. Phemister of 5624 Dorchester avenue this afternoon. Mrs. Fay-Cooper Cole is to speak on "The Primitive Woman."

ENGAGED

[Rayhuff-Richter Photo.]

The engagement of Miss Myrtle Lemster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lemster of Oak Park, to Douglas Patten Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Wells, has been announced. The wedding is to take place May 21.

'The Stork' Lunchroom Opens on Wednesday

Mrs. Joseph M. Harris is chairman of the Lying-In hospital committee in charge of "The Stork," the chic new lunch room which is to be opened on Wednesday and conducted entirely by society matrons and debutantes for the purpose of adding funds to the hospital drive.

MRS. JOSEPH M. HARRIS.

[Paul Stone-Raymor.]

Prominent Chicago women will be day chairman, which is a new name for head waitress, and each one will recruit her group of waitresses from among the Junior league and Service club members. Best known Chicago hostesses, too, will contribute special dishes to each day's menu — dishes which they, themselves, prepare.

The opening at 12 o'clock on Wednesday is to be a gala affair with all of society at the luncheon tables—or at least half of it—while the other half waits on tables. Every bit of equipment and food, and even the space for the restaurant, has been donated by Chicago business men.

Artists to Give Dinner.

The Association of Chicago Painters and Sculptors is to give an informal dinner at the Piccadilly tea room this evening for Mrs. William F. Grower, Mrs. Bertha Jacques, and Curtis B. Camp.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar William Barrett of 5714 West Ohio street announce the marriage of their daughter, Clara Genevieve, to Bernard William Roos, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Roos of 111 South Austin boulevard, which took place on Saturday, March 19, at the Oak Park Arms. Mr. and Mrs. Roos will reside at 602 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park, after April 4.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Youngs Wickham of the Belmont hotel announce the engagement of their daughter, Marianne Erdice Wickham, to Jerome Burton Rockhill, son of Mrs. Clayton Rockhill of New York City. The announcement was made at a luncheon given in New York City on Saturday. Miss Wickham is a student at Vassar college.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, March 27.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer, who are now in Morocco, will return to New York in June and will pass the summer in Newport.

Mrs. George N. Gardiner and Miss Alice Gardiner of 570 Park avenue will sail for Bermuda on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert R. Potts have returned to their place in Convent, N. J.

Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt and his daughter, Miss Grace Vanderbilt, have arrived in Colon on their yacht.

Mrs. Ogden Goelet, who is convalescing from a recent illness, has returned to the Ambassador.

Mrs. Brady Harriman has returned from the south to the Plaza.

How It's Done
The rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion, that thousands know
By NORMA SHEARER

A SIMPLE nightly habit, famous beauty experts say, is today responsible for better skin conditions, greater charm and beauty, than any costly treatments known.

Simple cleanliness—soap and water—they aver, is the first rule in getting that schoolgirl complexion.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be naturally dry, apply a little good cold cream. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Use this way regularly, and particularly before bed. Use powder, rouge, make-up all you wish. But never leave them on the skin over night. Note, then, how much better your skin in even one week.

"Sally" Tells Her Story in an Effort to Help Other Girls

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A confession that's good for one soul may be good for some other soul, thinks "Sally" and generously offers hers.

"Perhaps some of the fun loving youth of today will read my story and if it will help some other person, then I'll be justified in telling it," she begins.

"Jerry and I had been good friends for a long time when he asked me to marry him. I didn't want to settle down as I was only 19 and had worked hard all my life, both in an office and in the house, and told Jerry I wanted fun. He said I'd have enough of it in our own home and he could show me as much fun as other men could, but I doubted him and refused to marry him. I thought we'd continue as good friends, however, and when Jerry told me he would not see me again unless I changed my mind, I became furiously angry with him, and told him I never wanted to see him again. However, as soon as the door closed on his back, I was sorry, but made up my mind I'd show him I could forget him—and how I tried and tried!

"I became a petter, allowed all men liberties for the good times they gave me. Every one in our community knew 'Sally,' as they called me. She 'gave you all the necking you wanted for the good time you gave her.' I had plenty of good times for all of it, but I wanted Jerry. None of the men I went out with had the good heart he had and secretly I watched him to see whether he was taking other girls out, but he wasn't.

"My aunt, who lived in the same apartment building as he did, told me he was in every evening studying hard. She told me my picture still remained on his fireplace and I wondered whether he ever thought of me.

"One evening one of my friends called me up and said he wanted to make a double date for the evening. He'd take my girl friend and bring up a 'blind date' for me. 'Be careful,' he said, 'this fellow recently lost his girl, but he wants to have a good time tonight—kinda drunk—but I guess we can handle him.' Doris, I never doubted fate after that evening. Have you guessed that the 'blind' one was Jerry? Yes, it was. When we were introduced, it is hard to say which one of us was the more astonished. My friend had told Jerry of my reputation and Jerry told me afterwards that he only came up to see what kind of a girl I was. I never saw him after that time, although it was a year ago, but I have given up petting, moved out of the neighborhood and am trying to win back my former reputation, and some day God may send Jerry back to me."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Only Courteous.

"Dear Miss Blake: On the street car every morning there is the best looking man I ever saw. He is the conductor. He used to be friendly, but since I have stood near him and talked a lot he has become cool.

"WORRIED."

He must be courteous to all passengers, but from his manner you can easily detect he is displeased and embarrassed by your actions.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

"For the Dummy."

I had just bought an automatic pencil in a drug store and decided to have an ice cream soda, also. While waiting for the waitress to come for my order, I took a small notebook from my purse and started to try the new pencil.

Not seeing the waitress standing beside me, I wrote the first thing I happened to think of, which was, "Chocolate ice cream soda."

Can you imagine how I felt when she called out my order, and added in an undertone, which every one nearby could hear, "For the dummy over there." E. M. S.

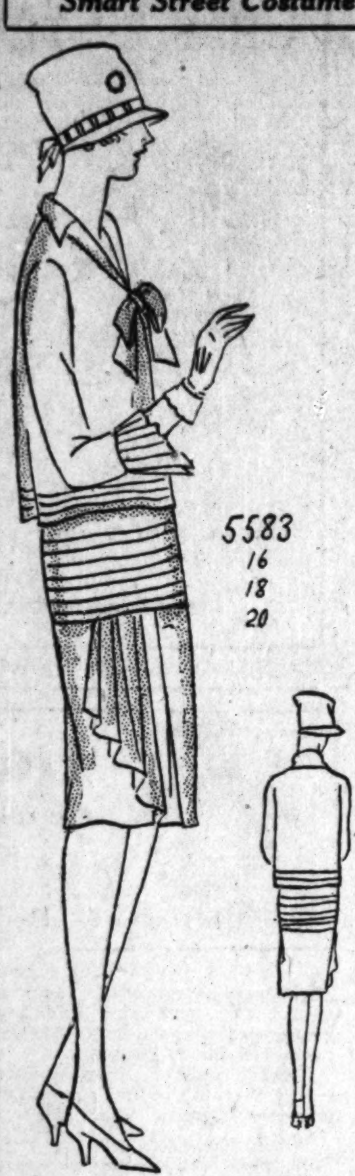
Came Back for Change.

I am a minister. A few days ago a couple came to my home to be married. Following the ceremony the groom handed me a bank note. I thrust it into my pocket with the usual, "Thank you."

When the wedding party had departed I ascertained the value of the fee. I was much surprised to learn that I possessed a new twenty dollar bill. This caused a thrill of pleasure.

Ten minutes later the young man returned. He was much confused. I learned that he had given me all the money he had in his pocket. He expected some change to be returned to him. The pleasure I had experienced changed to embarrassment. The twenty dollar bill was not broken in my home. F. W. H.

Strictly New Is This Smart Street Costume



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We're simply hipped this season! This is meant quite literally. For simple, fitted sections of frock and skirt about the hips is one of the noteworthy features of present styles.

Tight fitting hip bands are much stressed and often accompany those tentative suggestions of the raised waist line which some couturiers are putting out. For instance, one delightful model adopted from Talbot sponsors a combination of plaided silk and kasha. The blouse is cut off at the natural waist line and set on a kasha band. Then a second belt is achieved by a tightly fitting strip of plaid silk about the hips.

Many of the short jackets terminate in a similarly fitted hip band, usually wide and finished with either several buttons or a buckle. The latter method is stressed, also, in some of the smartest afternoon models now in view. Another new and interesting treatment of the hip line is emphasized by one Paris house in the jacket costume. This is a shaped seaming all around the lower section of the jacket which opens at the waist line to permit a bloused effect.

Above we show a frock adapted from a French creation. Here, once more, we observe this tendency to use a fitted band about the hips. In this case it also serves to develop a simulated bolero achieved by a full blousing over an imaginary high waist line. Black Henrietta cloth fashions both blouse and skirt. The latter is plaited on the side, an effect repeated in the cuffs of the three-quarter sleeve.

Perspiration Ills Diminish If These Formulae Are Used

"Would excessive perspiration ever be caused by a run down condition?" a correspondent asks.

Excessive perspiration trouble is often due to lowered vitality, and vitality must be restored before the sweat glands function harmlessly. A certain amount of perspiration is necessary to health, since the work of the perspiratory glands is to remove water from the system and carry off waste.

It is a known fact that individuals who do not take into the system sufficient water daily are the most likely victims of odors. A recommendation that grew out of tests with students is that if one is going dancing and fills the system with water two or three hours before going out, the skin will have a fresh, natural odor.

Water inside and out is the first combatant, and then the general health must be brought up to par.

An abundant flow of perspiration in localized spots necessitates special measures. The use of an astringent under the arms is most often necessary and here there is no harm done by stopping perspiration. An astringent should not be used immediately after shaving under the arms or after using a depilatory, however.

Mild cases are benefited by bathing the affected surface with hot water to which either boric acid or alum has been added. Dusting the surface with dry powders in which some deodorant is incorporated also may be found effectual in these milder cases. Salicylic acid one gram, and boric acid, ten grams, is a favorite perspiration remedy. Where the odor is pungent and disagreeable, more drastic measures are required.

No matter how vividly a girl appeals to the eye, if there is ever so faint an odor of perspiration clinging to her person she goes into the category of damaged beauties.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

J. P. R.: AN OLDER PERSON does not require the same amount of food as a young person, and meat should be used sparingly by them. Vegetables and fruits may be substituted for meat.

ANXIOUS: THERE IS NO WAY of making the eyelashes grow longer. The following formula is effective in removing freckles: Lactic acid, 4 ounces; glycerin, 2 ounces; rosewater, 1 ounce.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wears Her Brother's Clothes.

"I know a mother who has five children. The four oldest are boys and the youngest a splendid rosy cheeked little girl, seven months old. Little Mary has to wear castoff overalls of her next oldest brother because her father, who is ill in the hospital, is unable to buy dresses for her. Perhaps some of your readers whose baby has outgrown clothing could supply her with a few little dresses and outer garments.

"L. E. K."

I know little Mary would be most happy and comfortable in the dresses your growning child can no longer wear. May she not have one of them?

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Two Cereals for the Obese.

The people who are trying to take off flesh, or to keep their weight down, often undertake the most reckless deprivations and accept the most desperate remedies for obesity.

But to eat sanely, no matter what your aims in life, is somewhat necessary, and how can it be done? The foods heavy in calories are sometimes cut out entirely by people who want to be self-made shadows. Unless they have some pronounced idiosyncrasy this is somewhat, or a great deal, of a mistake. The body needs power to do its work, and in food terms this means calories.

It is reckoned that 60% of the diet of the ordinary person consists of the starchy foods, or carbohydrates, which give generous and the safest calories and in general do not present such digestive problems as the more condensed caloric fatty foods do. All the food seeds and their products in the shape of flour and breakfast cereals, yield approximately 1,600 calories per pound. Since there are sixteen ounces in a pound it is easy to see how much of a dry cereal to cook and eat in order to get 100 calories of energy.

But your figuring is not quite done now. In some cases you will cook your cereal in only twice its measure of water. In other cases—as in corn meal and the like—you will use four times its measure of water. But, fortunately for the obese, there are two cereals which may best be cooked in eight times their measure of water, and if in the top of a double boiler only a little of that water will be lost, so they can determine to a T how many calories they are getting in eating a given portion.

These two cereals are big hominy and barley, and the longer they are cooked the easier it is to eat them with milk alone, perhaps a cup to a portion—the two complementing each other marvelously.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

My son's little chum moved to a neighboring town to reside, and he missed him so much, as they played together all the time. One day a friend of mine asked, "Sonny, whom will you play with now, that Robert has gone?" He looked at her as if his little heart would break, and his eyes filled. "I—I guess I will jes have to play with sand." E. E. K.

All Billy's playmates know that he has no grandmothers. His parents had an old family friend for a guest during the last week.

One of the youngsters asked Billy who she was, and he replied, "Grandma Davis."

"Huh," said the other youngster, "thought you had no grandmothers."

"Well," came back Billy, "we've just borrowed her." F. B.

"I bought a very fine police dog a short time ago and then decided to move into an apartment in the spring. Having to sell the dog, I placed one Want Ad in the Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section of February 20th and sold it the afternoon of the day the Want Ad appeared for the price I asked. There were 15 calls Sunday, 6 calls Monday, and several later in the week in answer to the Want Ad."

MRS. ESTELLA MILLER,
3229 Cuyler Avenue, Berwyn, Ill.

One Tribune Want Ad, Offering Dog, Brings 20 Replies and Cash Sale!

Few German police dogs have the regal bearing of Count Otto von Bismarck shown in the picture above. The "Count" was purchased recently by Mrs. Estella Miller of 3229 Cuyler Avenue, Berwyn, Ill. Early in February, Mrs. Miller decided to take an apartment and, with mixed feelings, offered her dog for sale through a Tribune Want Ad. So excellent were the results from her Tribune Want Ad that the pain of parting was assuaged by the knowledge that the dog would have a wonderful home. Mrs. Miller received more than 20 replies to her single Sunday Tribune Want Ad, and sold the dog for the price asked on the afternoon of the day the Want Ad appeared!

Mrs. Miller's successful experience with Tribune Want Ads is an excellent example of the result-producing power of The Chicago Tribune Want Ad Section. As a medium for the sale of household pets it is especially valuable, as The Tribune's outstanding circulation leadership in Chicago makes it ideal for reaching those able to buy. Rev. J. G. Lowrie, Trustee McCormick Seminary, Dies

The Rev. James Gibson Lowrie, D. D., who died Saturday in Galesburg, Ill., was the oldest member of the board of trustees of the McCormick theological seminary, Chicago, and widely known in the Presbyterian synod of Illinois. Funeral services will be held today at 3 p. m. in the residence at Galesburg. The Rev. Mr. Lowrie was ordained to the ministry in 1872 and was active until 1911 when he retired. He was graduated from Princeton university in 1867 and from Princeton theological seminary in 1872.

Two G. A. R. Veterans Die at Benton, Ill., on Same Day

Benton, Ill., March 27.—[Special.]—The ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic were thinned down in Franklin county yesterday with the deaths of Riley Moore of Benton and John Plumlee of Thompsonville. Moore served in the civil war in Company I, 31st Illinois infantry, and Plumlee was in the 18th Illinois infantry. Both were buried today.

THOMAS C. RYAN, who was for forty-two years a city employé, will be buried today in Calvary cemetery, following services at 9 a. m. in St. Thomas Aquinas church. For twelve years Mr. Ryan was a fireman and for the last thirty years a ward superintendent for the street cleaning department. His death occurred Friday after an illness of several months. A widow and one daughter survive.

DR. LOUIS LADEWICK, 6858 Oglesby avenue, well known dentist, died yesterday after a brief illness. He was a leader in Masonic circles and a former president of the Kenwood Chess club. A graduate of Northwestern university, Dr. Ladewick was 57 years old. A widow and one daughter survive him. Funeral services will be private.

A A A

WE CAN PROMISE YOU $100, $500, AND $1,000 A WEEK AND MORE.

Sounds too good to be true, doesn't it? You see, we can make promises, too. And, what is more, we will gladly pay you such a salary—if you earn it!

Glowing claims and gilded promises don't mean a thing unless backed by something more than high sounding words. If you have followed up ads of this type and have been disillusioned,

READ THIS AD.

SALESMEN WANTED.

We promise you nothing we cannot give. When you join our organization you have at your command all the vital elements of a successful real estate selling connection.

1. The largest, most successful real estate firm in America, of unquestioned reputation and large financial resources.

2. The knowledge, experience and whole-hearted co-operation of an enthusiastic group of men long in the business, men whose sole purpose is to help you succeed and make money for yourself—and for the firm.

3. An organization with faith in Chicago, substantiated by millions of dollars invested in planning, building, and improving some of the finest developments in the country. To this faith is largely due the phenomenal growth of Krenn & Dato—a growth which fully reflects the public confidence enjoyed by the firm.

4. High grade properties right in the path of Chicago's growth; improvements included in program; variety of prices and locations.

5. The support of the famous Krenn & Dato advertising.

What are mere promises compared to such powerful, undeniable facts? Come in and talk it over. Investigate. Make us prove the truth of our statement. Make us show you that we offer the one big opportunity you have been looking for. Apply

A. A. LEWIS REALTY ASSOCIATION BUILDS HOMES.

PAY MONTHLY LIKE RENT.

We are erecting a large number of two and three residence apartment buildings two blocks from the L station in a zoned and highly restricted neighborhood. These beautiful, up-to-date homes will feature the latest improvements in building technique and will be sold under a convenient financing plan in which the purchaser makes a small initial payment and pays the balance in monthly installments like rent. Payments do not begin until the home is ready for occupancy.

This is a rare opportunity that the experienced salesman can appreciate. This proposition is particularly interesting to the man who has had no previous real estate selling experience, because of its simplicity and attractiveness to the purchaser. Come in and get the details of this remarkable plan. Ask to see me personally.

GEO. W. HIPPLE,
Vice President and Director of Sales,

ADVANCED ANNOUNCEMENT.

75 ACRE TRACT

About to open. Building program already started. Advertising campaign ready. Find out for yourself what the sales force did with the last subdivision. Everyone is hitting the ball, and this new property will be a "knock-out." Chance for clean-up.

We were selling choice lots for $790. With all underground improvements, for $1,390; but we are about sold out. In a few days we will be ready to give the sales force another and bigger "knock-out."

AMBITIOUS MEN.

Salary to Start.
Commission and Bonus.

We offer you an association with an organization that is HUMAN.

Whether you have had any real estate experience or not, if you are otherwise qualified, we will place you in a position which will enable you right from the start to earn an income far above the average. This is possible due to the splendid location of our property from the standpoint of transportation. Three lines serve our tract and its location is right in the fastest growing community in metropolitan Chicago. Our prices are exceptionally reasonable, which accounts for our tremendous turnover and steady increase of sales. Each month exceeds the previous month.

We furnish leads and automobiles to carry our prospects to the property, dine and entertain them at our expense, and give you the kind of co-operation you are unlikely to find elsewhere.

We need only a few men. If you are 25 or over you may be a successful applicant.

BOND SALESMEN, COAL SALESMEN, SPECIALTY SALESMEN, TO SELL OIL BURNERS. SALARY, COMMISSION, AND BONUS, AND a selling plan that will keep you on the jump following up red hot leads.

We pay a salary plus a commission on all orders taken, and a bonus when you reach a certain volume. We teach you the business.

Every home owner wants to quit shoveling coal. Our burner is set right in the furnace and automatic controls are installed upstairs that maintain the desired temperature. Many Chicago homes are now being heated this way.

Our burner is sold on deferred payments and guaranteed to do the work or money is refunded. We are a factory branch organization and there is a wealth of opportunity with us for young or old men with pep and selling ability. If you have some knowledge of home heating so much the better.

The selling season is just starting on new homes, and in homes where the supply of coal is low. Big business starts right at the close of the heating season. Hundreds of home owners will put in burners rather than buy their next winter's coal.

Come in today and get acquainted with the product and prepare yourself to earn between $3,000 and $6,000 by Dec. 31.

If you are an experienced oil burner salesman with a record of past performance we will prove to you that our selling plan offers you the opportunity to make this your banner year in the business.

GENTLEMEN, STOP!!! Will You Work One Hour During the Evening or During the Day?

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the columns of this newspaper. If you desire, employment can be made permanent, part time, if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of overgrowth and expansion of our Chicago offices. Earnings will delight the gentleman who is desirous of increasing his present income.

NO RED TAPE—We require white gentlemen of refinement over 25 years of age. We prefer married men, but all honest applicants will be given utmost consideration.

Work may be done at home and positively will not interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required and work can be done easily by gentlemen in all lines of work.

An answer to this ad will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly pay check is solved. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is a simple advertising work of a sociological nature and can be easily accomplished by any person without business experience. All payments weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlewomen and if wives or sisters have spare time and are willing to work, bring them with you. Call Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock sharp.

J. C. STEWART.
Room 1512, 624 S. Michigan.

Notice—This ad has been tremendously successful for dozens of happy applicants and our company. Now, don't hesitate. Answer this ad and you will be given the same careful consideration that made scores of applicants wonderfully happy last week. This is not "just another ad," but a real opportunity for real people. Idlers and star gazers, stay away. REMEMBER, TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 29TH, 8 P. M. ONLY. None will be admitted after the above time.

A Revelation to You of Yourself

by Prof. Michael Lewis,

CHARACTER ANALYST, AMERICA'S FOREMOST
Exponent of This Science.

WITHOUT ONE QUESTION WILL tell you what stands in the way of success.
Are you mentally slow or fast?
Are you weak in confidence?
Are you resourceful but timid?
Are you ambitious but lack initiative?
Are you fickle and impatient?
Are you self-conscious or unsociable?
Are you a fighter but fail to fight?
Are you wanting for words?
Are you mechanical, artistic, commercial, practical, or theoretical?
Are you satisfied with your lot?

Absolutely Free of Charge,

Without asking you one question he will tell you the trouble and set you right. 22 years' experience. Prof. Lewis has been engaged by some of the largest corporations in the United States.

Those selected by Prof. Lewis will be given a position with a large Chicago corporation.

FULL OR PART TIME.
Will interview men until Friday, April 1, at 8 p. m.

Positively No Experience in our line is necessary.

Must be neat appearing, honest, ambitious, willing worker, and qualify to our requirements.

We believe in training our men from the ground up. We have two of the world's expert salesmen, whose earnings are at least $50,000 per year each, and are entirely at your service to teach you our business so that you may make big money from the start and prepare you for executive positions for which we have openings from time to time.

We guarantee to teach you the best business in the world and will be glad to have you meet Superintendents, Foremen and men now holding responsible positions in banks, stores, and other institutions who gave us their spare time and we have made it possible to add to their regular salary as much as and many who are now permanently connected with us of whom some hold vice-presidential positions. All have been taught by the men who are now going to do the same for you.

This is one of the largest firms in the city, with over $5,000,000 resources. Our business and system of making big money cannot be equalled. Apply 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.

R. M. FOX,
132 W. Madison-st., Suite 707

A REAL POSITION

and a good place to work! $45 to $60 a week, with an opportunity for advancement.

A few earnest, neat appearing men over 25 years old who know Chicago well can be placed at once.

Experience in any particular line is not needed as our employes are selected by a well known vocational expert, who, in a very short interview can tell you accurately just what you are cut out to be.

This interview is valuable to anyone—it costs nothing and you may be selected for a valuable position in our establishment.

Apply after 10 a. m. Monday.
LILA A. FARRELL,
CHARACTER ANALYST.
ROOM 514, 35 E. WACKER-DR.

HAVE A VACANCY FOR A FEW MEN WITH AUTOMOBILES

for Sat. and Sunday afternoons. Position is permanent and pays from $50-$75 per week. Must be reliable and permanent. Apply Tuesday evening, March 29, 8 p. m. sharp, 29 S. La Salle, Room 628.

LADIES—GENTLEWOMEN, STOP!!

Will you work 1 hour during the evening or during the day?

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the columns of this newspaper. If you desire, employment can be made permanent, part time if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of overgrowth and expansion of our Chicago offices. Earnings will delight the lady who is desirous of increasing her present income. NO RED TAPE. We require white ladies over 25 years of age. We prefer married ladies, but all honest applicants will be given utmost consideration. Work may be done at home and positively will not interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required and work can be done as easily by housewives as business women. An answer to this ad will promptly convince you that the problem of an extra weekly pay check is solved. You WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is a simple advertising work of a sociological nature and can be easily accomplished by any person without business experience. All payments weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlemen, and if husbands or brothers have spare time and are willing to work, bring them with you. Call Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock sharp.

J. C. STEWART,
Room 1512. 624 S. Michigan-av.

Notice! This ad has been tremendously successful for dozens of happy applicants and our company. Now, don't hesitate. Answer this ad and you will be given the same careful consideration that made scores of applicants wonderfully happy last week. This is not "just another ad," but a real opportunity for real people.

Idlers and star gazers, stay away. REMEMBER, TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 29, 8 P. M. ONLY. None will be admitted after the above time.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE MONEY IN YOUR SPARE TIME.

No experience in this business necessary. I represent an old responsible Chicago firm that is about to open a free course to ladies who want to sell a few hours a day. This means that you can learn one of the most fascinating, dignified occupations and at the same time BE WELL PAID.

No need to give up your present position or to neglect your home, as you can arrange your own hours. All interviews held in strictest confidence. See me in person.

MRS. GIBBON.............Suite 330.
SHERIDAN-PLAZA HOTEL.
N. E. corner Wilson-av.-Sheridan-rd.

$30 A WEEK. AND 4% COMMISSION.

We will pay a few women who are ambitious and honest and want to better themselves a salary of $30 and 4% commission to assist me in selling bungalows, residential and business lots on the N. W. Side; improvements in and paid for. This position does not require full time.

CO-OPERATIVE APTS.
It costs us $18 per month to pay the taxes, janitor service, repairs, furnish the heat, hall lights, and water for a 4 room apt. We have a mtg. from a life insurance company of $3,796.33 at 5¾% interest on this apt., which means $18.21 interest per month. This apt. is rented until May 1 for $100. We will sell it to you on the co-operative plan for $5,600. If you have not the $5,600, but have good references and a determination to own your home, we will sell you this apt., or one like it, for May occupancy for a small deposit down and give you a long time to pay the balance.
The building is at 2820 Cambridge-av., 1 blk. east of Broadway, at Diversey-pkwy.; a location which is bound to increase in value. This bldg. is practically new, modern in every detail; large rooms, with spacious closets and with extra in-a-dor beds in the living rooms. Why buy an apt. for your landlord with your rent when you can buy it for yourself?

NEWS

Page 8 of Saturday's Tribune contained news of tremendous importance to the section in which we operate. Read it.

CITY AND COUNTRY UNITE TO BUILD 170 MILES OF ROAD THIS YEAR.

The program calls for 40 miles of new county pavements, already under contract, 40 miles of county pavement to be contracted for in 15 days, 40 miles of county pavement to be contracted for in 60 days, and 50 miles of street widening and paving.

All this work is to be completed this year.

Among the many improvements, note these:

55th-st. will be widened as a 40 ft. roadway from Crawford to Archer.

Cicero will be opened with a 40 ft. roadway from the sanitary canal to 79th-st.

63d-st. will be widened as a 40 ft. roadway from Western to St. Louis-av. and Austin to Harlem-av.

Crawford-av. widened from 39th-st. to 87th-st.

It is on these streets that we have concentrated our efforts. It is on these streets where we have the most complete list of bargains.

If this kind of news interests you get in touch with one of our offices. We assure you it will be one of the best moves you ever made.

A. W. KOMAREK & CO.,

LARGE RESIDENCE LOT.

There are a lot of people in Chicago who would buy any lot if they knew that I wanted to sell it. It is a big lot, 50 ft. wide, and is higher than the lots adjoining. This means perfect drainage. Healthy growing elm trees are in the parkway. It is only 2 blocks from a new school, close to churches and stores; a beautiful Dutch colonial home has just been finished in the same block and the other homes are new and attractive.

This is just the place for a man with a family. I will even build your home for you on this lot if you want me to, and it is only 4 blocks from the depot in Arlington Heights, that beautiful American suburb of 5,000 people, just 36 minutes from the loop; fast, comfortable C. & N. W. suburban service. This lot is a bargain; $250 cash will handle it and it won't be for sale long. Address Y A 578, Tribune.

SECOND MORTGAGES.

Adapting Mrs. Snyder's candy slogan, "can't make all the candy in the world so I only make the best," we might say:

We don't attempt to make all the second mortgages in Cook, Lake and Du Page counties, so we make what we make on the most liberal terms and at the lowest rates.

By the way, you know our commissions are 4%-7%-10% for 1-2-3 years, and our payments are by the month—as low as 2%, that is $20.00 and interest on a $1,000 loan.

We have unlimited funds for this purpose; we invite home owners to consider doing their second mortgage financing through
